LEADERS FLEE AS REBELS SEIZE SANTO DOMINGO

President Refugee in U. S. Legation.

SANTO DOMINGO, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Revolutionary forces tonight were in almost complete control of this capital, save for the fort, that known as Ozama, held out against them with a small force headed by Gen. Trujillo, chief of the army.

President Juracio Vasquez is a refugee at the American legation. His resignation was expected momentarily.

Predictions were made that within the next 24 hours a provisional president will have been selected and a provisional government set up to insure free voting at the presidential election in May.

Charles B. Curtis, American minister acting as intermediary between the insurgents and the government, is trying to bring about a pact whereby the situation can be solved without bloodshed and without damage to property.

Remove Police Officers.

The insurgent leaders have promised to respect all lives and property. The only changes made by them thus far have been in the police force. All the police employes were told not to worry about losing their jobs.

The insurgent forces, numbering 1,000, came into the city firing volleys in the air amid the acclaim of the populace this morning and reinforcements kept arriving throughout the day. As rapidly as they came they were assigned to strategic points.

Upon arrival the insurgents directed many fire against the fortress near the presidential palace.

It was said that Rafael Estrella Ureña, leader of the insurgents, was en route from Sanitago and might arrive at the legation during the night.

Leaders Flee for Shelter.

The president and Vice President Alvarez first took refuge in the French legation. Other administration leaders also went to foreign representatives for shelter. Gustavo Diaz, president of the senate, sought a haven in the Danish consulate, but after hearing that the insurgent leaders did not recognize the right of a consul to offer asylum, left there. Tonight his whereabouts were unknown.

Ernest Bonetty Burgos, speaker of the lower house, was reported as shelved in the dwelling of a relative and former provisional president, J. B. Vicini Burgos. Arturo Pellerano Sarda, director of the newspaper Listin Diario, became a refugee in the Mexican legation.

The occupation of the city was accomplished without bloodshed and, while banks and commercial houses put up their shutters and business came to a standstill, there was no sign of disorder until the invaders opened fire on the fortress.

Young American Is Emissary.

If negotiations between President Vasquez and Gen. Urena result in a definite settlement of the situation, much credit will be given to John M. Cabot of Springfield, Mass., a member of the American embassy staff. Cabot, only 28 years old, made a fast automobile trip yesterday to Santiago as emissary of Minister Curtis. He came back with word that encouraged belief in the possibility of a peaceable settlement of the whole controversy.

The movement against President Vasquez was based upon his announcement of candidacy for reelection in May. His opponents said that he had violated a pledge not to run for another term.

See No Need for Marines.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Following receipt of dispatches indicating the apparent complete success of the revolutionists in the Dominican Republic, Washington officials tonight said that it was not believed it would be necessary to send armed forces to protect American life and property.

It was learned, however, that 500 marines could be landed in the troubled zones within from 24 to 36 hours if such a step is considered advisable as a result of later developments. The cruising fleet is now in Caribbean waters and marines from these vessels could be utilized, it was disclosed.

Charles B. Curtis, the American minister to Santo Domingo, reported late today that, while the situation remains tense, the commander of the revolutionary forces and the government civil authorities are showing an apparently sincere desire to maintain order.

TELLS CONGRESS OF FUTILE WARS ON RICH GANGS

W. W. Atterbury Also Speaks for Wets.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Speaking from four years' experience as chief of police, Morgan A. Collins today drew before the house judiciary committee a graphic picture of Chicago's law enforcing agencies, demoralized and all but helpless in the grip of prohibition and its attendant evils.

W. W. ATTERBURY.

Black as the picture was, however, it showed conditions no worse in Chicago than in New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis, and other urban centers, as depicted before the committee by witnesses from those cities.

Roundups Futile.

"It was with the coming of prohibition that the underworld grew rich, and there is the source of the trouble," Collins declared. "I made an honest effort to enforce the law. We rounded up the criminals and brought them in, but I say now that no police force in the world can enforce a law when the prosecutors refuse to proceed, the courts fail to coöperate, and the jurors refuse to convict. That was what we were up against in Chicago."

"How many law enforcement officers would it take to dry up Chicago?" Representative F. H. La Guardia [Rep., N. Y.] asked him.

"Gentlemen," Collins replied gravely. "I wouldn't tax my imagination to answer such a question."

Criticizes Mayor Thompson.

Although he used no names, the former chief, who served under the Dever administration from 1923 to 1927, sharply criticized Mayor Thompson who, he said, "carried out his prefelection pledge to open every joint and more."

Mr. Collins, brought to Washington by Representative James T. Igoe [Dem., Ill.], was the last of three Chicago witnesses at today's hearing. He was preceded by Dr. Francis J. Gerty, superintendent of the psychopathic hospital, who presented statistics showing a heavy increase in insanity and alcoholism during the dry era, and Mrs. Lorraine Catlin Brower, an organizer for the Congressional Districts Modification league.

W. W. Atterbury Appears.

A half dozen spokesmen from other cities, including W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, completed the list of witnesses. Among the others were W. W. Montgomery Jr., Philadelphia lawyer; Robert K. Cassatt, Philadelphia investment banker; J. J. Wadsworth, son of former Senator Wadsworth of New York; the Rev. John Ryan, professor of sociology at the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C., and Attorneys Wilton J. Lambert and Rice Hooe of Washington.

The committee is considering a half dozen repeal and modification measures which are the basis of the hearings. With tomorrow's session, Chairman George S. Graham [Rep., Pa.], announced, the wets will complete their testimony and yield to spokesmen for the drys.

Committee Room Packed.

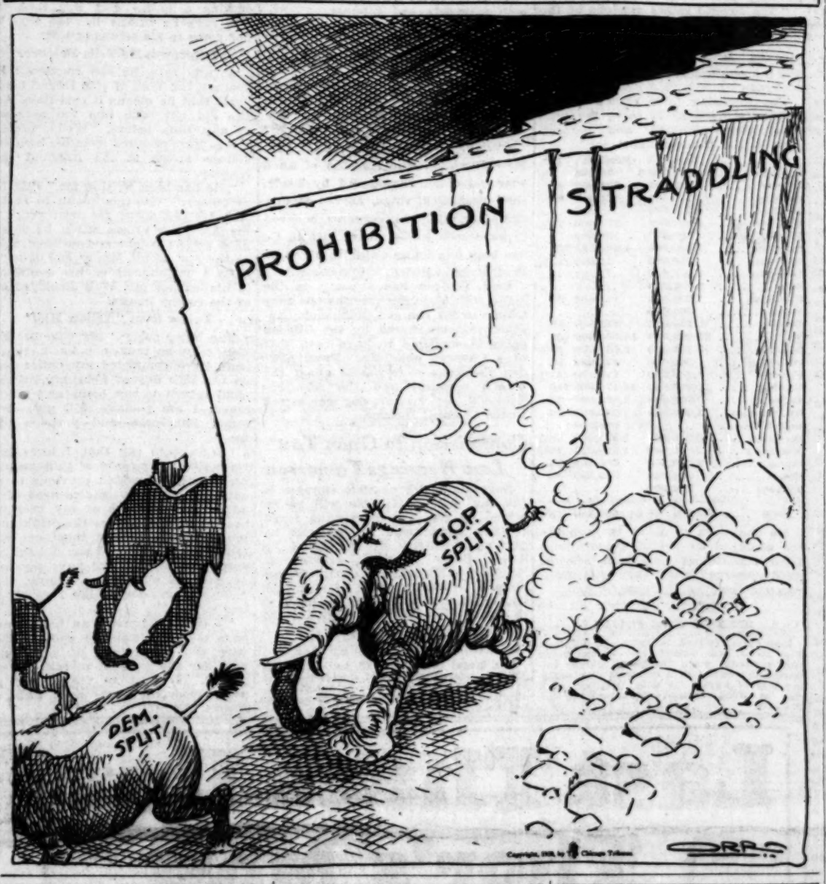

Former Chief Collins ranked as the star witness today and he found awaiting him the largest crowd that has yet been packed into the committee hearing room. He began with the explanation that he had served as a policeman in Chicago for 37 years, retiring two years ago.

"In 1920, when the prohibition law went into effect," he said, "I was captain at the central police district in the loop area. At that time, the law was generally observed. In fact, only one saloonkeeper in my district continued to carry on his business. I arrested him. In 1921, I was transferred to the East Chicago district, adjacent to the loop on the north and it was shortly after that when the underworld, figuratively, discovered the prohibition law."

"Almost over night breweries sprang up, liquor running gangs were organized, and the underworld went into their profitable, new found business.

WHERE THE TRAIL LEADS

Firemen Save Sweep Stuck in 150 Ft. Stack

A fire battalion chief and twenty firemen early this morning, after two hours' fast work, rescued a young chimney sweep trapped in the 150 foot smokestack of the Poinsettia hotel at 5528 Hyde Park boulevard. For a time it appeared that acetylene torches would be necessary to cut a hole in the stack, but by 3 o'clock the rescuers had pulled the youth from his perilous place out through the top of the chimney.

The chimney sweep is William Thorne, 24 years old, 6054 Kenwood avenue, employed by the Reliable Chimney Cleaners, 7135 South Lincoln street. Thorne and his employer, Paul Bresnik, of the Lincoln street address, went to the hotel at midnight to clear an obstruction from the stack. The hotel, a new establishment, has been without heat for two days because the furnace outlet was stopped.

Cement Stops Up Stack.

In a previous attempt to clear the stack bags of cement had been dropped down from the top, and the hotel officials believed that one of these had caught and made the stoppage complete.

Thorne and Bresnik rigged a block and tackle at the top of the stack, which is twenty feet above the roof of the hotel, and shortly after midnight Thorne descended. When he reached the third floor he called up to Bresnik that he had come upon the obstruction and went to work to dig it away.

Bresnik waited for a few minutes to see that all was going well and then climbed down the ladder that led to the hotel roof and descended to the street, where the wind was not so keen. About 1:30 o'clock the hotel engineer noticed that the sound of Thorne's work in the stack had ceased.

Firemen Are Called.

He summoned Bresnik and together they mounted to the top of the stack. All was silent in the depths and there was no response to the hails. Alarmed, Bresnik notified the fire department and Chief Timothy Dillon of the 16th battalion soon arrived, followed by inhalator squad No. 1 and truck 37.

Dillon and his men went to the roof but there was only one ladder and only one man could haul on the rope that would lift Thorne out. Finally Fireman Leo Moriarty of the truck company suggested taking up a hose roller, balancing it on the edge of the chimney, and running the rope down to the firemen on the roof, who could pull away.

AMBUSHED AND SHOT AT SCENE OF GANG KILLING

Ralph Banana, 42 years old, 847 Taylor street, was shot in the abdomen and probably fatally wounded early this morning as he walked into his home. The police started a search for Samuel Sorda, 31 years old, of the Taylor hotel, 928 South Halsted street. According to Vinonza Di Guilio, with whom Banana lived, Sorda was waiting in the dwelling when Banana returned from a movie and fired as he entered the door. Banana fell with a wound in the abdomen and was taken to the Mother Cabrini hospital. Police were unable to learn the cause of the shooting.

Banana's home is at the rear of the grocery store of Joseph Lamarca, father-in-law of Rocco Maggio, Sicilian extortionist, who was shot to death in the store by two gunmen on Oct. 30.

TAFT VERY ILL, SAY PHYSICIANS WHO CALL LATE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—(AP)—The condition of former Chief Justice Taft was said tonight by his physicians to be unchanged, and he was described as a "very ill man."

Contrary to other nights, both Drs. Francis Hagner and Thomas A. Claytor returned to the Taft home after 11 o'clock tonight for a further examination of their patient.

His temperature was reported as 100, his pulse 60, and his respiration 34, but Dr. Hagner said this did not fully indicate the seriousness of his condition.

Kellogg Pact Outlaws Army, Churches Told

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The Kellogg peace pact was reared as a bulwark of pacifism last night in the discussions of the national peace committee of the Federal Council of Churches, meeting in the First Methodist Episcopal church of Evanston. It was suggested that, because of the adoption of the Kellogg treaty, it is no longer a patriotic duty to bear arms.

Dr. John Nevin Sayre, New York pacifist, asked that the churches authorize a statement, which asserts that the "conscientious objector" shall no longer be regarded as unpatriotic, in view of the international agreement to outlaw war as a means of settling international disputes.

"Conscientious objectors now may be known as conscientious affirmers of the pact as well as of the principles of the golden rule and the Sermon on the Mount," Dr. Sayre said. "We must also extend the principle to include the young men in college, high schools, and universities who conscientiously object to compusory military training in the R. O. T. C."

Asks for Definite Stand.

Dr. Sayre pointed out that a well known general of the United States army had stated that if the country were plunged into war and he had to decide between religious principles and engaging in war, "God would have to wait." This position, Dr. Sayre declared, is one on which the church must declare itself.

Specific cases of conscientious objectors were discussed with a view to advocating changes in naturalization laws to admit as citizens those who refuse to take an oath to bear arms in war. Leaders in the seasions are determined to formulate a pronouncement which will force the naturalization of pacifists.

Seek to Influence Schools.

The conference, it was indicated in the discussions, will advocate pressure from the pulpits to bring about the teaching of "world mindedness" in public schools, as well as the teaching of peace programs in colleges and universities.

American investors in foreign countries "should look for protection to the laws of those countries, assuming any risks which this may involve, and that they should not expect the United States government to intervene with armed force on their behalf," one of the discussion groups decided.

The findings of the conference, which will be adopted at the closing session today are to be circulated among the 44 denominations represented at the conference as the official position of the churches.

A. H. Wetten's Daughter Gets Secret Divorce

Mrs. Mildred Wetten Ingersoll, daughter of Albert H. Wetten, Chicago real estate dealer, yesterday won a divorce from her husband, Thomas C. Ingersoll of Manitowoc, Wis. Mrs. Ingersoll charged her husband with misconduct with three unnamed women. Her testimony was given at a hearing before Circuit Judge Lynch on Monday and was not made known until the decree was signed late yesterday afternoon.

The Ingersolls were married under romantic circumstances at the Wetten home on Jan. 26, 1929. The wedding was scheduled for 4:30 in the afternoon. The wedding party waited for several hours with anxiety when it was learned that a heavy snow had interfered with railroad schedules and no trains were departing or arriving at Manitowoc. Determined to be punctual at his wedding, Ingersoll chartered a plane and arrived within three quarters of an hour of the time set for the ceremony. The couple went to live in Manitowoc.

She is Wellesley Graduate.

Mrs. Ingersoll is a graduate of Wellesley college. She made her début in 1925. Ingersoll is a graduate of Cornell university and is associated with the Manitowoc Shipbuilding corporation. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Blaine Ingersoll of Manitowoc.

Mrs. Wetten testified that she became suspicious of her husband last summer when she returned to their home after a visit to Chicago to find a hairpin in her room.

"It was not the type I use," she said. "I asked him about it and he denied knowing anything about it. I pointed out that women wear their hats so close that hairpins don't fall out unless the hat is removed. It was not until later that I learned positively that there were other women."

Wife Follows Up Phone Call.

On Feb. 7 Ingersoll telephoned to his wife from Manitowoc asking her not to call him the next evening by long distance because he would be busy, and also telling her that he would join her in Chicago the next day. Mrs. Ingersoll investigated her husband's movements, she said, and learned that after making the call he left for Chicago.

She had private detectives wait for him at the station in Chicago. They followed him to the Great Northern hotel, where he registered under the name of J. T. Walker of Milwaukee. A short while after he obtained a room he was visited by a woman, the court was told. Detectives took the adjoining room and called the wife's father.

Wetten Takes the Stand.

"We entered the room," Mr. Wetten testified, "after waiting some time. I accused him of having other women, and told him I had been in the next room. He said the woman was an old friend, and later when I told him he had been trailed both in Manitowoc and Chicago he admitted the charges."

Ingersoll is said to have sought out his wife the next day and confessed his relationship with three women and asked for her forgiveness. She refused to return to him and filed a bill for divorce a week ago. Mrs. Ingersoll was represented by Emil C. Wetten of the law firm of Wetten, Pegler & Dale. Attorney Wetten refused to discuss the case.

Flood of Bogus Bills Reported from New York

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—(AP)—W. H. Moran, chief of the secret service, said tonight an unprecedented number of counterfeits of $10 and $20 federal reserve notes were being reported from New York City.

Chief Moran said two or three arrests were being made daily of persons passing the bogus notes. There have been numerous reports by members of congress since the new sized bills were issued that there had been an increase in counterfeiting activities.

ALDERMEN WARN OF PADDING IN EXPENSE ROLLS

Tax Fund $6,000,000 from Goal.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Pay day for more than 43,000 public employés may arrive tomorrow. It is regarded as certain by Saturday.

The rescue campaign, headed by Philip R. Clarke, president of the Central Trust company, has collected $43,980,400 in subscriptions. This is within $6,019,600 of the $50,000,000 minimum mark at which the taxpayers' trust for the purchase of tax anticipation warrants may become operative.

If the railroads and the steel industry come forward today the required $50,000,000 total will be reached. On their quota of $6,000,000 the steel makers have not yet made a report, and the railroads lack $6,000,000 of reaching their quota of $8,000,000. Mr. Clarke and his 25 committees and 4,000 workers will work on for the $74,000,000 necessary to operate the city, county, public schools, and sanitary district until July 1.

What the Governments Need.

The distribution of the money to the local governments is the task of the citizens' committee, headed by Silas H. Strawn. The city, county, and school board have represented that their "imperative cash requirements" to Feb. 15 are more than $13,600,000. The needs may be summarized as follows:

	Salaries.	Supplies.	Total.
County ..	$ 1,688,300	$ 708,750	$ 2,397,050
City ...	4,465,500	1,353,000	5,755,500
Schools .	4,770,000	530,000	5,600,000
Totals	$10,861,800	$2,590,750	$13,752,550

So far as the city corporate pay roll, included above, is concerned, it is based upon the full 1930 "economy budget," which has only been exceeded twice in the history of the city. The council finance committee indicated that it believes that certain pay rolls are now padded even beyond the "economy" budget authorization.

The committee, at the suggestion of Ald. Jacob M. Arvey [14th], ordered Chairman John S. Clark [30th] to appoint a subcommittee of three to investigate certain pay rolls to ascertain if the suspected department heads are not spending beyond authorization.

Playing Politics, Arvey Says.

"I've been told that certain departments," said Arvey, "are operating on the 1929 budget basis, which is higher than the 1930. I think there is foundation for the charge, and if so, it is the equivalent to overspending. I assume they are trying to play politics, and believe they will prevail upon the council to make a deficiency appropriation later."

This was declared a repetition of conditions which have existed from time to time throughout the Thompson administrations. THE TRIBUNE obtained a judgment of more than $2,442,000 in the expert fee case. The payment of $286,703 to the Adams Beatty Francois corporation for utility appraisals was another case in which it was charged, and not denied, that the pay rolls were padded. Other cases of money wasted on lawyers and experts are available of which warnings have been given on several occasions.

Nelson's Protests Recalled.

Ald. Oscar F. Nelson (46th), council floor leader for Mayor Thompson, has twice publicly protested against any supervision of expenditures by the citizens' committee. H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the board of education, has made two attacks upon Mr. Strawn, the last one within 30 minutes after a talk with Mayor Thompson on the rostrum of the city council.

Ald. Nelson yesterday in the city council meeting suggested the passage of an order introduced by Ald. John J. Coughlin (1st) to prepare an ordinance for creating a bureau to sell city securities over the counter. Nelson urged this same plan the day before, in opposition to private citizens and corporations who are subscribing cash in order to restore the city's credit and provide overdue pay for the public employés. Ald. Nelson has protested against the citizens' committee usurping functions of public officials, which the committee has repeatedly announced it has no intention or desire of doing.

Citizens Demand Economy.

The committee has said, however, that it will purchase only such securities "as may be absolutely necessary to carry on the activites of the government on the most economical basis." It has advertised that it will

"scrutinize" the budgets presented to it from time to time so as to be sure that the money is "not recklessly expended."

Because of the pressing importance of paying employés, the committee may hand out cash in the first instance in a larger proportionate amount that it will later. Its survey of local governments is not completed.

Among the "imperative cash requirements" of the city to Feb. 15 is a request for $3,700,000 for corporate pay rolls. That is for one month. These employés were paid for the first half of January and the total required was $1,821,579. One-half of the $3,700,000 is $1,850,000, so the request for a full month has $39,000 as a margin of safety, unless since Jan. 15 there have been about 184 jobs added to the corporate pay roll. The citizens' committee is expected to scrutinize this.

The Ettelson Pay Roll.

Chairman Clark of the council finance committee has said that the law department pay roll could be cut $200,000 without injuring the city's legal service. For the law department pay roll in 1930 there was appropriated $558,780 and in addition $53,000 for unpaid bills of lawyers.

Corporation Counsel Ettelson has another $50,000 for attorneys, valuators, engineers, investigators and the like. For the same purpose he has another appropriation of $20,000, and still another one for $25,000.

There is an appropriation of $4,000 for personal service in the city attorney's office. The council committee on local industries has $10,000 set aside for attorneys, the railway terminals committee has $7,500, the gas, oil and electric light committee has $21,500 for attorneys and others, and the judiciary committee, of which Ald. Nelson is chairman, has a personal service appropriation of $5,000.

$700,000 Total for Lawyers.

In all there is more than $700,000 which can be spent for lawyers, excluding the unpaid bill of $53,000. A majority of the city council has proclaimed its belief that $100,000 at least should be cut from the law department appropriation. That is in the council records. In this present extraordinary situation several aldermen have said they would like to see the Strawn committee force the city law department to give up $200,000 of its appropriated funds.

The Strawn committee asserts that it is taking every precaution to make the Taxpayers' trust a safe investment. The large purchases of participating certificates in that trust by corporations and individuals indicate the success attained in that direction. The committee is expected to go a step farther and insure, as far as practicable, against waste and extravagance in the spending of those millions by the local governments.

In Doubt on 1930 Warrants.

As a precaution the committee asserts it will not under present conditions buy the city's corporate 1930 tax anticipation warrants. Chapman & Cutler, recognized security lawyers, have raised some questions regarding the validity of those particular warrants, although Corporation Counsel Ettelson and his assistants have given an opinion that they are legal and valid.

The position taken by Chapman & Cutler was caused by the fight of Mayor Thompson, Ald. Nelson, Ald. Louis B. Anderson (2d), and other followers of the city administration for more jobs. They insisted that the city council appropriate for more jobs than it had money to pay for. The controversy, extending over three weeks, confused the city council record in such a way that Chapman & Cutler have raised some questions regarding the legality of the proceedings attending the appropriations and the subsequent tax levy ordinance based upon the budget.

To Purchase 1928-29 Warrants.

Instead of purchasing 1930 corporate warrants, the Strawn committee—as managers of the Taxpayers' trust—will buy 1928 and 1929 tax warrants which the city has sold to itself. These are held in trust and in other surplus funds, and bear 2½ and 4 per cent interest. The city council, by ordinance, yesterday afternoon raised the rate to "not exceeding 6 per cent."

Of the 2½ per cent warrants, the city treasury holds $24,965,000, but the Strawn committee will buy only $18,000,000. The committee is making certain of the return of the cash to the taxpayers now subscribing to the trust. Of the 4 per cent warrants, the city has in its trust funds $10,850,000 issued by the education fund of the school board, $1,350,000 issued by the building fund of the schools, and $4,265,000 issued in behalf of the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium and the public library and pension boards.

Of the 4 per cent 1929 warrants, the city treasury holds $13,500,000 issued for the educational fund of the school board and $2,090,000 for miscellaneous purposes. From these the Strawn committee will make its selections with care.

Of the 1930 warrants, the Strawn committee will take some of the offerings of the county and the school board which have been approved by Chapman & Cutler, and some of the 1929 warrants of the sanitary district.

Day's Drive Nets $23,630,400.

Subscriptions totaling $23,630,400 were obtained yesterday in the campaign headed by Philip R. Clarke. This is comparable with $5,955,000 in pledges obtained on Tuesday and $12,735,000 on Monday.

Despite the day's showing, Mr. Clarke said last night that "the toughest sledding" lay ahead.

The largest share of the pledges of yesterday were the subscriptions of the public utilities, which were solicited under the direction of Britton I. Budd. They accounted for $14,475,000 of the total. Among the promises of the utilities was $3,000,000 from the surface lines which is subject to the ratification and approval of the United States District court because the west and north side lines are in the hands of receivers.

The other subscribers under the utility and oil division are as follows:

Byllesby Engineering and Management Co.	$ 100,000
Chicago Rapid Transit Co.	1,400,000
Chicago Tunnel Co.	15,000
Commonwealth Edison Co.	3,250,000

HELD AS WIFE SLAYER.

John Green, colored, 30 years old, 639 East 41st street, was ordered held to the grand jury yesterday on a charge of murder following the verdict of a coroner's jury accusing him of killing his wife, Gertrude, in a flat at 3714 Cottage Grove avenue on Feb. 18.

Doubt Raised on Legality of Council Proceedings Behind City Tax Warrants

Attorney Weymouth Kirkland, who prepared an opinion yesterday on the validity of the 1930 tax anticipation warrants of the city corporate fund, said that he has some doubt regarding the regularity of the council proceedings which form the basis of the warrants.

"A legal and valid tax warrant," he said, "must rest upon a sound tax levy, which in turn must have a good appropriation ordinance as its base. The annual appropriation ordinance is the starting point.

Cites Unusual Procedure.

"The 1930 corporate appropriation ordinance of Chicago was passed in an unusual manner, as disclosed by the council proceedings. Those proceedings are supposed to disclose all of the pertinent facts related to the adoption of the appropriation ordinance. Those proceedings must be in conformity with the statutes in prescribed respects.

"The record of the passage of the appropriation ordinance shows its adoption, then a veto of certain parts of it, then the adoption of an amendatory ordinance, another veto of certain parts of the amended ordinance, and then the adoption of another amendatory ordinance. While all this action was being taken there was first a meeting of the city council, then another meeting, then a number of sessions by recess which extended the second meeting beyond the date of a regular meeting of the council, and the changing of that date of the regular meeting to a later date.

More Facts Needed.

"It is difficult to fit the requirements of the statutes into these proceedings. In it all there appears to have been confusion and some uncertainty after the mayor had vetoed the appropriation ordinance the first time. Some facts outside of the council record appear necessary to give a clear view of the situation.

"It is because of that lack of clearness in the proceedings that I hesitate to express a definite opinion regarding the validity of the council action on the appropriation ordinance, and therefore cannot now indorse tax anticipation warrants which are dependent upon those proceedings.

"The several recess sessions of the council extending over days appear to me to be extraordinary. There should be some limit to a meeting of recess sessions, otherwise a meeting of the city council could be prolonged indefinitely by a series of recess sessions, and thereby deprive the mayor—if that proceeding is valid—of his right of veto until it would be ineffective.

Suggests Legislative Act.

"A meeting with frequent recess sessions beyond the time of the next regular meeting of the city council appears to be an attempt to evade the requirements of the statutes. If it is not, then more facts are required than the council record discloses."

It was Mr. Kirkland's view that an act of the state legislature validating the 1930 tax levy would be advisable. He added that the statement of the Strawn citizens' committee indicated that such a course is contemplated, as well as action by the legislature by which the city would be required to pay full interest on 1928 and 1929 tax anticipation warrants regardless of whether the taxes are sufficient to meet both warrants and interest.

FIND SKELETON OF CHILD BURIED ABOUT 1000 B. C.

Avalon, Catalina Island, Cal., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—The skeleton of an 8 year old child, surrounded by beads, shell necklaces, rings, carved stones, and other primitive treasures, believed to have been buried about 1000 B. C., has been dug up on Catalina island by Prof. Ralph Glidden, archæologist.

Prof. Glidden has a party on the island seeking to discover the one time temple to the sun god Chingicich. Another skeleton found by the Glidden party is supposed to have been that of a Channel chieftain. Twenty-two dog skeletons were buried about the chief's remains, and the scientists have a theory that the dog was sacred to the Channel Indians.

Commission to Open Tax Law Hearings Tomorrow

Suggestions for possible changes in the tax laws of Illinois will be received by the Illinois revenue investigation commission in hearings beginning tomorrow at the Hotel La Salle, State Senator Arthur A. Huebsch of Brookfield, chairman, announced yesterday. The hearings will be public and will be so planned as to consider suggestions from all the taxing bodies in the state.

MR. WEIL VOICES A YEARNING FOR PUBLIC ESTEEM

Going Straight, Says Kid, Who's Free Tomorrow.

When Joseph R. Weil, confidence man, known as "The Yellow Kid," steps out of the federal penitentiary in Leavenworth, Kas., tomorrow morning he will have paid one more debt to society. And in anticipation of his freedom he has stated that this will be the last such debt he will ever pay.

Of course, the Kid always says he intends to be good and that he is all through with the racket. He has been saying that for a long time. He said it a few years ago when he was released from Joliet penitentiary after serving a term. But this time the Kid says he means it. He says he has come to his senses at last.

Reformed, He Tells Brother.

At any rate, he has convinced his brother, Ike Weil of 5409 Drexel boulevard, that he means it this time. And Ike did not take him too seriously at any time before. Weil's present prison term resulted from his handling stamps stolen in the Rondout mail robbery.

"He has been writing me," said Ike yesterday. "He has begun to realize that he has spent the best years of his life in a prison when he might have gone straight and enjoyed them as the rest of his family has done."

Letter from "Yellow Kid."

The letter said: "My dear brother: You may or may not know that I shall have completed my entire term on the 28th day of February, when I shall return to my home and family, which I am positive will give them much happiness—and perhaps you, too.

"I want to say that I have fully recovered my powers of thinking, my real mentality, which previous to my entrance here was in dire need of readjustment because of my then unhealthy way of living—the drinking of much impure liquor, together with other vices. When I say I have undergone a change and have regained, or perhaps attained, a proper viewpoint and outlook of life I speak the truth.

"I want to become an honest man once more. I want to end my days with the self-respect of my fellow man for the sake of myself and my family. I want to forget and get away from the past and build a future."

5 BOND ISSUES FOR 28 MILLIONS TO GO ON BALLOT

Airport Fund Added at Council Meeting.

The city council yesterday unanimously approved submission of five city bond issues totaling $28,813,163 to the voters at the April primary. Four of the bond issues will be used to defray expenses on street improvements and the fifth will provide improvements at the municipal airport.

Four of the bond issues were requested by Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements. Three of them, totaling $18,936,163, are to be used to pay property owners for land and buildings taken in the widening of Ashland and Western avenues and La Salle street. The fourth issue, $5,400,000, would permit Faherty to proceed with the construction of Ogden avenue across Goose island on the near northwest side of the city.

Several aldermen in the morning session of the finance committee, where a recommendation to the council to submit the bond issues was made, sought to limit the money raising to the amount needed to pay the judgments of the persons whose property had been taken by the city. After Ogden avenue, which is a new construction project, had been incorporated in the recommendation Ald. Guy Guernsey [6th] obtained approval for a $450,000 bond issue for the airport.

The amounts of the bond issues are as follows:

Ashland avenue	$ 8,712,189
Western avenue	6,138,724
La Salle street	4,112,250
Ogden avenue	5,400,000
Municipal airport	450,000
Total	$24,813,163

A delegation from the West Side Through Street association appeared before the committee and urged the aldermen to place the street improvement issues on the ballot.

For those who think before they spend

¶ Whether a hermit on a mountain or one of the mad throng struggling in the heart of London, New York or Chicago, a man may live to ripe old age learning little of the world, or die in early manhood full of that which humankind, in its conceit, calls wisdom.

¶ So, too, in the minor details of daily existence, there are those of us who, for the most part, take quick advantage of opportunities to "make the most" of persons, conditions and things about us—and others of us who just naturally seem to "get the worst of everything."

¶ For instance, this morning, this noon and tonight, right here in the Loop, several thousands of persons of sound instinct will unhesitatingly find their way to Henrici's, where, in the sincere judgment of every well-informed restaurant man, there are values in food, service and environment unsurpassed in all the world—while, with a false sense of economy and an untrained sense of values, other thousands will bestow their restaurant patronage upon establishments which could not, even if they would, give value for value.

¶ Not only in the biblical account have men literally traded their birthrights for a mess of pottage—it's being done every day.

¶ Really, you would greatly enjoy a Henrici breakfast, luncheon, dinner or late supper, and you will get sounder value at Henrici's than you are likely to find elsewhere. Why not today?

sists Red Triangles Are Not True.

BY TOM PETTEY.

New York, Feb. 26.—[Special.]—rge J. Gillespie, president of the board of water supply, emerged from the scarlet triangle case this afternoon in a brand new rôle—that of Sir Galahad. He entered a blanket denial to Mrs. Frances Marion Brandon's tale of fifty-five red letter nights for which she is asking $500,000 in her breach of promise suit here in Supreme court and told how he had fled from her.

GEORGE J. GILLESPIE. [A. A. Photo.]

The modesty of Judge Louis Valente alone, however, saved Mr. Gillespie from the necessity of disrobing before a physician and the jury. Mortimer Hays, young attorney for Mrs. Brandon, insisted that Mr. Gillespie offer physical evidence as to the existence of a "short white scar" on his body.

Court Stops Proceedings.

Judge Valente remarked:

"Considerable latitude is permitted in cases of this nature, but there still must be some modesty left in this court. I see no necessity here to proceed further along this line of questioning."

Mr. Hays requested that the court room be cleared of spectators and he was allowed to continue.

Judge Valente refused. Mr. Hays asked:

Judge Valente again stopped the lawyer and insisted that he "confine his questioning to real issues."

There were two high spots in Mr. Gillespie's story of his relations with the triangle woman and an alibi introduced from the witness stand by Rabbi Stephen J. Donahue, secretary to Patrick Cardinal Hayes.

Rabbi Donohue testified that on the night of Jan. 30, 1923, when, Mrs. Brandon alleged, Gillespie called at her home to "mourn the anniversary of their first intimacy," Gillespie was, in fact, attending a church event at St. Patrick's cathedral.

Mr. Gillespie, referred to by Mrs. Brandon as a "holy man," struck his most colorful note in his description of how he rejected Mrs. Brandon's advances on the night of Dec. 13, 1923. She had called at the Brandon apartment at Mrs. Brandon's request. He thought the conference was "of a business nature." It was early in the evening, just after dusk, and they were seated in the Brandon living room.

A Woman's Wiles.

"I began to talk about our business affairs," said the witness, "but she said she wanted to talk about herself. She told me that I was just like a man. 'You are the only man I ever knew who could get along without a woman,' she told me. Then she said, 'I know you are not the marrying kind.'

"'Won't you lie down on the sofa?' she asked. I said 'No.'

"Then she said, 'I knew you would not.' I told her I was in a hurry, but she tried to get me to stay. Then I picked up my home on the telephone and left. I got out just as soon as I could."

Under cross-examination Mr. Gillespie became a real Sir Galahad. But he talked directly at Mrs. Brandon but now during the day and it was upon the occasion.

"Was Mrs. Brandon more attractive at that time [the night he rejected her charms] than she is today?" asked Hays.

Gillespie the Gallant.

Gillespie turned from the jury and eyed the middle aged, rather dumpy woman. He smiled broadly.

"Now I wouldn't want to say anything like that," he replied.

"Well, anyhow, she was younger?" asked Hays.

"She was," agreed the witness.

"You say," continued Hays, "that on that night in December Mrs. Brandon offered herself to you and at the same time you tell the jury that only a few weeks before you had refused to even take her for a walk?"

"I do," answered Gillespie.

"She made this proposition to you without hope or encouragement?"

"She made it without encouragement, certainly, and when I refused she said, 'I knew you wouldn't.' She said that every man should have a woman."

Q.—You understood her offer to be voluntary and without any promise of marriage? A.—I did.

Q.—She didn't ask you for money? A.—No.

Q.—Just an offer for enjoyment? A.—You are asking me to characterize the matter as enjoyment and I will not.

Q.—You want to convince this jury that you would not lie down on a woman's settee? A.—That is exactly it.

Mr. Hays went into Mrs. Brandon's allegations that Gillespie sang hymns and prayed in her home. Gillespie denied ever singing or praying or seeing Mrs. Brandon in a prayerful attitude. He appeared shocked at the idea and also entered an emphatical denial that he ever had tried to unbutton the back of Mrs. Brandon's dress.

Always Left By 8:15.

Mr. Gillespie testified he never had remained in Mrs. Brandon's home later than 8:15 p. m., and that at no time had he ever been intimate with her. He also said marriage never had been mentioned except on the one occasion already related.

"But you do sing, do you not?" asked Hays.

"I do not sing well, but I sing everywhere—on the street and in the house," answered Gillespie.

Mr. Gillespie was asked when he first received word that Mrs. Brandon had published an announcement of their engagement to be married.

"I was in a Turkish bath in the New York Athletic club the day it came out in the papers," smiled the witness.

"What did you do?"

"I immediately went to see the cardinal and later I called all the papers and denied that it was true."

A Merry Runaround.

After Mr. Gillespie discovered that Mrs. Brandon was "after him" he testified he encountered her in curious places. It became a sort of elevator, subway, and surface car chase. On one occasion he "felt a curious presentment that she was near." The feeling came over him in a subway train and he looked up and saw her. He did not talk to her. Again he met her face to face on a street car. Still later they both caught the same elevator in the municipal building. Mr. Gillespie dropped his glasses just as the car stopped at the street level. Every one got out except himself and Mrs. Brandon.

"After you," said Gillespie to the woman. "After you," insisted Mrs. Brandon. "No, after you," Gillespie repeated. "After you," shouted the triangle lady.

"That," said Gillespie, "was all that was said, but she followed me down the street and talked to me. 'You know,' she told me, 'that I know something about Mary' (Mrs. Gillespie). Then she said, 'you never loved Mary. It took her fifteen years to get you to marry her.' Never before have I been so hurt, but I walked with her to the subway station where I left her."

Red Triangles! Never!

Gillespie was asked when Mrs. Brandon first showed him her red triangle diary with the crimson letters.

"I never heard of those triangles until the other day in this courtroom," said Gillespie punctuating the assertion by giving the rubber band around his brief case a loud, resounding snap.

The witness expressed his belief that Mrs. Brandon was looking for somebody to sue. He related the following incident:

"I met her on the street and she walked up to me and said, 'You have said that I was crazy and had been in an asylum.'

"I told her I never had said it and did not know that she had been.

"She said, 'put that in writing and I'll sue the newspapers instead. They have the money and that's what I'm after.'"

The body of Mrs. Anna Rudstrom, 43 years old, 1037 Barry avenue, was found hanging from a closet door in her apartment last night with her left wrist slashed. The Sheffield avenue police, who investigated the suicide, were seeking her husband, Herman, 42 years old, who, according to Ola Fager, a tenant of the building, had left home on Tuesday evening after a quarrel with his wife.

A woman and a man, the alibi witnesses for William Lenhardt, Cleveland, O., gunman, who was sentenced to the electric chair early yesterday morning, were held in contempt of court yesterday afternoon by Judge Philip Finnegan in the Criminal court. The judge issued the contempt citations after Assistant State's Attorney Harry Ditchburne, a Crowe appointee, had shown that perjury was committed in an effort to save Lenhardt from the electric chair.

Mrs. Catherine Gidrioc, wife of a Cleveland garage owner, was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail and John Taplo of the same city was sentenced to six months in the same institution.

Charge Friend With Perjury.

A bench warrant for perjury was issued for Miss Alva Zaabel, friend of the defendant, but no action was taken yesterday. Her case will be disposed of today.

The witnesses sentenced had admitted they committed perjury when they told the jury that Lenhardt was in Cleveland at the time he murdered Milton Valisopoulos, owner of a restaurant at 803 West 74th street.

After they testified, Prosecutor Ditchburne, who also obtained the recent electrocution verdict against Willie (Baby Faced) Doody, ordered them in custody. They admitted after questioning that they had committed perjury, and later took the witness stand and denied their original testimony.

Death Verdict Is Returned.

Miss Zaabel testified that she was with Lenhardt in Cleveland at the time of the murder. The records of a local hotel, however, show that she was in Chicago.

The death verdict against Lenhardt was returned early yesterday after a midnight session of the court. The state proved that after killing the restaurant owner Lenhardt robbed a druggist and boasted of his previous crime.

"ROBBER" PAINTS MRS. PRICE AS AN EAGER VICTIM

Tells of Her Rush to Give Up Valuables.

Mrs. Laura B. Price, wife of a wealthy woodenware manufacturer, was so eager to be robbed, so she might collect insurance, that she held out her valuable fur coat and jewels to the 'robbers' before they reached her as she left a dressmaking establishment in Goethe street.

This testimony was given yesterday in Judge Harry B. Miller's court by Joseph Baum, one of the 'robbers,' who has turned state's evidence against Max Krakow, manufacturing jeweler, and Maurice Barnett, jewelry salesman. Krakow and Barnett are on trial charged with conspiracy to defraud.

"Before we reached Mrs. Price she held out her fur coat and her jewels to us," testified Baum. "We had to warn her to make it look like a real robbery and to hold on to her articles until we at least made a pretense of a struggle."

Witness Cross-examined.

Baum, on cross-examination by Attorneys Harold Levy, Edward Rothbart, and Dwight McKay, said the idea of robbing to collect insurance entered his mind years ago, but that he never had an opportunity to put the plan into effect until he was introduced to Mrs. Price.

Although exact as to details of the robbery, Baum was hazy as to the dates on which the various conferences were held to arrange for the robbery. He first took up the plan with Krakow, who later introduced Barnett, he testified. He said he never talked with Mrs. Price before the fake robbery.

To Prosecute Mrs. Price.

Mrs. Price, who is represented by Attorney Leonard C. Reid of the firm of Litsinger & Reid, was granted a separate trial on the representation that she would testify for the state. When Assistant State's Attorney Charles Mueller insisted that part of the bargain was a plea of guilty with probation on the condition of restitution, she changed her mind about becoming a prosecution witness.

Prosecutor Mueller said yesterday that he would prosecute Mrs. Price after the trials of Barnett and Krakow. It is too late now to put her on trial with the other defendants, he explained. Mrs. Price was for a time undecided yesterday as to whether or not to testify for the state, but by evening she had delivered through her attorney the definite answer that she would not testify under the conditions named.

WIDOW OF GIBSON IS DENIED HIS SEAT ON COUNTY BOARD

Pleas that she was left almost destitute by the death of her husband, Commissioner John W. Gibson, failed to sway enough votes on the county board yesterday to effect the election of Mrs. Bessie Gibson to fill the vacancy on the board.

"It is folly to let sentiment outweigh our better judgment," said Commissioner Harry A. Newby in reply to the appeal of Commissioner Francis Boutell in behalf of Mrs. Gibson. "We are intrusted with public duties and public tasks. Any feeling or sentiment should be expressed personally; and I, for one, stand ready to contribute one month's salary if it will be of any aid to Mrs. Gibson."

The vote for her election fell one short of the eight required. Those who voted in the affirmative were Commissioners Boutell, Carolan, Jaranowski, Metzger, Nettelhorst, Schmit, and Wilson. Newby voted in the negative and Commissioners Busse, Kavanagh, Kriz, and Whealan passed.

Bomb Attached to Starter on Auto Kills Indiana Man

Marion, Ind., Feb. 26.—(AP)—John Ashcraft, employé of a local mold works, was fatally injured tonight when a bomb attached to the starter of his automobile exploded on a downtown street. He died in a local hospital more than an hour later.

DANDRUFF

A Sure Way to End It

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four unces of plain, ordinary liquid Arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid Arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy never fails.

COLLINS LAYS CHICAGO CRIME TO PROHIBITION

Tells Congressmen Gangs Thrive Because of It.

ness. Ex-convicts, holdup men, safe crackers, highwaymen, divekeepers, and common thieves became rich and with riches came power. I knew a street sweeper reputed to have cleaned up $200,000 a year.

"My men frequently picked up men and women on the streets dead from chronic alcoholism. Frequent raids resulted only in enriching shyster lawyers and professional bondsmen. Most of the time our prisoners were freed. It was common gossip that bailiffs could fix prohibition cases.

"One man we arrested with an auto load of liquor offered to pay a patrolman $1,000 from his freedom. Later, after I had taken a sawed off shotgun from him, he made the same offer to me. He was taken into court and let off with a $100 fine and the whisky was moved into the judge's chamber. That was the last we saw of the whisky. In another case my men were offered $1,500 to release a load of alcohol. He went into court and it was given back to him."

How Syndicates Developed.

"Then the bootleggers and rum runners began to get together, form syndicates and take the law into their own hands. They held court and the punishment they meted out was death.

"In April, 1923, I was appointed chief of police. Ten breweries then were in operation in the Chicago metropolitan area and many stills, turning out fully 2,000 barrels of liquor daily to 1,000 speakeasies. It cost them $3 a barrel to make moonshine and it sold for $50 to $60. Alcohol worth 60 cents a gallon sold for $10. And much of this money found its way into the pockets of policemen, rendering them incapacitated to stop any other crime. They became tools of the rum runners. It was impossible to tell just who the syndicates had reached. I removed many men from the force when they were uncovered. One day three beer runners were shot down in the streets and the mayor took action. He called together all the law enforcement heads of Cook county and declared that in order to stop murder on the streets every brewery in Chicago must be closed."

Breweries Closed in Vain.

"But neither the United States district attorney nor the state's attorney offered to proceed, and they did not proceed. But the police department did. I stationed men around the breweries and I closed those 10,000 speakeasies, obtaining federal court injunctions and padlocking 1,500 of them. Most of them I kept closed, but time and again I found the proprietors, when arrested, were immediately released on writs of habeas corpus and when tried acquitted."

"When the term of Mayor Dever drew to a close he was persuaded to run again. His opponent was quoted as saying he would open every brewery and 5,000 more. He carried out that preelection promise. Every joint opened up and more. In April, 1927, one of my former men told me of a bootlegger who was complaining because he had to pay 25 per cent of his net receipts in graft. Another said two gunmen made him sign a bill of sale for $200 and immediately sold it to another man for $2,500."

"All the while the underworld was enjoying this Roman holiday there was not a complaint. On Nov. 2, 1927, Edward E. Gore, chairman of the Chicago Crime commission, attended a meeting of the national crime commission in Washington and reported great progress in the police department and that Chicago was satisfied. The grand jury, however, thought differently. It found that things were rotten to the core.

"Since then it would be fair to say we have a new district attorney, a new state's attorney, and a new chief of police, and under them things have improved."

A barrage of questions from both wet and dry members of the committee greeted Collins as he finished his narrative.

"You did everything in your power to enforce the law?" Representative La Guardia inquired.

"I did and many people accused me of doing more," the former chief replied.

"Was the morale of the police department better before or after prohibition?" La Guardia asked.

"It was immeasurably better before prohibition."

Representative Earl C. Michener [Rep., Mich.], declaring that Collins had made "serious charges reflecting upon the good citizens of Chicago," asked him if he would name the judges in whose courts liquor prisoners were released, and Representative G. R. Stobbs [Rep., Mass.], asked if he had any personal knowledge of the conditions he pictured. These queries Collins refused to answer.

"I have no desire to deal in personalities nor to cast any reflection on the city of Chicago," he said. "I will say, however, that since leaving office I have traveled in the east and have just returned from a trip to the Pacific coast and I am certain the conditions I have described in Chicago are duplicated in every city in the United States."

Dr. Gerty Submits Statistics.

Dr. Gerty, like Mr. Collins, refused to be drawn into any sweeping statements or controversies with the committee. He presented a half dozen tables of statistics gathered from the psychopathic and the Cook county hospitals and coroner's reports, stating that they were "eloquent testimony of themselves."

In 1916 out of 31,261 patients at the Cook County hospital 99 were suffering from alcoholism, while in 1925 the number had increased to 1,130. Between 1910 and 1919 the average number of alcoholics was 310; between 1920 and 1929 the number jumped to 934. During the latter period the coroner's figures showed an increase in the deaths due to alcoholism as follows: 1920, 20; 1921, 62; 1922, 125; 1929, 208.

At the psychopathic hospital the number of patients suffering from alcoholism, Dr. Gerty stated, increased during the prohibition era as follows: 1916, 334; 1917, 664; 1918, 421; 1919, 344; 1920, 264; 1921, 574; 1929, 1,055.

Higher Average Revealed.

"The average number of alcoholics cared for at the psychopathic hospital before prohibition was 441 annually, or 11.4 per cent," he continued, "while the average number since prohibition was 985 annually, or 18.53 per cent. The latter figure includes the first year of prohibition, with only 6 per cent. Excluding that year, the average has been 1,065, or 20 per cent."

Analyzing the alcoholic patients, Dr. Gerty said he found a heavy increase in the number under the age of 25 and between 25 and 30, showing that these were not carry overs from the saloon days, but an entirely new crop of young prohibition drinkers.

"Before 1920, the year the 18th amendment was adopted," Dr. Gerty said, "there was a curve downward in all these hospital cases. The downward trend continued through 1920, reaching its lowest level that year. Since then there has been a steady increase in every set of figures I have studied."

"Your statistics, then, all show an increase in the number of alcoholic cases and deaths since prohibition?" he was asked.

"Yes," he replied, "that's exactly what they indicate."

Atterbury Sees Four Evils.

Mrs. Bower of Chicago was a surprise witness, having been brought to testify by the Congressional Districts Modification league, for which she is an organizer. She testified briefly, telling of the work of her group. Although only one year old, she said, it has 60,000 members and is accepting more at the rate of 1,000 a week. She declared that the league has met with enthusiastic support everywhere.

Mr. Atterbury, because of his prominence as head of one of the country's largest railway systems, impressed the committee forcibly. Rushing to Washington from Philadelphia on a late train this afternoon, he hurried to the hearing room and doffed his topcoat as he started to speak. He explained that his time was limited, but that he felt it his duty as a good citizen to respond to the invitation.

"My sole interest in being here is in the preservation of law and order," he said, simply. "I am opposed to the saloon. I am in favor of temperance. That we do not have now."

Mr. Atterbury said he saw four major evil results from prohibition: [1] The wholesale manufacture of home brew. [2] The enormous development of the bootleg industry and its alliance with politics. [3] The new temptation for corruption held out to public officials. [4] A revolt of the youth of the land against the loss of their liberty with a consequent loss of temperance.

Asked if he thought he represented the views of the 161,000 employés of the Pennsylvania railroad, Mr. Atterbury answered in the affirmative.

Moral Arguments Offered.

The Rev. Mr. Ryan presented a strong argument for modification or repeal from the moral point of view. After describing himself as one of those who at first believed prohibition would succeed, but later was disillusioned, he declared that "the noble experiment now belongs definitely in the category of legislative failures."

"President Hoover in a recent speech urged all citizens to encourage enforcement of the prohibition law," he said. "The President had no right to make such a demand. It is binding upon a citizen neither legally nor morally to encourage enforcement of any law which he feels is a wrongful encroachment upon his personal liberty."

Mr. Wadsworth read to the committee a statement prepared by his father, the former New York senator, who was unable to attend, declaring that since the prohibition issue cost him his office he has not changed his position in any respect. The former senator's statement declared that if he ever ran for office again it would be on a wet platform.

Each of the Philadelphia and Washington attorneys argued the prohibition question from the legal point of view, while Mr. Cassatt, introduced as a Philadelphia investment broker, agreed with them that the 18th amendment has proved itself "a colossal and tragic error in judgment."

"I never yet have met a business man who volunteered the statement that prohibition has helped his business," Mr. Cassatt said. "Further than that, I have traveled widely, but I have never been in a town where wine and beer was not served in most of the homes. And I will add that only two men of my acquaintance stopped drinking after prohibition. One of these was a judge, the other a senator."

BOY OF 15 PROMISES COURT HE'LL GIVE UP LIQUOR TILL HE'S 21

Russell Rodgers, 15 years old, 7933 South Hermitage avenue, a Tilden High school student, yesterday pledged himself to abstain from liquor until he is 21 years old, when he was arraigned in the Stockyards court on a charge of drunkenness.

Judge John J. Lupe warned the boy that he would be turned over to the juvenile authorities if he ever violates his pledge.

Rodgers was arraigned after his widowed mother, Mrs. Catherine Rodgers, told the Gresham police that he had returned home intoxicated several nights ago. She said he told her that "all the boys get drunk" and that he had bought the liquor at a cigar store at 8514 South Racine avenue.

The police obtained a search warrant for the place but found no liquor there. Charles McDonald, the proprietor, was taken into court but Rodgers and other students who were there as witnesses could not identify him as having sold liquor to them.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomach, sour stomach and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug-store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Are the stars of Hollywood doomed?

WHAT'S happening in Hollywood? Why have so many brilliant favorites of the screen dropped into obscurity?

CANADA SILENCES SHAFT AT U. S. ON DRY "MURDERS"

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 26. — The Canadian house of commons refused today to entertain a question which contained the direct statement that American enforcement officers are "shooting and murdering" Canadian citizens.

The full question was, "What steps, if any, has the government taken to put a stop to the shooting and murdering by American enforcement officers of Canadian citizens." Sidney C. Robinson, Conservative member for Essex West.

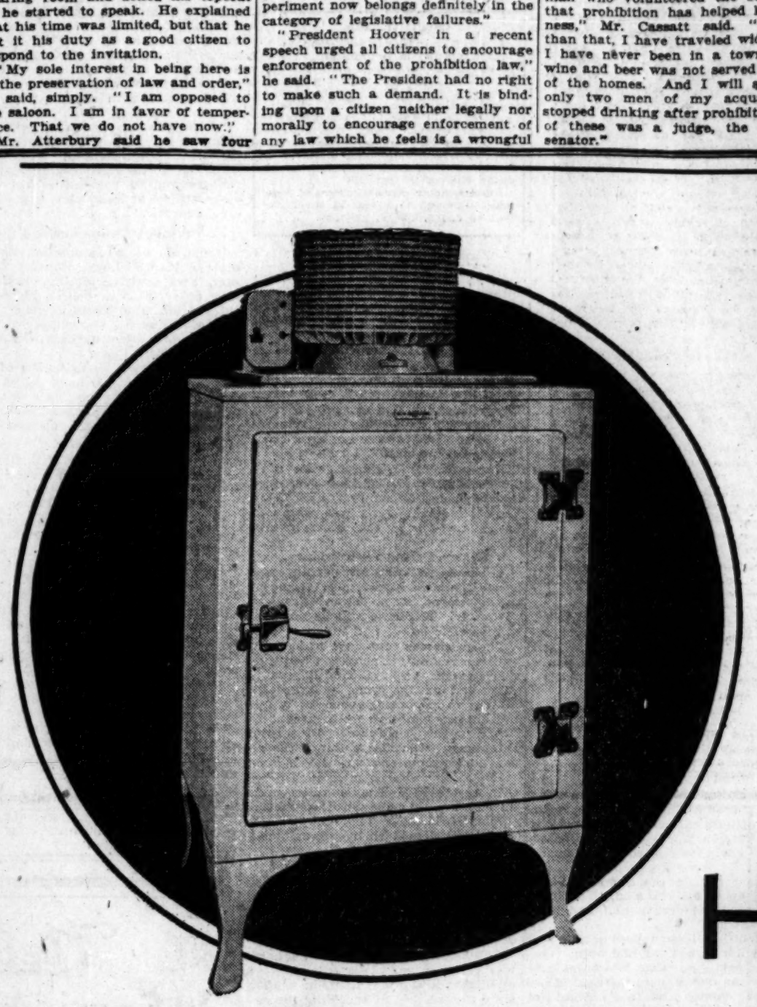

Speaker Lemieux ruled that such an allegation against a friendly government could not be tolerated in house records. "It says as a fact," Lemieux declared, "that murder has been committed." Richard Hanson, maritime Conservative, interjected sarcastically, "It might provoke the United States." Eleven other questions submitted by Robinson in relation to the border activities of the United States dry forces still await government answers.

CUTMORE FINDS FAVORITISM ON EVANSTON ROLLS

Local Assessor Is Under Fire in Inquiry.

Harry S. Cutmore, director of the reassessment, made public yesterday the results of an investigation which he said proved there was favoritism in Evanston tax valuations made by Nathan I. Noach, local assessor.

Evanston taxpayers raised a storm of protest against the reassessment when their valuations were made known several weeks ago. Much of the agitation was stirred by Noach, who undertook a vigorous defense of his own figures, Cutmore said. Noach asked that his assessment be substituted for that of the reassessment staff. His motion was overruled by the board of assessors.

Investigation Is Ordered.

Cutmore ordered an examination of Noach's figures as compared with those of his staff. The investigation was partially completed yesterday. The most glaring errors in the local assessor's valuations have been supplemented with photographs and will be used in defense of the reassessment in Evanston at mass meetings.

Among the examples of favoritism cited is Noach's valuation of the home of Charles G. Dawes, ambassador to England. The Dawes home of seventeen rooms at 225 Greenwood avenue is valued by Noach at $50,000, while a neighbor's home at 235 Greenwood avenue with fourteen rooms is assessed at $45,000. Under the reassessment the Dawes home is valued at $70,000 and that of the neighbor at $44,000. Cutmore pointed out that the assessment was made without the knowledge of Mr. Dawes.

The property of the Central Coal and Materials company, with 59,400 square feet along a railroad, is valued at $51,500, while 20,150 square feet owned by the Standard Oil company along the same railroad is assessed at $112,500. Under the reassessment the values are $72,000 on the local company and $46,100 on the other property.

Bartlett Home Valuation.

Noach values property owned by the father of Mayor Charles H. Bartlett at 1121 Elmwood avenue, consisting of a nine room home and 26 car garage, at $5,700, while the reassessment figure is $10,400.

Noach estimates a two flat building with eight rooms at 1513 Lake street at $8,750, and a five room residence next door, 1511 Lake street, at $10,750. The reassessment fixes the value of the former at $5,490 and the latter at $4,980. Two practically identical six apartment buildings, one at 651-53 Hinman avenue and the other at 643-45 Hinman avenue, are given varying assessments. The former is valued by Noach at $15,000 and the latter at $5,800, in contrast to the staff values of $18,000 and $17,410, respectively.

Home Values Vary.

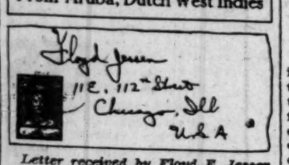

A home at 1037 Monroe street is estimated at $2,500 and a similar one at 1035 Monroe street at $5,000 by Noach, as against $4,900 and $4,700 under the reassessment. An 18 apartment building at 736 Mason street is fixed by Noach at $67,500 while a 24 apartment building, of superior construction at 731 Reba place, is valued at only $62,500. The staff set values at $53,000 and $109,000, respectively.

"Noach's work is full of such errors," Cutmore said. "I cannot see how the people of Evanston can listen to him. His only purpose is to defeat the foundation of the reassessment, equality. It is my opinion that through the figures one may see the purpose of his antagonism to the reassessment."

THE TRIBUNE CONTEST OF INTERESTING LETTERS

If you have received a letter from an interesting or little known place send the envelope to The Tribune, stating name of place where it was mailed. The sender of every envelope which is reproduced will be paid one dollar.

From Aruba, Dutch West Indies

Letter received by Floyd E. Jessen, 11 East 112th street, Chicago.

Aruba is on the island of Aruba, one of the Dutch West Indies lying about 20 miles north of the peninsula of Paraguana on the north coast of Venezuela. The island lies to the west and north of Curacao, the largest of the islands belonging to Holland in these waters. Since the development of the Venezuela oilfields these islands have had quite a boom. The Standard Oil Company of Indiana, through its subsidiary, the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company, is developing a storage and refinery center at Aruba. About 1,000 Americans are at present engaged in building tanks, refineries and docks there.

BRUSSELS, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The senate this afternoon unanimously ratified treaties of arbitration and conciliation signed at Washington last March between Belgium and the United States. The house already has taken similar action.

JURY ASKS FACTS ON "HIGHER UPS" IN TAX INQUIRY

Litsinger Opens Fire on Prosecutor's Office.

The grand jury is interested in hearing evidence against "higher-ups" in the so-called tax fixing investigation, the state's attorney's office was informed yesterday. The jurors are not concerned with evidence against petty clerks, but want information to predicate indictments against those higher up. This was the ultimatum delivered by the jurors yesterday to Assistant State's Attorneys Homer Dodge and Robert E. Blackwood, who are in charge of the investigation.

Edward R. Litsinger, member of the board of review, a prominent Deneen leader and a political associate of State's Attorney Swanson, was aroused when a subpoena duces tecum was issued calling for the documents on property testified to before the grand jury on Tuesday by Lawrence Hoffman, former University of Illinois student.

Admits Changing Figures.

Hoffman, who was employed through the Cutmore reassessment staff, had admitted changing figures on certain property in order to obtain tax reductions.

"That action [the issuance of the subpoena] is absurd and ridiculous," said Litsinger. "The board of review is a public body and all of its documents, papers and files are at the disposal of any interested party. If those asses seeking publicity and notoriety merely telephone to us their desire to peruse any public records in our possession we should have them sent to them immediately. There was absolutely no necessity for the state's attorney's office to go to the trouble of procuring any subpoena, and certainly there won't be any necessity for the state's attorney's office to go before a judge of the Criminal court to obtain a court order."

Threaten Contempt Charges.

The latter portion of the statement was due to the threat of the assistant prosecutors to ask for contempt orders if the original records were not turned over to the grand jury.

Bernard Weaver, chief clerk of the board of review, brought the desired records to the state's attorney's office yesterday afternoon and gave any knowledge he had of the matters involved.

K. Van Sickle, a member of the real estate staff of the Chicago Title and Trust company, admitted that he is on special leave from his employers so that he can watch work on the reassessment for the state's attorney's office as well as for the joint committee of tax valuations, an organization headed by George O. Fairweather.

MAYOR DALE ORDERS POLICE TO BOYCOTT MUNCIE CITY JUDGE

Muncie, Ind., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—As editor of a militant anti-klan newspaper here, George Dale had many clashes with the Muncie courts. Now he is having them as mayor.

Acquittal of three men charged with public intoxication has caused Dale to order police to file no more charges in the City court of Judge J. Frank Mann.

Township justice of the peace courts are being utilized instead, the county Criminal court hearing more important cases.

"I'm leaving everything with the prosecutor," said Dale, "except that Frank Mann's court is out. It never was a court, anyhow. It was a clinic. And now I've quarantined it."

So saying, Dale took the next train for Florida. Mann convenes court each day and immediately adjourns.

WOMAN IS SHOT BY POLICE CHIEF IN RUM CHASE

Bedford, Ind., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Mrs. Rose Wilder, 40 year old wife of George Wilder, alleged rum runner, was wounded this afternoon by Chief of Police M. A. Rainbolt, who fired at the Wilder car when Wilder refused to stop. The bullet hit the roadbed, glanced and struck Mrs. Wilder in the head. Physicians say she will recover.

Rainbolt, with Mayor Henry Murray driving the car, chased the Wilder machine six miles before the shooting occurred. They recovered a gallon of liquor, which is alleged to have been hurled from the car.

WOMAN BEGINS YEAR'S SENTENCE FOR POLLS FRAUD

Mrs. Leona Coine yesterday began serving a year's sentence in the county jail for frauds in the election of November, 1926. She had fought the sentence imposed by County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki for three years. Mrs. Coine was a clerk of elections in the Twelfth precinct of City Collector Morris Eller's Twentieth ward and was charged with making false returns and duplicating votes in favor of Eller, a candidate for trustee of the sanitary district. At the county jail Mrs. Coine was greeted by Mrs. Tina Wortman, judge of election at the same precinct, who began serving the sentence last May. Mrs. Coine was brought back Tuesday from New York [where she had fled] after she lost her fight against extradition.

WOMAN SUCCUMBS TO BURNS.

Mattoon, Ill., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Mrs. Sella Miller Houchin, 35, wife of a farmer living near here, died today from burns suffered Tuesday when kerosene with which she was starting a fire, ignited and showered the burning fluid over the kitchen. She is survived by her husband and a small son.

McERLANE'S GIRL HELD FOR QUIZ INTO SHOOTING

Denies Knowledge of Who Wounded Gangster.

Sergt. Michael McFadden yesterday arrested the woman who lived with Frank McErlane, beer gangster, at 8316 Ingleside avenue—where they were known as Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller—on suspicion of being the one who shot him on Jan. 28, and perhaps again on Monday. Bureau records disclosed she has served six jail sentences for thievery.

When found in a hotel the woman, who gave the name of Marion Miller, admitted having been with McErlane, but denied having shot him. She and a woman who gave the name of Bernadine Rigus were found together, and both were bruised about their legs and bodies.

Hurt in Auto Accident.

Sergt. McFadden and Lieut. John L. Sullivan started questioning them on the assumption that McErlane had beaten the Miller woman and that she had retaliated by shooting him. The two women claimed, however, to have been injured in an automobile accident last Monday night near Joliet, and the police were considering the possibility that the Miller woman had gone to St. Louis to get some of her gangster friends to attempt to kill McErlane as he lay in the German Deaconess hospital.

Miss Miller said she never had trouble with McErlane, that she realized he was tough, but she knew how to handle him. She was washing dishes in the kitchen when McErlane carelessly dropped his gun, which inflicted a wound in his left thigh, she declared. Most assuredly she did not know that McErlane was a gang leader, a killer, a booze runner, a man who tortured his enemies. Why, he told her he was in the sausage business.

Women Stick to Story.

No, it wasn't a revolver McErlane dropped, therefore it must have been an automatic pistol. Lieut. Sullivan knew an automatic couldn't be discharged by falling to the floor, but Miss Miller kept to her story. Her girl friend said she was the wife of a sailor who wouldn't divorce her. Neither of the two had ever been arrested before.

But they changed the story of their lives when they were taken to the identification room by a matron who greeted them as old acquaintances. The records showed they had been sentenced together to 30 days in the House of Correction on April 25, 1922, for shoplifting; 90 days on Dec. 19, 1924; and to 17 months to 34 months in the Allegheny, Pa., workhouse on June 19, 1926. Miss Rigus escaped from the Pennsylvania prison on July 29, 1926, and there was a $25 reward offered for her recapture.

Serve Other Sentences.

In between times each had served other sentences, Miss Miller getting one in St. Louis, Mo., and Miss Rigus one in Toledo, O., and served seven sentences in all.

Lieut. Sullivan learned that the story of the automobile accident was true. They were riding in a coupe that had the 1930 license number of 355,106, and it hit a truck that was parked on the road. Both were taken to a Joliet hospital.

The police had three suspects under investigation yesterday. Lieut. Walter Storms arrested Samuel Katz, 26 years old, 6140 South Sacramento avenue, who had two gunshot wounds, one in the shoulder and the other in the back, which were nearly healed; Sigmund Katz, 6243 South Morgan street, 24 years old, brother of Samuel, and Erwin Schneegas, 20 years old, 6243 South Morgan street. Sigmund and Schneegas were identified as the men who recently held up John Rock, 202 West 120th street, and they admitted the robbery. Samuel refused to tell when and where he was wounded.

KUNZ ON STAND; DENIES HE TOOK MONEY AS BRIBE

$400 Was Loan, Story of Congressman.

Congressman Stanley H. Kunz of the Eighth district took the witness stand yesterday afternoon in Judge Harry Fisher's criminal court to tell a jury that he had not accepted a $400 bribe to get a police department job for Roman Trochowski. The congressman admitted getting $400 from one of the brother's of Trochowski, but said it was a loan which he has since repaid.

The congressman stroked his goatee frequently as he answered the questions put to him by his attorney, Eugene McGarry and Assistant State's Attorney George S. Lavin, who cross examined him at length. He stuck to his story that he is a victim of vengeance on the part of Walter Trochowski, brother of Roman, because he was none too prompt in paying back the loan.

Offered Loan, He Says.

Congressman Kunz told the jury that Walter Trochowski was sent to his home to fix a furnace and that about that time he was pressed for payment of a $400 bill. Trochowski offered the loan of the money, which was accepted, the congressman said.

The money was not repaid as quickly as expected and Walter Trochowski demanded either his money or revenge, the congressman told the jury.

When the demand was made for the payment Congressman Kunz said he tried to raise the money from his political friends and associates in the horse racing fraternity. The congressman is the owner of a string of race horses. He was unsuccessful and Trochowski then began to threaten him.

Repaid Loan That Day.

"He [Walter Trochowski] called me on the telephone and said if I didn't get the money today I would get what was coming to me," the congressman testified. "I became angry and told him to go to hell. Later that day I received a $700 check in the mail and repaid the money with interest."

The congressman denied that he had ever made any agreement to get Trochowski's brother a police job for the money in question. Stanley Kunz Jr., son of the congressman, who is codefendant with his father, also took the witness stand to deny the charge.

Sam Palmer, 38 years old, "errand boy" for Congressman Kunz, told the jury that he was present when the loan was negotiated. The case will go to the jury today.

"SHAPE AND FASHION— such things will remain"

[Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, 1807-1882]

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—men who would keep that trim, proper form, eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the lithe, youthful, modern figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco —The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

Radicals' Plans Fizzle as Hobos Desert.

Spurred on by the hot oratory of their leaders, a group of Reds, numbering exactly 135 and including a number of teen age boys and girls, decided yesterday to "throw out" some 75 police who attended their meeting at Halsted and Adams streets. However, a well timed and aimed right to the jaw, landed on one of radical leaders by John Stege, chief of detectives, caused the would be rioters to change their minds, and they peacefully submitted to arrest.

The Reds had tried to keep the meeting a secret but found the police on hand when they arrived. The hobos had recruited along West Madison street, in order to make a showing, faded away when they saw the police.

The defection of the casuals was a bitter disappointment to the Red leaders. Some of the young girls in the communistic outfit had spoken to the men in the cheap poolrooms and the flop houses and along the curbs, promising the drifters "sinkers" and coffee if they would come, and holding out hints they might also find something superior to canned heat with which to slake the perennial thirst.

Reds Gather; Police Attend.

The Reds had gathered in the hall and after waiting expectantly for the hobos to arrive, and, with the police present, had started their meeting. It was stated the meeting had been called by the Trades Union Unity league, which several days ago sponsored the Reds' ineffectual attempt to march on the city hall—a march that ended at the county building by mistake, only to be quickly broken up by police swinging their clubs over a few heads.

Nels Kjar, secretary of the league, opened the meeting. So many police were standing around that it seemed like a Policemen's Benevolent association meeting.

"We ought to have a good meeting," said Kjar; "we have plenty of protection."

"So's your old man!" piped up one of the policemen in falsetto.

Attack on Capitalism.

The police laughed. Then there was a moment's silence and Kjar launched into a hot speech against capitalism, several times shouting the communist cry of "We want work and wages." There followed more than two hours of speechmaking. Finally as the meeting seemed about to break up one of the Reds started for the door.

He found the door blocked by a policeman, who said each person in the hall would be questioned concerning his citizenship.

Lydia Okin, 19 years old, one of a group of girls who had been out trying to recruit the hobos and had been shouting and applauding the speakers madly, leaped for the platform.

"Down with Cops!" Girl Cries.

"Down with the police!" the Okin girl cried. "Stand up and fight for your freedom, fellow workers!"

Several Reds took up the cry. The young girls yelled, "Down with the police! Kill the cops!"

The communists had been standing back a short distance from the police at the door. Foremost among the policemen was Chief of Detectives Stege. Suddenly a husky individual detached himself from among the Reds and advanced with a menacing attitude towards the policemen. Stege stepped forward, hopped to one side, feinted and swung his right. He landed on the husky one's jaw and the man went down. After a scramble the Reds were herded into patrol wagons.

Immigration officials later questioned the Communists at the detective bureau and found that one woman and five men were aliens, against whom deportation proceedings might be begun. Among these was Kjar, the principal speaker. The woman is Miss Dora Lipshutz, 38 years old, 1221 Sunnyside avenue.

The girls arrested gave their names and addresses as follows: Goldie Dobkin, 18 years old, 1511 Van Buren street; Edith Miller, 19 years old, 2115 Roosevelt road; Shirley Sorensten, 18 years old, 2449 Division street; Annie Mittleman, 18 years old, 1425 South Kedzie avenue; Tilly Thomas, 17 years old, 2105 Potomac avenue, and Martha Ettington, 19 years old, of 1114 South Rockwell street.

The Okin girl also was arrested.

THREE THOUSAND IN LOS ANGELES PARADE SOVIET SYMPATHIES

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Three thousand communists and soviet sympathizers battled 300 police in two riots in downtown Los Angeles tonight. Tear bombs were thrown to halt a rush by a crowd which yelled imprecations. Several policemen had to be treated for cuts, bruises, and temporary blindness resulting from employment of the gas bombs.

Twenty-seven rioters were arrested, among them half a dozen women.

11 Arrests in Seattle.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Eight men and three women were arrested here today in a battle between police and radicals who attempted to march on the city hall in a communist demonstration. One of the women fought desperately when police attempted to disperse the mob without a fight.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Two young women were arrested tonight in the downtown garment manufacturing district, after a scuffle with police, making a total of nine arrests today in the strike called by the communist faction of the garment workers.

Two New York Disturbances.

New York, Feb. 26.—[Special.]—The financial district was the scene today of two clashes between police and 100 communists celebrating the release from prison of an army deserter, and each developed into an incipient riot, with the Reds striking and clawing at the bluecoats and then giving way before the counter drives of the guardians of the law. Two boys who had attacked policemen were arrested.

Awarded $8,500 for Eye Injury in Golf Exhibition

J. L. Francis, 544 Surf street, yesterday was awarded $8,500 damages by a jury in Superior Judge Harry C. Stuttle's court for injuries to his eye received when he was struck by a golf ball while watching a golf exhibition in the store of Marshall Field & Co. on June 18, 1928. Joseph Kirkwood, New York professional, sliced a ball which he was driving off the toe of an assistant in a trick shot. The ball struck Francis between the eyes. He sued the store for $50,000 damages through Attorney Murphy O. Tate.

GANG KILLING CROPS UP AT LOFTUS TRIAL

An unsolved killing cropped out yesterday in testimony at the trial of John W. Loftus, former police lieutenant, and eight others before Federal Judge Woodward on charges of transporting stolen automobiles in violation of the Dyer act. Thomas Shea, gangster killed in Detroit in 1927, was named as an associate of Ted and Leo Baldwin, confessed auto thieves and also defendants.

Lucille Gaston, telephone operator at the hotel in Detroit where Shea lived, testified that Shea and the Baldwin brothers were companions. The trio, it is charged, stole approximately 200 cars, several of which were traced to Loftus and his co-defendants. J. E. Corcoran, employé of the Dime Savings bank of Detroit, stated that Shea's safety deposit box, rented in the name of Donovan, had contained more than 100 automobile keys.

125,000 Workers Will Amass 1930 Statistics.

How the business man, the housewife, the employed, and the unemployed can best help the census taker was explained to the Chicago Association of Commerce at a luncheon in the Hotel La Salle yesterday by Dr. William M. Steuart, director of the census, and Robert M. Davis, statistical expert. The two are making a 14,000 mile tour of the United States, conferring with district census takers.

On April 1 an army of 100,000 census takers will begin the task of recording the actual population of the country, a job they must complete in two weeks under the supervision of 650 district supervisors. Dr. Steuart conferred with 44 of the supervisors from this district yesterday.

125,000 to Work on Job.

The recording completed, the results will be forwarded to Washington, where 25,000 tabulators will begin putting the figures into census tables which will be presented to congress on Dec. 1. Thus, with more than 125,000 persons under him, Director Steuart will, for a time, be one of the largest single employers of labor in the country.

Besides the vast factual results of the census, it will also bring about a congressional reapportionment, because this census will result in the first population reapportionment in twenty years, Mr. Davis pointed out.

The census is divided into six sections, and the statistics for four of them are now being gathered, Mr. Davis said. These are: Manufactures, distribution, agriculture, and mines and quarries. These will be completed by April 1, and the population and unemployment figures will be taken in the first fifteen days of that month.

Speaking particularly of the last two important divisions, Dr. Steuart gave the public the following advice:

"Stay at home while the census is being taken.

"Answer all questions the census taker asks you. He can't reveal your answers to your neighbor—it means prison for him if he does.

"Don't conceal the actual figures of your business, your rent, the nature of your gainful occupation, your age, nationality, or color. The answers are for the private information of the bureau of the census."

To which Mr. Davis added: "Make one statement of your income to the income tax bureau if you wish, and another to us, if you wish, but give the census bureau the truth. It can't be used against you."

32 Questions to Be Asked.

Some thirty-two questions will be asked of each individual, Dr. Steuart said. One of the new departments of the census will affect a vast improvement in unemployment statistics, and since this is the first time an attempt has been made to cover all the activities of all people, Dr. Steuart urged full coöperation.

"In this era of keen competition," Mr. Davis said, "the business man needs every scrap of information about his own and his competitors' business that he can get. The census, if correctly taken, will furnish him with hundreds of valuable facts."

Speaking of business prospects for 1930, Mr. Davis, who, in addition to his special government duties, is statistical editor for the McGraw-Hill publications, said that he had found no business on the downward trend during his tour of the country. He said the prosperity rise, though slow, is better than had been expected.

M. P.S TO HEAR KAVANAGH ON DEATH PENALTY

Judge Marcus Kavanagh of the Superior court yesterday received an invitation to go to London to appear before a committee of the house of commons at a hearing on capital punishment. The judge accepted the invitation at once and will leave within a month. He is believed to be the first American invited.

Judge Kavanagh's name was submitted by the American embassy at London. The invitation, signed by J. S. Horsbragh-Porter, clerk of the select committee of the house of commons, asked the jurist to select any date convenient. The question of the abolition of capital punishment is being investigated by the house of commons committee.

Judge Kavanagh has been on the bench 32 years and has served half of that time in the Criminal court. He is the author of two books dealing with criminal problems from the point of view of the jurist.

RUSSIA CARRIES WAR ON CHURCH INTO MANCHURIA

Three Priests Seized in Chinese Towns.

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Feb. 26. — The long anti-Christian arm of the soviet government has reached far into Chinese territory in North Manchuria, according to a report from Harbin tonight. It states that four prominent Russian orthodox church officials had been arrested and secretly sent to some point in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

The men seized are: The Rev. I. Isvolsky, pastor of a church at Manchouli; the Rev. P. Epoff and his church warden at Chalainor station; and the Rev. V. Appellesoff, pastor of a church in the Chalainor coal mines settlement. The pastors of two orthodox churches at Hailar, fearing arrest, fled to Harbin. Soviet officials seized an old watchman of the Russian church at Hailar and deported him to Russia. The church at Chalainor station was destroyed.

Send Spies to Churches.

With reference to other orthodox churches located along the Chinese Eastern railway which serve small Russian communities the report stated that the congregations have dwindled to less than one-third of the original number due to the fear of soviet reprisals. The members have learned that the soviet government sent spies to the church services to list the names of the attendants. The report also said the soviet managers of the Chinese Eastern railway have issued a secret order threatening the immediate dismissal of any Russian employe who was found attending an orthodox church in North Manchuria.

RIGA, Latvia, Feb. 26.—A group of communists were arrested here today after the police discovered the Moscow international's latest instructions concerning jobless demonstrations on March 6. The documents were reported to have been brought here yesterday by soviet diplomatic courier.

You Meet Septics in the movies!

There is a certain fastidiousness which habits of cleanliness cannot achieve alone. The person you sometimes suspect of carelessness may have bathed within the hour.

If you are a septic, soap and water will not solve the difficulty. Nor will any refreshant neutralise unpleasant vaporings of the body, or the breath for any length of time.

Nobody is septic by nature. It is a condition anyone can correct. Just a few days are sufficient to take the taints out of perspiration, and render one's breath as pure as can be; and this perfect personal cleanliness made permanent. Ask any doctor—or nurse—about Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

You may not know whether you are a septic. Try Stuart's Calcium Wafers, and see! If there is any stagnant matter in the system, everything will speedily be sweet and clean. Your skin will be less acrid; color improved; this colonic correction even brightens eyes and whitens teeth! And you will never need another harsh cathartic from the time you have learned to prevent even semi-constipation by just occasionally taking a tiny calcium wafer.

MAKE THIS TEST

A five-day test should prove to you very conclusively the system's need for Stuart's Calcium Wafers, and the decided benefit from these little wafers. Your druggist has them—the test size for pocket is 10c. Or the family size, 60c.

U. S. AND BRITISH ARGUE ON SIZE OF SMALL GUN SHIPS

Yankee Experts Demand 10,000 Tonners.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The decision of the heads of the American, British, Japanese and Italian delegations to attempt a settlement of their own differences, pending the return of the French delegation, has suddenly brought to the fore the whole question of Anglo-American parity and the ratio of Japanese to American naval strength.

These questions will be taken up immediately in meetings between the American and British and the American and Japanese delegations. The only attempt thus far to be made for establishing parity between the American and British navies pertains to auxiliary ships.

Britain Asks Lighter Cruisers.

The principal discussion of the cruiser question between the Americans and the British, before the French return, will concern the effort being made by the British government to restrict the size of the six-inch gun cruiser to 6,000 or 7,000 tons. The American naval advisers are strongly opposed to this proposal on the ground that it would work to a distinct advantage to Great Britain but to a disadvantage to the United States.

With their numerous outlying naval bases, from which small cruisers may be effectively operated, and their great merchant marine, including 227 ships capable of mounting six-inch guns, the British have everything to gain and nothing to lose by the limitation they propose. America, lacking outlying naval bases, and having only 70 merchantmen capable of mounting six-inch guns, would be rendered hopelessly inferior to Great Britain in sea power under the limitation in the size of the six-inch gun ship.

The American naval experts holding to the necessity of America having cruisers of long steaming radius makes it imperative that we should retain the right to build six-inch gun cruisers up to 10,000 tons each.

U. S. Wants New Dreadnaught.

The Anglo-American negotiations are also expected to include the subject of the reduction of capital ship strength. Secretary of State Stimson has proposed that Great Britain scrap five battleships and build none during the next five years, while America would scrap four and build one comparable in power to the British super-dreadnaught Rodney.

Our naval experts estimate that battleship parity would be established if the United States could build one ship. The British, however, say that they will never agree to this proposition, and it remains to be seen whether Mr. Stimson will press it.

SHOE STORE IS ROBBED.

After two of three men who entered Hyman Asen's shoe store at 3033 West Madison street last night had tried on new shoes, all of them drew revolvers and forced Asen to hand over $92 from the cash register.

SEA PARLEY FAR FROM EXPIRING, "BIG FOUR" SHOUT

Will Proceed Upon French Return.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The naval conference is still alive and is not likely to die prematurely. This assurance was given this afternoon by the British spokesman after a meeting of Prime Minister MacDonald, American Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, Dino Grandi of Italy, and Reijuro Wakatsuki of Japan in the house of commons.

This meeting of the "big four" preceded a visit to the prime minister by M. A. de Fleuriau, the French ambassador to London, who called to discuss the situation caused by the quick fall of Camille Chautemps' government.

Later in the day came news that André Tardieu had consented to try again and that he hopes to be able to return to London with a full delegation by next Monday or Tuesday.

3 Power Pact Smashed.

Not content, however, with torpedoing the three power pact last night, the British took advantage today of the French crisis to blow up the wreck, evidently hoping to render it incapable of being refloated.

The British spokesman began to talk this afternoon by announcing four points: [1] That the conference is still alive. [2] That it is still working on a five power basis. [3] That the French are still in it in every sense of the word. [4] That there is no idea of a three power arrangement in the minds of any of the delegates.

Will Await the French.

He went on to say that at the meeting of the "big four" it was decided to resume the full work of the conference as soon as the new French delegates arrived, and that meanwhile private conversations between the delegations of the three great naval powers, on their private and peculiar problems, should be continued.

The work of the technical subcommittees also should be continued without interruption. These two committees are working on special and exempt ships, as well as the proposal to humanize the submarine. The latter body is considering the recasting of the Washington resolutions, which were never ratified, and therefore never in operation. This committee can't go beyond this stage until the full conference meets again, when the committee hopes to have a complete report ready.

The British spokesman emphasized that any decision the three powers might arrive at would be purely tentative, and would have no effect unless accepted by the Italians and French.

ADMIRAL JONES SAILS FOR HOME A VERY SICK MAN

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones was in a very weak condition when he arrived here today to board the Berengaria, which sailed for the United States at noon. The admiral, ordered home from the London naval conference because of stomach illness, had a good trip from London.

At the dock the sturdy old sea dog insisted that he wished to walk aboard but he was too ill to permit that and he was carried in a special chair.

Dr. M. E. Higgins, American naval physician, turned Admiral Jones over to the care of Dr. J. D. Dogherty of the Berengaria. Officers of the ship have made special arrangements to keep the admiral comfortable.

POINCARE COMES TO TARDIEU'S AID IN CABINET TASK

Still Too Sick to Accept Premiership Himself.

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Feb. 26.—With the help of the one man who could conjure a real majority out of the present ungovernable French chamber of deputies, André Tardieu tonight is struggling to get together a government that will command a small, but suitable, majority until the naval conference is wound up, the Young reparations plan ratified, and the budget voted in.

This man, of course, is Raymond Poincaré. The dry little Lorrainer, who, politically speaking, is one of the few authentic giants of his time, and the only one in France, is preparing for another appearance.

France's Prop in Crisis.

"Like the bird of ill-omen, M. Poincare always shows up when evil days are upon us," say his enemies. His friends could say almost the same, remembering what he did to reinforce the French position in 1914, his services as war president, his stubbornness in dealing with the Germans after the war, and his salvation of French finances.

Still weak from the effects or two major operations, which forced him to relinquish power last July, M. Poincaré is not coming oack to power himself—yet. But he was called in tonight to help M. Tardieu to form the government that President Gaston Doumergue asked the latter to organize this afternoon. He is exerting real influence with the Left parties in the chamber of deputies to appease the animosities aroused by M. Tardieu's refusal to enter the Chautemps government, and his quick work of dispatching it. In so doing M. Poincaré intends to extend the base of M. Tardieu's support far enough into the radical ranks to give him a 25 votes majority for a coupie of months at least.

Tardieu Recommends Poincare.

When he was called by President Doumergue this morning M. Tardieu told the president that he thought M. Poincaré alone was capable of forming a union cabinet by grouping the center and radicals, as all of the ills of the present chamber come from the fact that it was elected in 1928, after a campaign in which Poincarism was the only issue. As long as M. Poincaré was premier the radicals would work with the Center parties, and even the Right. Such is M. Poincaré's personal authority.

M. Poincaré came to the Elysée palace in answer to President Doumergue's call.

"It is 'no' in advance," he said as he went in. And as he came out he said: "I refused to form a cabinet because it is impossible physically for me to undertake the task. I am not able as yet to undertake a prolonged task, nor could I go to London. I couldn't even enter the government. I will need two months to get on my feet again completely. But I told the president of the republic that I would do all I could to facilitate M. Tardieu's task."

M. Tardieu will see President Doumergue tomorrow morning and will ask until Saturday to form his cabinet. This means that he cannot get the approval of the chamber and resume work at the London naval conference before next Wednesday.

MRS. STIMSON TO PRESENT YANKEE WOMEN TO QUEEN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 26.—Mrs. Dwight Morrow and her daughter, Elizabeth, are going to Paris on a shopping trip Saturday. They may be joined later by Ambassador Morrow if his naval conference labors permit him a holiday. Ambassador Morrow tonight was the guest of the Reforms club.

It was announced today that Princess Mary, who is in mourning for her father-in-law, the earl of Harewood, and the duchess of York, who is in mourning for her brother, will not be able to assist the queen at her tea party to the women of the naval delegations tomorrow afternoon at Buckingham palace. The queen will be attended by the dowager Countess Airlie and Lady Joan Verney.

Mrs. Charles G. Dawes will present Mrs. Stimson to the queen, and later will present the other American women.

BLACKSMITH LEARNS HE'S PA TO TRIPLETS, TAKES A HOLIDAY

Knoxville, Tenn., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—"It's a girl!"

Manning M. Stinnett, blacksmith, heard the words at his shop near Townsend, Tenn., and started for home.

On the way another runner met him and announced: "It's two girls!"

Stinnett quickened his steps. Half way home a third messenger greeted him with: "It's two girls and a boy!"

Stinnett then broke into a run and verified the report of triplets, four pounds each. Stinnett knocked off work for the rest of the day.

THEATER ROBBED BY 2 BANDITS.

The Indiana theater, 219 East 43d street, was robbed of $115 last night by two Negro gunmen who held up Beatrice Newton, colored, 22 years old, 5424 Prairie avenue, the cashier, and forced her to hand over the receipts.

CRIME REPEATER GUILTY; FACES LIFE SENTENCE

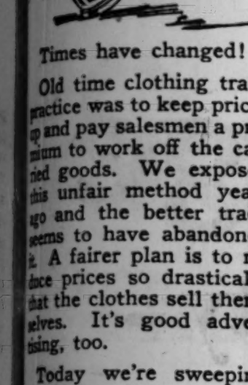

Frank Carr, 40 years old, was convicted by a jury in Judge Daniel P. Trude's Criminal court yesterday as a habitual criminal. He is subject to life imprisonment under the habitual criminal law.

Carr was convicted of robbing the poultry store of Louis Rosenstein, 3343 West North avenue, on Oct. 15. He had bene previously convicted of robbing freight cars and Assistant State's Attorney Owen West asked the jury to punish him under the habitual criminal act. The jury returned the verdict after deliberating little more than one hour.

TWO TAXI DRIVERS ROBBED.

Peter Colon, 5233 South Troy street, and Michael Lerman, 3934 Ainslie street, taxicab drivers, were robbed of their day's receipts and their automobiles yesterday by passengers. Colon lost $6 and his cab at 47th and Rockwell streets, while Lerman gave up $28 and his machine at Long and Montrose avenues.

RULE MAKING BY THE COURTS.

There is a long, long trail a-winding toward a thoroughgoing reform of the American administration of justice. But there are in the foreground certain improvements in the mechanism of the law which a persistent and energetic effort of the legal profession should accomplish within a reasonably short period of time. The most important of these, we think and have said, is to put procedural rules in the keeping of the courts themselves. In this we take leave to differ emphatically with the decision of the Illinois advisory commission. Rule making by legislatures has proved complicated, rigid, and theoretical. In the hands of the courts it can be made more practical and efficient.

On this subject the distinguished former dean of the Northwestern university law school, Mr. Wigmore, offers an opinion we think should be tested as soon as practicable. He suggests that the federal constitution reserves virtually all judicial power to the courts and that every exercise of it by the congress is unconstitutional. Under state constitutions which resemble the federal in the definition and assignment of power—we know of none that does not—the same would, of course, hold true, and Mr. Wigmore contends that in Illinois the Supreme court could now fix any rules whatsoever and hold invalid all statutes inconsistent with them. The federal constitution vests "all judicial power" in one Supreme court and in such inferior courts as the congress shall ordain and establish. By another section in distinguishing between original and appellate jurisdiction the congress is permitted to make such exceptions and regulations as it sees fit, and by another section congress is empowered to define the place of trial for a crime not committed within any state. Examining the Illinois constitution, Mr. Wigmore finds full support for his contention and asserts that "the truth is that the legislature has no more constitutional business to dictate the procedure of the judiciary than the judiciary has to dictate the procedure of the legislature."

This is an important contention which should be tested. Its establishment would clear the ground for procedural reform and bring it about by the shortest route. To those who are jealous, and justifiably so, of any seeming increase of the power of the courts, it may be pointed out that rule making by the courts is subject to all restraints as to civil rights guaranteed to the citizen under our constitutional system. The encroachments objected to have not been restrained under the present system of legislative regulation and will not be. The definition of substantive law is not affected by placing the rule making power in the courts and interpretations which seem to encroach upon the substantive rights of the citizen can be corrected by legislation, if legislatures are disposed to do so, as readily as under the present system of procedure. It is the legislative branch of government in the nation and in the states which more frequently and seriously has invaded civil rights and, as James Madison pointed out, is most likely to do so. It would seem that the courts have been more ready to affirm legislative infringements upon civil rights than any other legislative regulations. Nevertheless, if the courts, including the federal Supreme court, have been less alert in the protection of those rights than they should have been, the evil is not relevant to the administrative problem of rule making, and we cannot see that the courts will have any greater power or any greater disposition to dilute a civil guaranty if they exercise the rule making power than they have now.

WHILE THE POLICE REMAIN UNPAID.

The land committee of the board of review has heard the evidence submitted by the board of education in support of its contention that the loop properties were undervalued in the reassessment. Representatives of the property owners have presented their evidence to the contrary. The taking of testimony, so far as land values are concerned, is completed.

The land committee can have no reason for delaying reporting its findings to the board of review and the board of review, if it wishes to do so, can give prompt attention to the facts presented to it by the committee. No one expects the board to act in haste, but the welfare of the community demands that needless delays be eliminated.

The immediate crisis in Chicago's fiscal affairs will be somewhat relieved as soon as tax money begins to flow into the treasury, but taxes cannot be collected until after the review is completed. The board of review has been unable to defend itself from the charge of deliberately stalling at a time when public employés were unpaid, public credit was being undermined and taxpayers were being burdened with interest on warrants which might long ago have been redeemed. The reputation of the board, which is already pretty badly strained, will not be strengthened by allowing the land committee's report to gather dust.

What is true of the review of the loop valuations is, of course, equally true of the review of other valuations throughout the county. The job should be completed as rapidly as is consistent with justice. At the pace at which the work has been progressing there is reason to fear that the 1928 tax bills will not be out in June, as has been promised.

MR. HOOVER'S ROPE OF SAND.

Mr. Hoover's new friends continue to remain his old enemies. There is, seemingly, nothing that can be done in the White House which will be accepted by a majority in the senate, and nothing there made as a statement or reported from a breakfast or a conference which does not bring an attack from the fellowship on the Capitol hill. The President's supporters appear to be dizzy and ineffectual as the violence against the administration increases with every White House attempt to be reasonable with the unruly.

It is, as has been observed, an unusual situation. This is the period in an administration when usually a President commands his party support and when the opposition bides its time. In Mr. Hoover's case the conduct of some notables in his own party is barely distinguishable from the conduct of some notables in the opposition. The President has undertaken a political course which probably could not be followed with success by the most adroit, experienced, tactful and forceful of national politicians, that of pleasing a congeries of violently opinionated men, egotistic in their enthusiasm or pretenses, erratic and undependable, as in the case of Borah; wild and lost to reason, as in the case of Brookhart; of the dour nonconformity of Norris, and with the wild fauna of Senator Moses' description all over the place. If Mr. Hoover ever examines his undertaking as an engineer he must find himself working on loose gravel.

FARM RELIEF THROUGH THE TARIFF.

The rapid decline in wheat prices despite the efforts of the government to stabilize prices at a higher level is discouraging to farmers who had expected much of the farm relief act. By many the movement of wheat and cotton prices is already accepted as proof that the scheme of relief embodied in the act will not work. At present the government is making loans on wheat well in excess of the cash value of the grain and, in effect, the government is subsidizing the grain growers with its revolving fund of half a billion dollars. Large as the sum is, it will not go far when spread among all the farmers, and when the fund is exhausted it is extremely doubtful if the taxpayers will permit congress to vote more money for the same end.

Meanwhile farmers will be well advised to turn their attention to other forms of relief which seem to offer likelihood of success. The tariff has its limitations as a means of raising agricultural prices, but those limitations have not been reached in all commodities. It has been shown that the tariff is of no great service in raising prices of crops of which an exportable surplus is produced in this country, but there are numerous items which are outside this limitation. The tariff bill is still under consideration and can still be employed to place many items of farm production on an equality with industry. The tariff on blackstrap molasses furnishes an illustration. Some of the alcohol which is now manufactured from imported blackstrap would be made from corn if blackstrap were subjected to heavier duties. The increase in the demand for corn would be reflected at once in the farmers' income.

It is not too late for the farmers to get relief through revisions of the tariff law. While protection is less spectacular than many of the schemes urged in congress on behalf of agriculture it has the merit of having been tried over many years and the further merit of having produced results for those industries which were able to take advantage of it.

BANDS IN SOLDIERS' HOMES.

A bill before congress provides for the restoration of bands in national soldiers' homes to the size maintained for fifty years after the civil war. Formerly bands of more than thirty pieces were assigned to the homes. Now but eight pieces are provided during seven months of the year and fourteen pieces during the summer season. One of the greatest recreation features for veterans in the home is the performance of the band, inspiring as it does in the frequently depressed hearts of the men the dignity which their service to the nation entitles them to feel. It is a tribute to patriotism and a tribute we cannot afford to withhold.

Editorial of the Day

[Wall Street Journal.]

In the last calendar year 14,510,524 head of live stock rode in motor trucks from their farm homes to the stockyards of 17 markets of the middle west. This compares with 12,193,058 in 1928, an increase of 19 per cent in the year. The total also was 23 per cent of the entire receipts at the stockyards of those 17 markets. As but 5,378,868 head went to the yards of those same markets in 1925, it is plain that auto transportation is finding increasing favor with live stock as well as human beings.

These figures are given on the authority of the corn belt dailies which for a number of years have compiled the receipts of live meat animals at those particular markets. One great advantage to the farmer is the opportunity to ship in less than carload lots. Few farmers ever have enough hogs ready at one time to make up a carload. By truck shipping they can cut out those that are ready at any time and avoid the risk and expense of keeping them until others are fit.

But the truck has its limitations. In 1924 the department of agriculture published the result of a study of this subject. It found that some live stock was trucked a distance of 80 or even 100 miles, but the most of it was from a radius of 50 miles from the market. Even with good roads it would seem that from 50 to 80 miles might be termed the marginal distance in which trucking would be of doubtful value and beyond that would not be as profitable as by rail.

It is possible that the railroads will be satisfied to yield the short haul to the trucks which now are getting 23 per cent of it. They would be still better satisfied if they were not taxed to help build and maintain improved highways which they do not use, but over which the trucks operate while competing with them. In effect this is like compelling a merchant in a small town to pay a large percentage of the rent of another individual in order that he may sell goods a little cheaper.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

Oh, Mr. Hoover, You Mustn't Take Congress So Seriously—

because, Mr. Hoover, a congressman doesn't mean all he says when he gets up in the House of Representatives and shouts that the pillars of our great American republic will fall down and break into small pieces and the very foundations of our government will crumble into dust unless two million dollars be spent by the government right away for deepening and widening Trickle Creek (which is a navigable stream; lykell, lykell, lykell). Now, Mr. Hoover, you heard about all the bills introduced into congress for the deepening and widening of a thousand Trickle Creeks and for building hundred thousand dollar postoffices at Frogtail Center, Peanut Grove, and Jiggerstown, and you had a conniption. You said that if all those bills were passed the taxes would have to go up forty per cent. Why, of course they would. But, gosh! Who ever thought they were going to be passed?

No, Mr. Hoover, it's only a part of one of our most popular American games called Passing the Buck. Take Congressman Hiram Squiggs of the 'Steenth District, any state, for instance. He knows that Trickle Creek (American pronunciation: crick) is so small that you could take an ordinary sized desk blotter and put Trickle Creek out of existence. Then why introduce a bill to appropriate two million dollars for widening and deepening Trickle Creek?

Because, Mr. Hoover, the newspapers back in Congressman Squiggs' district (deestreek, they usually call it) will all have big scare headlines: "Our Congressman Demands Two Million Dollar Appropriation for 'Steenth District," or "Congressman Squiggs Works Hard for His District." "'Steenth District May Get Two Million: Squiggs Hero of the Day."

Now, do you get the idea? Trickle Creek isn't worth spending 10 cents on. All the other congressmen know it, the 'Steenth District knows it, Congressman Hiram Squiggs knows it. He won't get the appropriation, but he passes the buck. He pleads for Trickle Creek, but the other congressmen vote him down. They're to blame, but Congressman Squiggs is a hero, a great statesman, an untiring patriot, and must be sent back to congress at the next election. The home papers will admit he failed to get his bill through, and the 'Steenth District won't have two million of government money tossed around to the hundred per cents whose eager mitts were stretched out to receive it.

But back in the 'Steenth District they say proudly: "Well, he done his damndest." And everybody is happy.

No, you mustn't get all het up (American colloquialism, meaning "excited") about congressmen asking for money. They have to ask for it (if they want to stay in congress, as they do, as they do!) but nobody takes them seriously in this country.

LAMENT.

The rose that budded at dawn
Breaks now the sun is high,
Her sweet heart bare to the sky,
Her veiling of dewdrops gone;
O bare to the pitiless sky
Is the scarce-blown rose of the dawn.

Never, never again
The shy heart hidden from view,
Never the drops of dew
Filled with the sun and the rain,
Dark with the evening blue

Never the tender fold
Of petal on petal asleep,
No more vigil to keep
Over the innocent gold
Hid in her heart asleep;
Spent is the innocent gold.

Shaken away from the stem
Is the last of her filmy treasure,
Bare to the rough wind's pleasure
And torn away at his whim;
Given the wild wind's pleasure,
Stripped away from the stem.

DOROTHY R. KISSLING.

LAGNIAPPE.

A FRENCH WOMAN is suing in the Paris courts for the right to wear pants. Think of it; they have to go to court for that over there and over here they swiped our pants years ago and wear 'em whenever they feel like it. Ah, brave Frenchmen, surrender with dignity. Quant à toi, papa, le pantalon, c'est fini. C'est le tour de maman maintenant. Nous en sommes désolés.

SENATOR HEFLIN (dear old Tom) offered a resolution in the Upper House yesterday looking toward the closing of the wheat and cotton exchanges as a remedy for falling markets. Referred to Committee of Streets and Alleys West, or whatever they refer things like that to in the senate. Well, it might work. Or the senate might pass a resolution forbidding rain in Argentina, Russia, Egypt, India, and Canada, thereby disposing of competition of wheat and cotton from those countries and allowing our farmers and planters to name their own price. Write to your congressman today. (But don't let Mr. Hoover know that we put you up to it.)

THE KING TUT curse claims two more victims now, bringing the total up to thirteen. Many earnest souls say this is the fulfillment of the curse put in ancient hieroglyphics over the desecrated Luxor Tombs, "Death shall come on swift wings to him that toucheth the tomb of Pharaoh." Of course that sounds ominous, but we'll bet there's a catch in the thing. Ha! We've guessed it. It's the king's name, of course. Tut, Tut!

WE'RE GETTING WORRIED about the French. Here's the second crisis within a week and they haven't torn down the Vendôme column yet or even ripped up the pavement in the Rue Saint Antoine. Gosh! Are the French decadent? Mais non! Courage, mes braves! Aux barricades! A bas la colonne Vendôme! Ils ne passeront pas! Vive la France!

IT WAS THE WORST snowstorm of the season that raged in Duluth yesterday. All right, Mr. Groundhog, have all the fun you want, but if the sun doesn't shine tomorrow—well, Mr. Groundhog, we've got the old civil war musket loaded to the guards and you might just as well kiss yourself good-by.

TREATING INDUSTRIAL WOUNDS.

WHAT to do in case of industrial wounds is discussed by Dr. de Bruns in a symposium on minor surgical disorders which appeared in a recent number of the American Surgical Journal. The steps to be taken, in their order, are given as follows:

1. Control hemorrhage.
2. Allay mental excitement.
3. Maintain the body heat.
4. Stimulate circulation.
5. Conserve tissue fluids and combat acidosis.
6. Do what surgery is needed.

What should be done about hemorrhage depends on such factors as: How much blood has been lost? How much is being lost? Is the blood red and coming in spurts? How is the man standing the hemorrhage and does it appear to be stopping? Some hemorrhages call for instant action. Some call for nothing. Others are in between.

Excitement, fear, and anxiety may do great harm. Body heat can be kept up by the use of blankets, hot bricks, hot water bags. Warm tea, coffee, and even soup are useful. To stimulate circulation aromatic spirits of ammonia, tea, and coffee are useful.

To conserve tissue fluids prevent hemorrhage and oozings of fluid by pressure and elevation of wounded parts, ligatures and tourniquets; give fluids by mouth or otherwise. Acidosis is controlled by giving lemonade, orange juice, watermelon, and other fruits, vegetables, and fruit and vegetable soups. Where there is a wound he advises cleaning, sterilization, stoppage of hemorrhage, and such surgical treatment by a physician as is sometimes needed.

For the later treatment of wounds he suggests exposure to the rays of a 60 watt electric light, and washing with a hot solution of magnesium sulphate and such medical treatment as a physician may prescribe.

Dr. J. J. Moorehead gives the following advice for the immediate treatment of bad bruises:

1. Applications of hot water. Apply witch hazel extract.
2. Apply a moist dressing, using hot water with the addition of witch hazel extract.
3. Apply a firm bandage.
4. Elevate the injured member.

Intermediate treatment:

1. Apply hot compresses made with soapsuds.
2. Massage the parts with camphorated oil.
3. Give treatment with rays of a 60 to 100 watt electric light for ten minutes two or three times daily.

Motion and use are better at this stage than splinting and inaction. This treatment he designates by the term SOL—S for soap, O for massage, and L for light rays. He increases the use of light, massage, and exercises in the later stages of the treatment.

Skin abrasions he cleans with soap and water. If there is much grease in the wound he uses gasoline for cleaning. The abrasion is dried and iodine is applied. The wound is covered with gauze.

MENINGITIS DON'TS.

A. M. A. writes: 1. Is there any precaution against taking meningitis?

2. What are the chances of recovery?

3. Is it possible for one who had the disease some years ago to be a carrier?

REPLY.

1. Keep away from crowds, especially during the late winter and early spring. Avoid people with colds and convalescents from meningitis. Be especially careful in cold, wet weather. Much of the disease is spread in dormitories and barracks; therefore bedrooms should be well ventilated and beds should never be close to each other.

2. Fairly good. Certainly three to one.

3. Yes, though chronic carriers are less dangerous than acute ones.

WHAT'S IN THE SOUP!

Mrs. F. J. M. writes: I have a friend who makes a soup out of left over gravies and meats by putting them in water with vegetables and boiling the mixture. I have tasted this soup. My children drank some and seemed to get an upset from it. Is it good for them?

REPLY.

On your statement of the case the reply should be no. But I am sure a wholesome soup could be made in the way described. The left over food should be in good condition. The amount of meat and gravy added should be kept within proper limits.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

NAME SHOULD APPEAR ON PARENT'S CERTIFICATE.

Chicago, Feb 21.—[Friend of the People.]—My father was naturalized in 1921, when I was 16 years old. Did I thereby become a citizen? If so, did I lose my citizenship by marrying an alien in 1924?

A. M. S.

If the writer's father was naturalized before she attained the age of 21 years and before she was married her name should appear on her father's certificate of naturalization. Her marriage in 1924 does not affect her citizenship status.

FRED J. SCHLOTFELDT,
District Director of Naturalization.

NOTARIZING OWN DOCUMENTS.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—May a notary public apply his own signature and seal on his income tax report or any other personal legal document?

R. J. P.

No, in the sense that no official consequences would attach.

CONTRACT MAY AUTHORIZE PROCEDURE.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I bought a second hand automobile about six months ago, signing a series of notes as payment. Have paid more than two-thirds of total amount, but am out of employment and cannot meet the notes now past due. My offer to turn the machine back for balance was not accepted. Machine is about the same condition as when I bought it. What can I do?

W. B.

The contract is probably so worded as to authorize them to repossess the car, sell for your account, and hold you for the balance. They would be in a position to proceed by garnishment against your income or by levy against your assets in excess of exemptions.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

GROOM GIVES FALSE AGE.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Minors were married, the boy giving his age as 21. Is the marriage legal?

H. T.

Misrepresentation as to age would render the party subject to prosecution for perjury but would not invalidate the marriage.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 27, 1865.

WILMINGTON, N. C.—Following the capture of this place by the Union forces, a visit was made to the federal prisoners of war confined at Camp Lamb, nine miles from the city, and it was found their treatment was worthy of fiends from hell. For three days before the evacuation by the rebels these prisoners had not received a mouthful to eat. When citizens attempted to relieve them the food was taken from them by order of the officer in command and trodden into the ground. The prisoners were found to be pale, haggard, emaciated skeletons who glared upon us with glassy eyes and whose light of reason was just expiring. Many had forgotten their names. Their hair was matted and their skin blackened by smoke. They were scarcely covered with filthiest shreds of castoff rebel clothing, without blankets, and most of them without coats and shoes. Among them were Taylor Worded, Gottert Sting, John W. Lee, and William Plumb, all of the 14th Illinois cavalry.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—The followings compose the staff of the 155th regiment, organized at Camp Butler yesterday: Colonel, Gustavus A. Smith; lieutenant colonel, Joseph B. Berry; major, John J. Lacey; adjutant, William L. Worring; quartermaster, Napoleon B. Walker; surgeon, Russell J. Collins; assistant surgeon, Clark Hendee. This completes the organization of the ten new Illinois regiments, all of which has been accomplished in twelve days.

NEW YORK.—A letter published in Richmond from Gen. Lee says the arming of the Negroes is not only expedient but necessary, as he doesn't think the white population can supply the necessities of a long war.

CINCINNATI.—Fire destroyed the job room and damaged the composing and editorial rooms of the Cincinnati Enquirer, owned by Farran & McLean. The loss is $50,000.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 27, 1900.

LONDON.—It is officially announced that Gen. Cronje with his entire Boer army surrendered unconditionally at dawn this morning. The news has created wild excitement, coming as it does on the 19th anniversary of the Majuba hill disaster. Should Gen. Buller reach Ladysmith today, as many believe he will, Great Britain's joy will be complete. Gen. Roberts' dispatch says that Gen. Cronje is a prisoner in the British camp, and that the number of the surrendered forces will be communicated later.

CHICAGO.—President Charles W. Eliot of Harvard university, President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California, and Prof. Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university, in addresses at Central Music hall, gave their opinions of the needs of public schools, and censured "pull" in Chicago's schools. They advocated one-man rule.

CHICAGO.—Chief Engineer Isham Randolph of the sanitary district replied to criticisms of Lyman E. Cooley that the swift current in the Chicago river, caused by the opening of the drainage canal, will seriously endanger if not ruin navigation, by declaring that Chicago can have both pure water and navigation by widening the river.

CHICAGO.—Miss Selma Rothschild, daughter of Mrs. Jacob A. Rothschild, 2633 Michigan avenue, and L. L. Warshauer of New York were married at the Standard club by Dr. Emil G. Hirsch.

CHICAGO.—The will of Philip D. Armour, disposing of an estate appraised at $8,000,000, was filed for probate. It leaves all the estate to the widow, Mrs. May E. Armour, and two children, Philip D., 7 years old, and Lester, 5 years old. J. Ogden Armour, P. Anderson Valentine and the widow are named as executors.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 27, 1920.

CHICAGO.—The Chicago city council judiciary committee voted in favor of the Kostner-Toman resolution calling on the general assembly to rescind its approval of the eighteenth amendment and submit the question to the voters. Ald. Link cast the only negative vote. In Albany, N. Y., the Democratic party of New York at the unofficial state convention there declared against prohibition and came out for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

CHICAGO.—Clarence White, teaming contractor and long known as a notorious gunman, charged with many crimes, including murder, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head.

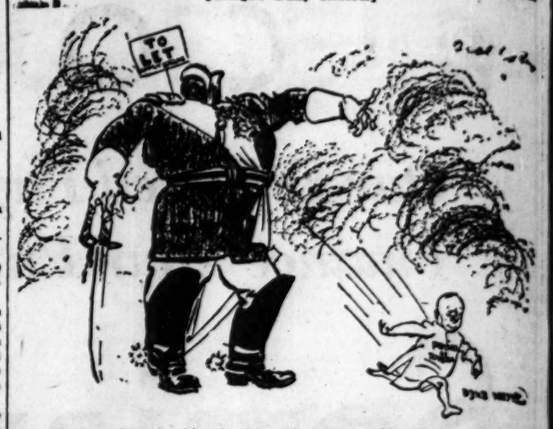

CHICAGO.—The federal grand jury voted indictments, alleging income tax fraud, against Daniel J. Schuyler and Charles Weinfeld, well known lawyers and partners. The internal revenue department claims Mr. Schuyler paid only $115.30 income tax in 1916, whereas he should have paid $2,400. Weinfeld is charged with paying $98.14 instead of $1,120 due in 1916.

CHICAGO.—The judiciary committee of the city council, without a dissenting vote, approved Ald. T. A. Hogan's ordinance providing that clocks shall be advanced one hour at 2 a. m. on the last Sunday in March and retarded an hour at 2 a. m. on the last Sunday in October. Numerous predictions were made that the council will pass the ordinance.

WASHINGTON.—The senate reiterated its determination to stand by the Lodge reservations by readopting without change the reservation declaring that no mandate shall be accepted by the United States without specific approval of congress.

A DISSENTING NOTE.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Here is a dissenting note to the new plan issued by the citizens' committee involved in the making of an investment in participation certificates which can be paid off fully only after taxes for the year 1930 have been collected.

The banks in this city are business wise in that they have taken the certificates of 1928 and 1929 and are now endeavoring to prevail upon the public whose money the banks possess to take tax certificates for 1930 and 1931, the money for which will go immediately back into the banks and to the county treasurer.

It occurs to me that there is something "rotten in Denmark" to this whole proceeding. I have always looked upon names which are mentioned in connection with this with a great deal of favor. That is, they represent some of the best brains in the different departments referred to them, and yet instead of getting any money from bond issues direct from the banks they are now hiding behind some lawyer's opinion as to whether or not the certificates will be legal when submitted to the public.

The city, to put it mildly, has been ridden over by a collection of men who have not had its welfare in mind and who are now going out of office very rich. The men who are trying to put over the new scheme apparently cannot control the banks, although they rank very high in this community.

THE UNIVERSAL DRAFT.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Is the United States so militaristic and so war thirsty that THE TRIBUNE should doubt the feasibility of the appointment of a commission to study the principle and the various proposals set forth in the American Legion's universal draft? Millions rallied to the colors to make the world free for democracy, but many remained at home to fill their coffers on the presumption of patriotic service.

Must this happen again while real patriots are dying for their country?

In today's editorial I read: "Far from encouraging peace, the universal draft is likely to encourage wars." Is it not true that a bully always picks on weak individuals and goes about with a chip on his shoulder among his kind, but immediately slinks away from healthy intelligent characters at their approach? I hope the editor does not compare Uncle Sam with the bully.

It is true that our congress now and then makes silly laws such as the 18th amendment, but after a trial the people revolt against it and cause annulment or modification. Likewise the people would welcome a scheme where usurpant war taxation could be minimized by drafting all war supplies as the government has done in drafting man power.

ACCESSORIES.

Wilmette, Ill., Feb. 25.—I wonder what the wind jamming Senator Norris from Nebraska has to say when he reads or hears about the four or five boys who lie dead in his own state and more in California from drinking poison thought to be booze, merely victims of the dry law.

What is it that lawyers say? Accessory to or after the fact? Wouldn't that apply in this case to the fanatical drys who are responsible for this unhappy state of affairs that exists in the homes of these unfortunate people who have had their dear ones torn from them overnight?

IN SUPPORT OF THE JONES LAW.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—L. F. Meyer in his letter says Deneen voted for the Jones law. Well, what of it? The prohibition law must be enforced somehow. Is there any harm in voting for the Jones law? The eighteenth amendment should not get discouraged yet. Look how long the fourteenth and fifteenth have been trying.

SPEAKING OF OPERATIONS.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Several days ago I noticed on the back page of THE TRIBUNE a picture showing a couple of city officials attempting to learn the causes of street noises by means of instruments manufactured for that purpose.

I have been confined at St. Luke's hospital for several weeks. My room is near Michigan avenue, close to the street noises. Many a night I have been denied sleep from 9 o'clock at night to 2 and 3 o'clock the next day because of seemingly unnecessary street noise.

The honk of the auto horn is heard directly in front of the hospital at intervals of one-half minute. One driver with a powerful horn, one that seems to be a combination of ten ordinary sirens, lets out a blast as he passes the hospital that can be heard a mile. And this whether it be at 7 p. m. or midnight.

It is a peculiar fact that more horns are sounded at night than during the day. Which fact leads one to believe that a great deal of it is unnecessary, as 90 per cent of the night travel is for pleasure and therefore the necessity of haste in passing cars in front of hospitals does not exist. Surely slowing up and following the lines of traffic for the short piece of road fronting hospitals costs no appreciable amount of time. It is extremely important in most cases that the sick obtain rest and sleep, particularly after serious operations. It is much better that this rest and sleep be natural rather than induced by opiates and sedatives.

The expense of determining causes of noise on busy streets in the daytime, when business people are awake and not occupied to be disturbed by street noises, could better be used in enforcing the city's quiet zone ordinance.

Perhaps if persistent unnecessary noise hounds were impounded for a night in jail rooms provided with powerful auto sirens constantly playing in each corner the lesson would sink in so deeply that police supervision over hospitals could soon thereafter be withdrawn and that expense could again apply on the purchase of noise detecting instruments for the benefit of the tired business men up town.

PEGLER FOREVER.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Why does this Jim Clarke believe that Westbrook Pegler's statements concerning Phailing Phil Scott are not well founded? Scott's record, which is certainly not a meritorious one, would clearly indicate that he lacks courage. It is an outrage that a foreigner like Scott, and a fake at that, should be permitted to earn as easily as he does American money and a deserving American kid is told to step aside because "he's too tough." I refer to Tuffy Griffiths, who, I believe, could lick Sharkey seven times a week and make hamburger out of Scott. If Scott claims a foul in the Miami fight Thursday he probably will be tarred and feathered.

PEGLER BOOSTER.

DRAWING A DISTINCTION.

Alliance, Neb., Feb. 28.—All during your reports of the investigation now on before the senate you have referred to the men big enough to go before that committee and express their views as the wets or of the liquor people. Why not refer to them as men working for temperance? Too many people over the country confuse prohibition with temperance, and the liquor interests or the wets with the old saloon. I believe if the people working for the modification or repeal of the 18th amendment could put across the idea that they are really working for temperance they would at once do away with a lot of opposition bred in the minds of people who now confuse the two words.

THE CLASSICS.

Lombard, Ill., Feb. 20.—On Nov. 13 you published a very good editorial on the value of the Greek and Latin classics. That editorial has been reprinted, with appreciative comment, in Latin Notes, a publication of the American Classical league, and in the Classical Journal, published by the Classical Association of the Middle West and South. I should like to add my own appreciation of your giving the classics a square deal.

Doctors Recommend Natural 100% Bran

Over 90% of Physicians' Group Express Preference

Here is the opinion of experts on a problem that is very close to all of us:

Not long ago ten thousand doctors were asked this question: "Do you believe that raw natural 100% bran is the best form of bran for the relief of constipation?"

90% of the answers were "Yes."

This overwhelming preference gives valuable suggestion to all of us who suffer from one of the most troublesome of modern ills—atonic constipation, irregularity resulting from bowel sluggishness. Natural 100% bran gives natural relief. Pillsbury's Bran is natural 100% bran—nothing else. It is the best way to supply the roughage which almost all of us need.

Primitive man had roughage in his daily diet, and had no constipation. Modern man eats soft food, and suffers from constipation—with the resulting pallid cheeks, headaches, sleeplessness, loss of vitality, nervousness, and increased susceptibility to more serious diseases.

To avoid these consequences eat Pillsbury's Bran in some way every day—there is an infinite variety of delightful forms. You can use it to prepare any number of delicious foods in muffins, tea cakes, apple cake, macaroons, doughnuts, etc. You can sprinkle it over salads, or mix it with cereals. You can eat it as it comes from the package, with cream and sugar. No matter how you take Pillsbury's Bran, see that it may be sure you are using the most effective kind—natural 100% bran, recommended by over 90% of these doctors.

3 LA FOLLETTE STATE OFFICIALS FACING REMOVAL

Election Laws Violated, Petition Charges.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—With members of the La Follette faction trying to oust Gov. Walter J. Kohler from office because of alleged election law violations, a counter offensive was launched here today in an effort to remove three state officers who are members of the La Follette group.

A petition asking for the naming of special counsel to start removal proceedings against Lieut. Gov. Henry A. Huber, Attorney General John W. Reynolds and Secretary of State Theodore Dammann was filed with the governor just before he left for a two weeks' vacation in Florida.

The petition was filed by Attorney Randolph R. Conners of Madison. It alleges a number of election law violations in the campaigns of the three officers.

Levitan Free of Charges.

The accusations filed today leave but one constitutional officer not under charges. Neither side has included State Treasurer Solomon Levitan in the charges of illegal campaign methods.

The petition was revealed by Col. W. L. Smith, executive secretary, but there was no intimation how soon Governor Kohler may act on the request.

Court action for the removal of Gov. Kohler is pending in Sheboygan County court. This action was started on complaint of Philip F. La Follette, La Follette faction candidate for governor, and others of this group. The governor appealed to the state Supreme court in this case, contending that the election laws setting limits on campaign costs and providing removal by courts were illegal, but the law was sustained.

Attacks Pooled Fund.

In his petition Mr. Conners points out that the officials he names pooled their funds in the last campaign, charging that this was a conspiracy to bring their filings under the limit of $1,500 each. He also charges that instead of being a legitimate campaign committee, Herman L. Ekern and Samuel Sigman merely acted as representatives of the individual candidates.

These candidates, Mr. Conners said, contributed to a general fund and this was used indiscriminately in behalf of these candidates and others.

Another charge is that Mr. Dammann procured a campaign contribution from Richard H. Lee, New York, including a sum of $5,000 which went to the Milwaukee La Follette Progressive Republican club and that this contribution was not reported.

Paper Widely Circulated.

Mr. Conners also lists the circulation of "Labor" as an illegal campaign aid. He cites that at the printed price of five cents for this paper, the publication of the railroad brotherhoods, the total cost would be $35,937.50, with a $2,000 cost for postage as well as other expenses in distributing. He adds that the candidates did not have the proper authorization attached as required.

AURORA PLEDGES AID TO CHICAGO IN AIR RACE PLAN

Accepts Bid to Join in Midwest Project.

BY ROBERT WOOD.

Aurora will join Chicago and Milwaukee in staging the 1930 national air races here next September. This was learned yesterday when Aurora aviation enthusiasts raised a $5,000 fund for the Chicago Air Race corporation to insure Aurora's representation on the board of directors for the race meet.

An Aurora representative will be chosen to serve on the race corporation board soon, when official announcement that Aurora will take part in the races is expected to be made. An Aurora committee has been tentatively suggested. It includes Clifford R. Trimble, manager of the Central States fair; John H. Livingston, winner of the 1929 Ford reliability tour for airplanes; L. S. Stephens, vice president of the Stevens-Adamson Manufacturing company; Donald P. Frazier, chairman of the chamber of commerce aviation committee; O. D. Larson, formerly head of that committee, and others.

Aurora's guarantee of $5,000 will be added to the $170,000 already subscribed by the directors of the nonprofit company. Of this total the Chicago directors subscribed $165,000.

Aurora is the second city to accept Chicago's invitation to join in making the annual air classic a midwest affair in which twelve other cities in Illinois, Wisconsin, and Indiana will take part. Milwaukee was the first to accept. Other cities which have been invited are Rockford, Elgin, Joliet, Gary, Michigan City, La Porte, South Bend, Racine, Kenosha, and Danville.

IDENTIFIED AS ROBBER.

Clarence Gentile, 23 years old, 10 East Grand avenue, was being held by the Hudson avenue police last night for investigation of several robberies after he had been identified by Edward Wilkins, 1421 North La Salle street, as the man who robbed him of $28 in the New York coffee shop, 2364 Lincoln avenue.

2 AUTO CLUBS PROTEST OPEN BRIDGE DELAYS

Cite Cost of Nuisance to Motor Passengers.

The Chicago Motor club and the Automobile Club of Illinois united yesterday in condemnation of the antiquated bridge regulations governing the busy spans over the downtown bridges. The delays caused motorists by promiscuous openings for inconsequential river craft, said the presidents of both clubs, has resulted in tremendous losses of time and money and is a nuisance.

Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, and Si Mayer, president of the Automobile Club of Illinois, were the protesting officials. They gave their complaints to Attorney Benjamin F. Goldstein, special assistant corporation counsel assigned to the city council bridge committee which is considering proposals for an amended ordinance.

Tells of Club Survey.

Mr. Hayes said a survey by his club in 1929 showed that passengers in vehicular conveyances suffered an economic loss last year of more than $1,800,00 in time lost through bridge openings. Mr. Mayer pointed to the fact that the federal government is urging the expenditure of millions to widen highways and construct new roads and yet has refused to safeguard motorists' rights in the city by insuring them fair access to the bridges.

"Complaints against the bridge openings caused the Chicago Motor club to undertake a survey in 1929 of the estimated amount of time and money lost by bridge openings in the downtown business district," Mr. Hayes said. "We made an extensive survey by count and used all the information available from the various transportation companies operating vehicles in the loop. We found that in 1929 bridge delays between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m., on business days resulted in an economic loss to passengers in these conveyances, including loaded trucks, of more than $1,800,000.

Only Time Losses Counted.

"This did not take into account any possible losses due to the failure of business men to keep appointments or other losses directly. It merely included estimated losses of time based upon an average working man's pay for the particular business pursuit in which we found the passengers were engaged on a typical day. We also found that there is no appreciable drop in traffic between 9:30 and 10 a. m., and from 4 to 4:30 p. m., the periods which the city council wishes to have included in the bridge closed hours."

NAVAL AVIATOR KILLED AS PLANE PLUNGES IN SEA

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Ensign William H. McMullen of the naval reserve, whose home was in Detroit, was killed yesterday in an airplane accident at sea with the battle fleet en route from San Pedro to the Canal Zone.

News of the accident reached the navy department today from Capt. Horne of the aircraft carrier Saratoga.

The dispatch said McMullen's plane dove into the sea near the carrier Lexington, and that his body had not been recovered.

McMullen was born in May, 1908, at Grand Rapids, Mich., and entered the service in 1928. He has been on active duty with the fleet since July, 1928. His next of kin is his father, R. W. McMullen, 859 Edison avenue, Detroit.

SNOW'S FACTION INDORSES REICH FOR BOARD POST

Republican County Chairman Snow announced yesterday that his organization has indorsed Otto F. Reich as its candidate for the presidency of the county board. Reich, a master in chancery, started in the race as an independent backed chiefly by Charles V. Barrett who broke away from a Snow alliance several weeks ago.

Snow also announced that starting tonight Howard P. Savage, candidate for the county treasurership, will address the ward organization meetings of his group. Savage originally was the candidate of the Illinois Republican Service Men's league, but since then has received the Snow indorsement.

The Snow slate is still minus one candidate for county commissioner due to the decision of Robert W. McKinley to run for congressman-at-large instead of for the county board.

I want a HUSBAND

An Honest Statement by an Intelligent But Lonely Young Woman

"I admit that, with all my heart and soul, I want to meet young men. I realize that I am caught in a trap from which I cannot in the conventional way extricate myself. I confess that I am willing to pay any honorable price for a friendship with a man of my own age."

HERE is no sensationalist speaking—but an intelligent, sincere, young woman with good looks in good measure. She is one of the half million girls in this country who are willing to get married—but cannot find suitable men.

And The American Magazine prints her article because it so well lights up one of the darkest, most tragic phases in the life of womankind: LONELINESS. Because, too, it may help to solve your problem—or you may be able to help this girl out of what she well calls a tenacious, if invisible, trap.

This quiet, discerning young woman's statements are certain to start you thinking about one of the hardest problems that life can devise.

What are the contributing factors in her loneliness—or yours? Is she to blame . . . Are you?

This is only one of the stimulating, thought-provoking articles in The American Magazine—a magazine written not merely for you, but of you. In its fascinating fiction, its inspiring articles—men and women face a mirror that reflects their own experience with clear and vivid realism.

Over thirty brilliant features in The American Magazine for March—on sale today. Glance at the list on the right. Note the names of the famous people who are contributors . . . the topics about which they write. You will find something of interest for every member of the family.

Stop at a newsstand. Buy The American Magazine. When you begin to read it you will understand why more than 2,300,000 families look forward to it eagerly every month . . . prefer it to any other magazine and . . . why it is first with ALL the Family.

Some of the 30 other Great Features

IDA TARBELL writes an intensely human article about two people famous throughout America—the late Thomas E. Mitten and his son Arthur Mitten—and how they discovered each other in a bond of courage, clear vision, and understanding of the needs of their fellow men.

BRUCE BARTON tells a story as remarkable as its title, "My Mother's Check Book"—a tale of selflessness and generosity that embraced the world.

INEZ HAYNES IRWIN knows that when two women join forces against one man there is sure to be a story. She tells you what happens in, "Rebound."

The slams bridge partners gave him are the only slams he got! A hilarious groan by H. I. PHILLIPS about the game which, he believes, has become a national pain in the neck.

PETER B. KYNE'S latest serial, "Outlaws of Eden," rolls excitingly against the romantic backdrop of the old West. A tale of feud and love—flavored with the fine art of murder.

What puts 'em over and what puts 'em out! How champions rise and how they fall. Newsy, interesting stories about topnotchers of every sport told by a man who knows them all: W. O. McGEEHAN, nationally famous sports editor.

S. S. VAN DINE baffles Philo Vance with too many clues in his latest, most sensational mystery story, "The Scarab Murder Case" . . . the masterpiece of this king of murder yarns.

Edward VII, Pancho Villa, King Alphonso, flaming Vesuvius . . . people and scenes from practically every country on the globe, pass in review before the camera eye of RUSSELL MUTH, movie-news man and adventurer.

CLARENCE BUDDINGTON KELLAND tells what people do—what you might do—when panic suddenly strikes . . . how men, stated to be made in the image of God, can in an instant cease to be human beings, to become creatures more frightful than any beast.

BOOTH TARKINGTON back—Millions of Penrods grown up since Booth Tarkington wrote his first inimitable story of youth, can chuckle with delight again, for the famous author has come out of semi-retirement with all the old zest for youngsters' tales that made him loved throughout the land. "Being Chairman at the Neck," is the first of his new series. It's in The American Magazine.

When Your Cough Hangs On, Mix This at Home

The best cough remedy that money could buy, can easily be mixed at home. It saves money and gives you the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs and chest colds, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. It's no trouble at all to mix, and when you once use it, you will never be without it. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children really like it.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. At the same time, part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes, and helps the system throw off the whole trouble. Even those severe coughs which follow cold epidemics, are promptly ended.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

BLAMES WORK FOR QUASHING POWER REPORT

Ex-Employe of U. S. Body at Senate Quiz.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—O. C. Merrill, former executive secretary of the federal power commission, testifying before the senate interstate and foreign commerce committee today, placed full responsibility for the suppression of a report showing "gross inflation" of capital accounts by power companies upon former Secretary of the Interior Hubert Work and former Secretary of Agriculture W. M. Jardine.

The report prepared in 1928 for submission to the house appropriations committee was withdrawn, Merrill declared, when the Niagara Falls Power company, one of the utilities involved, carried a protest to Work and Jardine after their fellow member of the power commission, former Secretary of War Dwight Davis, refused to order the report suppressed.

Merrill's attack on F. E. Bonner, his successor as secretary of the commission, was followed a few minutes later by the demand of Senator G. W. Norris [Rep., Neb.] on the senate floor for the immediate dismissal of Bonner, who, it has been charged, has "befriended power companies by deliberately crippling the power commission's operations."

Asks Bonner Ouster.

"Things have reached the point where if there is going to be honest enforcement of the water power act this executive secretary, Bonner, ought to be removed from office," asserted Norris, who reiterated the charge Bonner has sought to prevent an "honest investigation of questionable valuation reports," by his refusal to ask for increased appropriations and an adequate staff.

Merrill revealed, in the course of his testimony, that he resigned the power commission post to become the $15,000 a year chairman of the American committee of the world power conference, an organization financed, he admitted, by the National Electric Light association.

Hoover Was Chairman.

President Hoover, according to Merrill, was honorary chairman of the American committee from 1923 until he became President, and Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, Secretary of Commerce Lamont, Secretary of War Hurley, and Bonner are honorary members.

The American committee's expenses for the next five years, at an estimated average of $50,000 a year, have been guaranteed by the National Electric Light association, which, in turn, according to Merrill, expects to be reimbursed by the Electric Bond and Share company, the General Electric company, the Western Electric company, and a number of New York banks.

Illinois Naval Reserves Move Into New Armory

HOLDING FIRM'S SERVICE PROFITS REPORTED HIGH

Witness Rates Them at 73 Per Cent.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Analyzing the operations of the management company system of control of electric power utilities as demonstrated in the American Gas and Electric company, John H. Bickley, a utility expert of the federal trade commission, testified today that more than 73 cents of every dollar charged to subsidiaries for supervising services during the last thirteen years was clear profit.

Bickley, who was the principal witness placed on the stand thus far in the commission's investigation of utility financing and holding company management, said the ten per cent fee charged for certain engineering and supervising services during one year had paid all the corporate expenses of American Gas and left it a balance nearly equal to the expenses.

Profit of $1,641,260.

In 1928, he testified, the company collected fees totaling $2,228,019 for services which cost only $586,759, making a profit of $1,641,260. In 1917, he added, the Appalachian Electric Power company, one of the subsidiaries, paid in service fees $971,009, or $262,000 more than the cost of services to all subsidiaries.

The following year, he said, the Ohio Power company alone paid $316,392 more than the cost of services to all subsidiaries. The same proportion of profit to cost of services, he said, existed in American Gas from 1917 to 1928.

Charged for Expenses.

In addition, he testified, the subsidiaries were charged annually a proportion of the operating expenses of the holding company. In 1928 this amounted, he said, to $576,400, including $131,473 for salaries of five executives of American Gas who served as officers of all subsidiaries as well.

This sum, he added, was about $8,000 in excess of the salaries actually paid the five men by American Gas. Bonuses of common stock, however, were added to their salaries. Other direct charges also were made to the subsidiaries, Bickley said, but these appeared to have been made at cost.

Bandits Loot and Burn 2 Catholic Missions in China

HANKOW, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Bandits were reported today to have raided and burned Catholic missions at Tsenchinghu and Lachingkow, neighboring towns 120 miles up the Han river from here. The missionaries learned of the bandits' approach and escaped to Shasy, Hupeh.

$100,000,000 MORE A YEAR FOR VETS APPROVED

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—(AP)—The 1924 world war veterans act would be radically amended and $100,000,000 more would be devoted every year to veterans' compensation under the Johnson bill approved today by the house veterans' committee.

The measure combines recommendations of the American Legion, Disabled American Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the veterans' bureau. It would deny the controller general power to reverse a decision of the director of the veterans' bureau, and would provide that proper consideration be given "to lay evidence not of a medical nature" in adjudicating veterans' cases.

Important Point.

A section considered of prime importance provides that every man's disability which existed to a ten per cent degree prior to Jan. 1, 1925, should be presumed to be acquired in service. This would affect approximately 84,000 cases, at a cost of $76,000,000 to the government.

For persons suffering the loss of a foot or hand, the bill would provide $25 a month additional compensation, a clause which would cause a $1,500,000 expenditure the first year of its operation. Veterans' insurance policies would be made incontestible.

Mental Patients.

Other provisions would safeguard the interests of mentally incompetent veterans; assure recreation for hospitalized veterans; liberalize insurance and compensation rules; repeal time limits for filing evidence and claims, and insure proper burial of veterans of all wars.

A flag to drape the casket of every veteran of all wars would be specifically provided for, an item which would cost the government approximately $40,000 the first year for flags to be presented to the next of kin.

SNOOK IN DEATH ROW; SEEK EAR OF CLEMENCY BOARD

Mrs. FRANK BAKER Does All Her Own Work—

has hands lovely as those of a woman with maids

"I use Lux in the Dishpan," she says

LIKE millions of pretty young wives all over the country—Mrs. Frank Baker has discovered such a marvelous way to keep her busy hands lovely! In spite of housework!

"Nearly every woman uses Lux for her fine things," this charming wife said, "but I also use Lux for dishes and every soap and water task in my home.

"That's why I find it easy to do my own work without spoiling the looks of my hands."

Women everywhere are so enthusiastic about the way Lux cherishes the smooth, white beauty of hands that cook and wash dishes.

So many soaps contain harmful alkali which dries up the beautifying oils of the skin, leaving it roughened and reddened. Lux never dries these precious oils . . . the delicately sparkling Lux suds are so bland and gentle they fairly caress your hands into loveliness!

Yet Lux for all your dishes costs less than 1¢ a day!

305 Beauty Shops advise Lux in doing housework, because "Lux gives real beauty care, keeping your hands soft, smooth and white in spite of home duties. In our experience, the hands of a housewife who uses Lux are as lovely as those of the woman of leisure."

MRS. FRANK BAKER'S hands are exquisite, yet she does all her own work in a pretty suburban home.

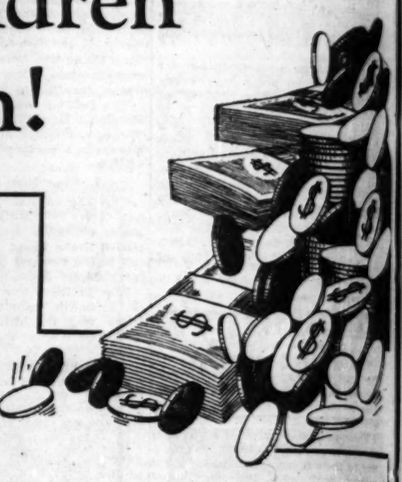

Why not follow her rule—use Lux for dishes and other soap and water tasks? Lux for all your dishes costs less than 1¢ a day!

COUNTY TO GET $2,756,444 AS GAS TAX SHARE

Funds Apportioned by the State.

BY HAL FOUST.

Cook county will receive $2,756,444 in gasoline tax revenue for highway construction this year. The announcement was contained in a formal report of State Director of Finance Kinney yesterday. This is $56,444 more than had been estimated.

The total consists of $1,206,221 from the 1927 collections and $1,550,222 from the 1929 collections. The 1929 money is now available for distribution, to be paid to contractors working for the county as the jobs are approved by the state highway department.

Await Decision in Court.

Distribution of the 1927 money awaits a decision from the Illinois supreme court in a case testing whether the officials could be held liable by fuel companies that have lost suits against the state for recovery of tax paid under the 1927 excise act which was pronounced unconstitutional by the Supreme court.

Mr. Kinney's official report gives $11,659,777 as the gross amount of motor fuel license taxes collected in the last five months of 1929. The amount paid or reserved to be paid for refunds is listed at $250,358 and the administration cost is given as $11,641.

State Takes Two-Thirds.

This leaves $11,394,777 for road work. The state highway department receives two-thirds, or $7,596,518.06. The state also receives the motor license fees, which for 1929 amounted to $17,087,209.

The counties receive the remaining one-third, or $3,798,259.03, in proportion to their motor registrations. Cook county, with 40.8 per cent of the state's automobiles, gets 40.8 per cent of $3,798,259.03, or $1,550,222.47. The allotments to counties near Cook of the 1927 and 1929 collections follow:

	1927.	1929.	Total.
Kane	9,324	11,173	20,498

The counties, under the motor fuel tax act, have the choice of spending their 1 cent a gallon allotments for current construction or to retire road bonds. Cook county has elected to use its gas money to help finance a three year $22,000,000 program prepared by a citizens' committee headed by B. B. Calder. The program includes extensive improvements on through routes within Chicago.

AGREE ON STRICT RULES TO ENFORCE ANTI-SMOKE LAW

A program of strict enforcement of the city's smoke abatement ordinance was agreed upon yesterday at a meeting of the smoke abatement commission, which supervises the work of Frank A. Chambers, chief smoke inspector. Directions were issued by the commission to a subcommittee to draft a set of rules which will be effective in cutting down the smoke nuisance.

Representatives of the building, health, police, law and boiler inspection departments are members of the commission. They named Health Commissioner Kegel as chairman of the body. The results that Chambers had obtained in the year that the smoke bureau has operated independently were approved.

At the meeting Chambers announced that six new smoke suits had been filed. Those named in the court actions are as follows:

PERFECTION BEDDING COMPANY, 2501 West 48th street.

CARL A. ERICKSON, 27 West Ohio street.

A. L. RANDALL, 525 West 76th street.

M. HUBER, steam shovel at 27th street and the Illinois Central.

MADISON REALTY COMPANY, 4258 Drexel boulevard.

LAWNDALE MILK COMPANY, 2238 South Ridgeway avenue.

With the filing of the new suits the smoke department has nine cases pending against Erickson. Two fines of $50 each on violations were given to the Randall company by Judge Arnold Heap last Monday.

CLAIMS CREDIT FOR COOLIDGE'S SHOALS MESSAGE

Gray's Files Assert He Dictated Clause.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Chester Gray, capital lobbyist for the American Farm Bureau federation, it was disclosed to the senate investigating committee today, dictated over the long distance telephone from Chicago that portion of former President Coolidge's message to congress in December, 1927, dealing with the solution of the Muscle Shoals problem.

Anxious for a recommendation that could be interpreted as an administration indorsement of the American Cyanamid company bid for the Muscle Shoals plant, Gray, according to letters and telegrams found in his files, did not hesitate to suggest a drastic revision when he found an advance copy of the message disappointing.

Gray's telegram from Chicago to Mr. Coolidge, protesting against the Muscle Shoals paragraph as a violation of promises to a group of agricultural editors, was acknowledged, according to the former's files, by Edward T. Clark, one of the President's secretaries, and the rest of the story was told in Gray's letter to C. A. Cobb, editor of the Georgia Farm journal.

"At Least a Beautiful Straddle."

"You will be interested," Gray wrote to Cobb, "to know that Secretary Everett Sanders [Mr. Coolidge's private secretary] called me by long distance at Chicago to know how we wanted the message doctored to suit us. The last sentence in the Muscle Shoals paragraph is the result of this long distance conversation."

Even that, according to the letter, was not completely satisfactory, but, Gray continued, "The appended sentence at least made a beautiful straddle out of the Muscle Shoals paragraph."

Further evidence of how Gray and J. W. Worthington, executive director of the Tennessee River Improvement association, counted on the influence of Claudius H. Huston, former president of the Tennessee association and now chairman of the Republican national committee, to win Hoover administration support for the Cyanamid bid was disclosed in a "confidential memorandum" written by Worthington to Gray.

Huston, who is to be examined by the lobby investigators, resigned the presidency of the Tennessee association, an avowed lobby in behalf of the Cyanamid offer, just before he accepted the chairmanship of the Republican national committee. Worthington, according to the memorandum, shortly after Mr. Hoover's election urged Gray to "contact" with Huston.

Rejected by Hoover.

The latter, Worthington said, would introduce Gray to Horace Mann, who managed the Hoover campaign in southern states, and others close to Mr. Hoover, including the President's secretaries, George Akerson and Lawrence Richey. "Between them Mr. Hoover could be induced," the memorandum suggested, "to call on Mr. Fort and other friends in the house. Get Fort to call on the leaders, especially Longworth, Tilson, and Snell—you will get results."

Gray stubbornly insisted that none of the suggestions were followed, and he ruefully admitted that Mr. Hoover has even refused to discuss Muscle Shoals with him because, as Gray explained it, the President believes Gray was responsible for the flood of telegrams and letters which poured in upon the White House urging indorsement of the Cyanamid proposal.

Charged with Laziness—

Guilty Simply of Acidity!

More than one man today is misjudged and unjustly penalized because of a not understood physical condition rather than any lack of willingness or ability.

So many of us are only half ourselves, only fifty per cent efficient, because we are victims of an insidious condition of acidity! That persistent tired feeling—that clouded mind—that lack of dash and fire—that missing punch that decides so many situations in business—are all usually due to an acid system.

Acidity is brought on by our unnatural eating, excessive smoking and irregular hours. It impairs digestion, and causes fermentation and putrefaction in the intestines and drags us down physically and mentally.

A remarkable new corrective of acidity has been developed by a famous 100-year old pharmaceutical house in Germany.

This new, improved magnesia comes in the form of small white tablets called Magnesia Oxoids which do not have to be chewed, but may be swallowed whole.

Magnesia Oxoids, upon contact with the acid in the stomach, generate nascent, or active, oxygen. Now, active oxygen, as any doctor will tell you, when generated within the digestive tract does just the things required for acidity. It stimulates the secretion of the alkaline mucus. It checks the putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro-intestinal canal. It exercises a stimulating effect upon the activities of the intestinal walls and aids the movement of the bowels.

All three effects are necessary to the true relief of acidity and Magnesia Oxoids supply them in a perfectly natural manner.

5-Day Acidity Test

See for yourself how much acid has to do with your run-down condition and that persistent feeling of tiredness. Make this 5-day acid test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxoids from Walgreen's Drug Stores and Economical Drug Stores or any other druggist on our money-back guarantee. Take two after each meal for five days. Note the pick-up in your pep and vigor. Mark the new peace of your stomach and nerves. If five days' test doesn't show you a decided improvement in your health, return the balance of the Oxoids to your druggist and he will refund your money.

CARDINAL MERRY DEL VAL TAKEN BY DEATH AT 64

Spanish Prelate's End Comes After Operation.

BY ROBERT SAGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 26.—A few hours after the burial of the late Carlo Cardinal Perosi the Vatican was shocked this afternoon by the news of the sudden death, after undergoing an operation for appendicitis, of the eminent Spanish cardinal, Raphael Cardinal Merry del Val, who, although 64 years of age, had been in perfect health until yesterday.

The cardinal, who was the pontifical secretary of state from 1903 until 1914, fell ill yesterday afternoon, his condition becoming worse during the night. This afternoon he was operated on for appendicitis by the famous surgeon, Prof. Giuseppe Bastianelli, and passed away a short time after leaving the operating table.

Came of Noble Spanish Stock.

He was one of the few foreigners ever named as pontifical secretary of state. He was born in London in 1865. His father, a Spanish nobleman, was at the time Spanish ambassador to England. The same post is at present held by the late cardinal's brother, Alfonso.

During his lifetime the cardinal was prominently identified with the intransigeant party which upheld the church's right for temporal power. At the time of his death he was archpriest of the Vatican basilica and secretary of the congregation of the holy office. Only last Sunday he baptized the daughter of the pope's niece.

The late cardinal was educated at a Jesuit college in Brussels and became private tutor to King Alfonso XII. He entered the priesthood at the age of 24, when his father was named envoy to the holy see.

In 1896 he was made legate to Canada and made a survey and report on the demands of the Manitoba bishops for separate Catholic schools.

A great linguist and statesman, the late cardinal, like the present pope, was an ardent mountaineer, and used to spend most of his vacations scaling Alpine peaks. His death reduces the college of cardinals to 28 Italians and 30 foreigners. The full college numbers 70.

Failed to Get Papacy.

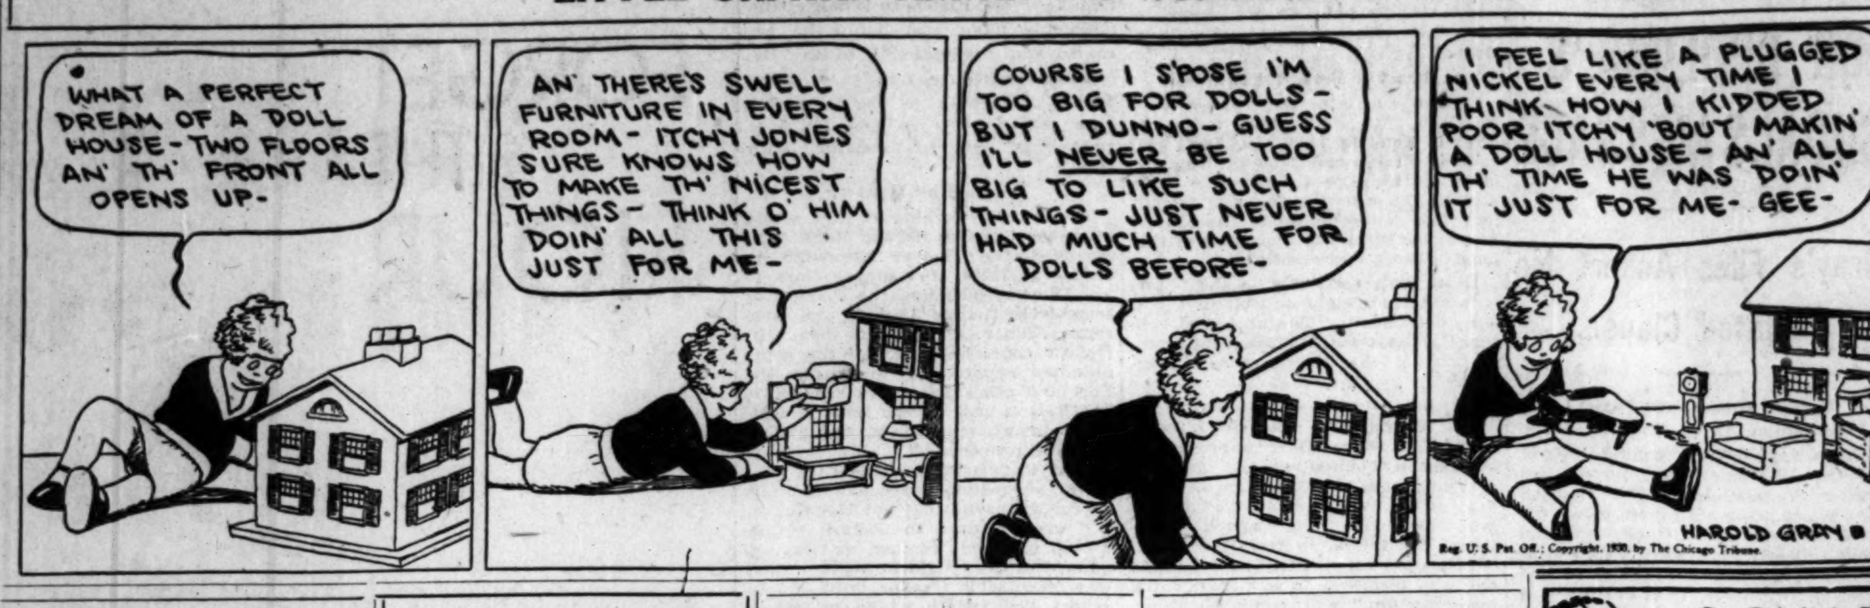

Cardinal Merry del Val twice failed to obtain the two-thirds vote of the college of cardinals to become pope. On each occasion, in 1903 and in 1914, he was touted as a possibility as the first non-Italian pope in four centuries.

Today's funeral of Cardinal Perosi was the first to be held with ancient pomp and splendor since 1870, when the Vatican lost its temporal power. The absolution of Cardinal Perosi's body was given by the venerable Cardinal Vanutelli, 94 year old dean of the sacred college of cardinals and the last survivor of the court of Pius IX. He was also papal delegate to the coronation of Czar Alexander III. of Russia.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: The Wee House

Radio Evening Just Another Night to Elmer

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

There were not many radio programs last evening that commanded more than passing attention.

It may be observed, however, that the New York concert through W-G-N, 7:30 to 8, was unusual, being wholly a Rubinstein and Kreisler program, and that the Kreisler numbers were not violin but vocal solos. James Melton, well known radio tenor, was the vocal soloist. The orchestra was under the direction of Nathaniel Shilkret.

The Chicago Concert company and soloists presented an excellent program from WLS, 8 to 8:30.

The Whitney instrumental trio played Beethoven's First trio, WMAQ, 9:30 to 10. It is announced that these players will follow with the entire list of Beethoven's trios.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 26.—Sir Alfred Downing Fripp, surgeon in ordinary to King George and founder of the ancient order of Froth Blowers, died at his home in Lulworth Cove last night at the age of 64. It is said that at the height of his activity he performed 1,000 major operations in a single year. He was also known as a philanthropist.

Sir Alfred's connection with the royal household began with a rare stroke of luck when he was only 28. The duke of Clarence, who was then at York, dislocated his ankle. Six local doctors were called but only Sir Alfred happened to be in. His skill made such an impression that he was retained in the royal service as surgeon in ordinary.

Sir Alfred was most ingenious in raising money for charitable purposes. His most celebrated effort was the formation of the Ancient Order of Froth Blowers about four years ago. This joyously named institution, of which Sir Alfred was the grand typhoon or alternatively Froth Blower No. 1, grew to immense proportions and became a corporation for the purpose of collecting money for various charities. Despite the bibulous title the numbers among the members has reached 10,000 teetotalers.

DR. J. F. TUITT, NOTED ROCKFORD MEDICO, DIES

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Dr. John F. Tuitt, 65, president last year of the Illinois State Medical association, died tonight at his home here of a complication of bladder diseases. He had been in ill health for about a year but had been active up to two weeks ago. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Dr. Tuitt is survived by his wife and a daughter, Margaret, and a son, Dr. John F. Tuitt Jr.

Dr. Tuitt was born in Clark county, O., July 20, 1864. He was graduated from St. Ignatius college, Chicago, in 1887, and went to Rush Medical college, now part of the University of Chicago. A year later, however, he was ordered to rest for his health and he went to San Antonio, Tex., where he became interested in the shoe business.

In 1892 he came to Rockford, where he started a shoe factory. His medical ambition remained, however, and he returned to Rush college, from which he graduated in 1900. He began the practice of medicine here the same year.

In 1889 Dr. Tuitt married Frances Schmauss of Rockford. She died in 1900, leaving him with a son and daughter. In 1908 he married Helen Emma McSweeney of Rockford.

Besides his membership and office in the state association Dr. Tuitt was also a member of the American College of Surgeons.

TELL MAYWOOD DEPOSITORS OF COLLECTION PLAN

Details of plans to protect depositors of the People's State bank of Maywood, which was left with a shortage of approximately $173,000 by the defalcations of its president, Elmer P. Langguth, were outlined to 600 depositors last night by James Lally, chairman of their committee. The committee decided at its meeting, held in the Irving school at Maywood, to retain an attorney to protect the depositors' interests and to ask that the depositors' choice for receiver of the bank be appointed.

Lally said that the $100,000 stock issue of the bank will be cancelled and that at least $25,000 of Langguth's $50,000 bond will be collected. All of the bank's physical assets will be sold, he said, and stockholders, who are liable for 100 per cent of their holdings, will be assessed for the balance of the deficit.

Hold Final Services for Eugene Byfield, Sportsman

Funeral services for Eugene Byfield, vice president of the Hotel Sherman company and sportsman, were conducted yesterday at Rosehill chapel by Rabbi Louis L. Mann of Sinai temple. Hundreds of friends passed by the bier, which was banked with floral tributes from all over the country. The casket was placed in a temporary crypt in the chapel. Mr. Byfield died on Monday of injuries received in a practice polo match.

ADOLPH LARSON, ONCE POLITICAL LEADER, IS DEAD

Adolph Larson, 72 years old, twice alderman of the old 28th ward, died yesterday at Los Angeles, where he had lived for the last ten years. Mr. Larson, who was born in Norway, came to Chicago as a young man and lived here 40 years.

He was engaged in the real estate and building construction businesses here and was active in Republican politics for many years, as head of the Norwegian Republican club. He was president, for a time, of the Norwegian Lutheran Deaconess hospital in Chicago.

In Los Angeles he continued his church activities, being one of the founders of the California Lutheran Hospital association. He is survived by one son and two daughters.

HAVE KIDNEYS EXAMINED BY YOUR DOCTOR

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headaches, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

CONGRESS GETS BILL TO STUDY UNIVERSAL DRAFT

Legion Backs Proposed Legislation.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Creation of a commission of eighteen cabinet members, congressmen, and industrial leaders to study the feasibility of enacting universal draft legislation in peace time is called for in joint resolutions introduced in congress today. Senator J. R. Grundy [Rep., Pa.] introduced the resolution in the senate in behalf of his colleague, Senator David A. Reed [Rep., Pa.], now absent in London at the naval conference. Chairman B. H. Snell [Rep., N. Y.] of the rules committee introduced the house resolution.

Under the terms of the resolutions the commission would "study and consider the feasibility of equalizing the burdens and to minimize the profits of war, together with a study of policies to be pursued in event of war, so as to empower the President immediately to mobilize all the resources of the country."

Not Later Than 1932.

The resolution would direct that the commission report definite recommendations on the universal draft question to the President not later than the first Monday in January, 1932.

The American Legion, as well as the war department, is supporting the passage of the investigating resolution. The Legion would have preferred the Wainwright resolution, introduced earlier in the session, but is now back of the Reed-Snell measure. The Wainwright resolution would have made it mandatory for the investigating commission to draft legislation empowering the President immediately to mobilize all the resources of the country in event of war and transmit it to the President.

The Commission.

The commission would be composed of four members of the senate, four representatives, the secretary of war, the secretary of the navy, the secretary of agriculture, secretary of labor and five other persons selected with a view to represent in a general way the views of labor, industry, capital, agriculture and the professions.

Approval of the plan to appoint an investigating commission by Chairman Snell makes it virtually certain the measure will be reported favorably to the house.

RETIRED FARMER, 63, AND WOMAN ACCUSED OF KILLING HER MATE

Anamoosa, Ia., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Albert Hartwig, 63, wealthy retired farmer, is in jail here, charged with murder, and Mrs. Edward Miner, 37, is in a local hospital in a serious condition as the aftermath to an attempt to commit suicide. A charge of murder also has been filed against Mrs. Miner. She is accused of feeding her husband the strychnine which caused his death yesterday.

Mrs. Miner's attempt to kill herself last night was frustrated by prompt action of Dr. H. O. Young. She denies the murder charge but County Attorney Clifford Paul has possession of two letters which, he says, clinch the evidence against both her and Hartwig.

Hartwig, who denies all knowledge of the poisoning, admits that he purchased the drug at a drug store in Olin on Feb. 20 at the request of Mrs. Miner.

Miner died yesterday afternoon shortly after eating some sauerkraut. The county attorney says strychnine was found in the kraut.

Friends of Miner at Olin say Hartwig and Mrs. Miner have been intimate for several months. Hartwig is wealthy and is a widower.

TILDEN AGAIN HEADS MICHIGAN AVE. MERCHANTS

Henry C. Tilden, president of Spaulding-Gorham, Inc., yesterday was re-elected president of the Michigan Avenue association for his third successive term. Other officers elected are J. E. Bistor, vice president; Aldis J. Browne, treasurer, and Grant Strathern, executive secretary.

HENRY C. TILDEN. [Moffett Photo.]

Mr. Tilden urged the creation of a special police patrol to guard specialty shops from organized gangs of shoplifters, who preyed heavily on Michigan avenue merchants during 1929. He reviewed the activities of the association for the last year, which, he said, have made Michigan avenue one of the most celebrated shopping thoroughfares in the world.

GROCER ROBBED OF $183.

Sister Superior Dies on Errand of Rescue.

THE PAS, Man., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Reports of a schoolhouse fire yesterday in which eight children and a nun lost their lives was brought to The Pas today by a man who had driven 55 miles through the bitter cold from the isolated outpost of Cross Lake.

Sister Superior Margaret of Mary lost her life in a vain attempt to lead the children—girl pupils of the Cross Lake Indian school, none of whom was more than 9 years old—to safety. Sister Jeanne Deschantel, trying to escape the flames, leaped from the second floor and suffered a fractured spine.

Sending Rescue Plane.

Plans were made immediately to send an airplane from The Pas to take medical supplies to the settlement and to bring the injured nun back to civilization. Bishop Ovide Charlebois was to accompany the rescue party.

It was believed the fire started on the third floor of the wing in which the Indian girls who perished were housed, but its cause was not definitely learned. The building, a three story brick structure, was erected in 1914 and an addition was built in 1920. Bishop Charlebois estimated the loss would aggregate $20,000.

Sister Margaret, an Oblate Sister of St. Boniface, went to Cross Lake in 1914 and was there until 1920. She was stationed in Quebec for three years. Then, on her return to the school in 1923, she became sister superior.

Fire Destroys Church.

THREE RIVERS, Que., Feb. 26.—(AP)—The Catholic Church of the Sacred Heart at Baie De Shawinigan was destroyed by fire today with a loss of $50,000. Father D. Grenier vainly attempted to save the host. The church was of wooden construction.

40 QUAKES ROCK THREE TOWNS IN CALIFORNIA AREA

Imperial Valley Visitors Are Panic Stricken.

Brawley, Cal., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Nearly forty earthquake shocks, the greatest number recorded here at one time in more than a decade, rocked Imperial valley between 3:30 p. m. yesterday and 9:15 a. m. today.

Buildings in Brawley, Westmoreland, and Calipatria were damaged. The largest loss occurred at Westmoreland. No casualties were reported.

Visitors to the valley became panic stricken. Many refused to sleep in their hotel rooms and remained up all night, pacing the lobbies and patios.

Four Major Shocks.

There were four major shocks, the first at 3:30 p. m. yesterday, followed by three others at 7:23 p. m., 8:04 p. m., and 11:29 p. m. Not since 1915, valley residents recalled, has there been such a recurrence of earthquakes in the period of a few hours.

H. H. Griffin of Brawley said that while riding eleven miles northwest of the city today he saw spouts of hot and cold water shooting from the ground. The hot water was indicated by steam.

Highways Are Flooded.

It was assumed that the shocks had split the earth deeply, breaking underground reservoirs of water. On some highways it was necessary to detour.

The principal intensity of the shocks centered at Westmoreland. Part of a pharmacy was wrecked, with a loss estimated at $800. Other buildings there and in Brawley and Calipatria were cracked, plaster broken, dishes smashed, and some windows shattered. Near Westmoreland several adobe huts of Mexicans were shaken down. The occupants escaped uninjured.

Seismologists said the earthquakes were felt only in the valley.

MOTHER, CHILD AND 'OTHER MAN' KILLED IN CRASH

A woman and her year old daughter were killed yesterday with a man for whom she had left her husband, when the automobile in which all three were riding was struck by a westbound Rock Island train at the Bush road crossing five miles west of Joliet. The woman was Mrs. Mary Delaney, 28 years old, of Joliet, and the daughter was Joyce Delaney. Her companion was George Keressi, 35 years old, also of Joliet.

Keressi was driving south on Bush road. He failed to see the train and drove onto the crossing. The machine was demolished. Ernest Delaney, husband of the dead woman, said he had separated from his wife two weeks ago when she refused to discontinue her affair with Keressi.

Two deaths yesterday raised the 1930 Cook county motor toll to 130. The victims:

Rose Sartino, 18 years old, 757 South State street. Died in St. Luke's hospital of injuries received Monday when she was struck by a truck at 7th and State streets.

Patricia Latham, 3 years old, 8015 Perry avenue. Died at the Auburn Park hospital of injuries received on Feb. 20, when she was struck in front of her home by an automobile driven by Stanley Allen, 7916 Perry avenue.

A jury in Circuit Judge Theodore Forby's court awarded Miss Evelyn Hill, 25 years old, 3553 Narragansett avenue, $15,000 in her suit against the United Taxi Cab Association, Inc., for auto injuries.

After striking him and breaking both his legs, two motorists drove John McDonald, 46 years old, 805 South State street, to St. Luke's hospital where they threw him out and drove away.

Policeman Shoots Self in Fight with Bandit

Policeman John Malloy, 42 years old, of the Town Hall station, last night was recovering at his home at 2612 Blaine place from a bullet wound in his left hand. He shot himself yesterday in a struggle with a Negro bandit. Malloy saw the Negro run from a tailor shop at Clarendon avenue and Buena avenue, and captured him after a short chase. As he was leading the prisoner to a patrol box the Negro broke away and Malloy shot himself in the fight which followed. The bandit escaped.

LABOR LEADER, SHOT BY GANG, DIES OF WOUNDS

Michael Manning, East Chicago labor leader, who was shot by gangsters last Friday as he was waiting for a street car near his home, died yesterday of his wounds at St. Catherine's hospital in Gary.

Although the police attribute the shooting to labor troubles, Manning, who was formerly business agent of the East Chicago teamsters' union, refused to name his assailants. He returned their fire, shooting at the gangsters as they sped away in an automobile.

Father Opens Court Fight for Custody of Girl

George Babbitt, 3033 East 79th street, filed a petition yesterday for a writ of habeas corpus in the Circuit court to win the custody of his 8 year old daughter, Florence, from his mother, Mrs. Nellie Babbitt, 8118 Muskegon avenue. The writ was made returnable today by Circuit Judge Klarkowski, when it was presented to him by Attorney William C. Henry.

ALL-RED LIGHTS WILL PROTECT N. Y. WALKERS

New York, Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Revolutionary changes in the New York system of control by signal lights by which an intermediate all-red period will be provided for the protection of pedestrians were outlined before the board of estimate by Acting Police Commissioner Philip D. Hoyt today.

The police plan, he asserted, would provide an intermediate system whereby the familiar green "go" signal would be followed by a period in which lights would show "red" in all directions.

The exact time during which the red signal will shine, he added, will not be determined until the new system is installed, but it will be made as short or as long as necessary to protect both the pedestrian and motorist.

To put the new plan in operation it will be necessary to readjust completely the existing cable control system, and the department asked an appropriation of $500,000 to carry on the work.

OBVIOUSLY we cannot answer that question without knowing you.

It is quite possible that your present production and distributive plan is yielding the highest net you can reasonably expect.

On the other hand, it may be that your profit margin is being constantly narrowed by the rising cost of reaching distant buyers.

But of this we are certain—that hundreds of companies who are today facing glaring inconsistencies between income and outgo, can find in Louisville basic economies in distribution which in themselves would mean a substantial increase in profits.

GOLDEN GLOVES HEAVIES DEAL K. O. PUNCHES

SCOTT, SHARKEY FIGHT TONIGHT; 30,000 SEATS UNSOLD

GARDEN'S HIGH PRESSURE PRESS AGENTS FOILED

Fight Facts

PRINCIPALS—Jack Sharkey of Boston, generally recognized American heavyweight champion, and Phil Scott, British champion, in a 15 round match to a referee's decision, the winner to meet Max Schmeling in New York in June for "world's championship."

PRELIMINARIES—Jimmy Maloney, Boston, and Moise Bouquillon, France, ten rounds; Bill Daring, Palm Beach, Fla., and Ilasi Bianchi, Argentina, six rounds; Vicente Campolo, Argentina, and Johnny Risko, Cleveland, ten rounds; Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia, and Pierre Charles, Belgium, ten rounds, who will fight after the main event.

TIME—First preliminary at 7:15 p. m., central standard time; Campolo-Risko, about 8:15 p. m.; Sharkey-Scott about 9 p. m.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Miami, Fla., Feb. 26.—It might be well to pause amid the hilarious comedy of the forced ballyhoo for a commonplace prize fight to state the issue again. Jack Sharkey of Boston, a family man now, who once served time in the United States navy, will fight Philip Scott, born Suffling, of London, a veteran of the royal marine light infantry and the London police and fire departments, 15 rounds or less to a decision under the management of the Madison Square Garden corporation, Miami branch, tomorrow evening.

In Florida, the American Legion has a monopoly on the prize fighting industry, but in this case the Harvey Seeds post of Miami virtually has turned its local franchise over to the Garden firm and will participate in the profits, if any, while assuming none of the risks and only a nominal share of the responsibility and effort. The box office sales have not been brisk at any time, and the receipts thus far are presumed to be comparatively light, although the returns from the outlying precincts of Palm Beach and other loafing places of the elegant vagrants of American society have yet to be revealed and may show a profit for the Garden corporation.

30,000 Seats Unsold.

There are about 30,000 seats to be disposed of at open sale tomorrow afternoon and evening at $5.40 each, these for the working class natives or other more or less permanent residents of the region. The arena holds 32,000.

In the semi-final bout of ten rounds, which will be withheld until after the main event to detain some of the customers in their seats and thus avoid jamming at the exits, Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia late champion of the world at 175 pounds, will meet a huge, lymphatic Belgian named Pierre Charles, who was imported to this country three or four years ago by Gus Wilson, one time trainer of Georges Carpentier.

Loughran is a good prize fighter, weighing about 180 pounds, but only a light hitter, and the only question in this match seems to be whether Loughran can punch hard enough to knock the Belgian unconscious or mutilate him beyond public toleration. Charles weighs about 205 pounds, and the only credits in his record consist of laborious victories, per referees' decisions, over a roster of nobodies almost as obscure and pathetic as the recent victims of Primo Carnera.

Risko Opposes Campolo.

Just before the so-called main event between Sharkey and Scott, nee Suffling, Johnny Risko will fight Victorio Campolo, a 230 pound Argentine who stands about six feet six inches, topping even Carnera, ten rounds at most. Risko recently was denied permission to fight any formidable men in the New York jurisdiction on the ground that he had been beaten too badly too many times and was no longer fit to give a decent account of himself.

The motives which animate prize fight commissioners, with their squalid political agreements and obligations, seemed to have had some purpose not visible to the naked eye, perhaps to punish some disrespectful subject through Risko, or perhaps to spare some favored fight manager's prize fighter the risk of meeting him.

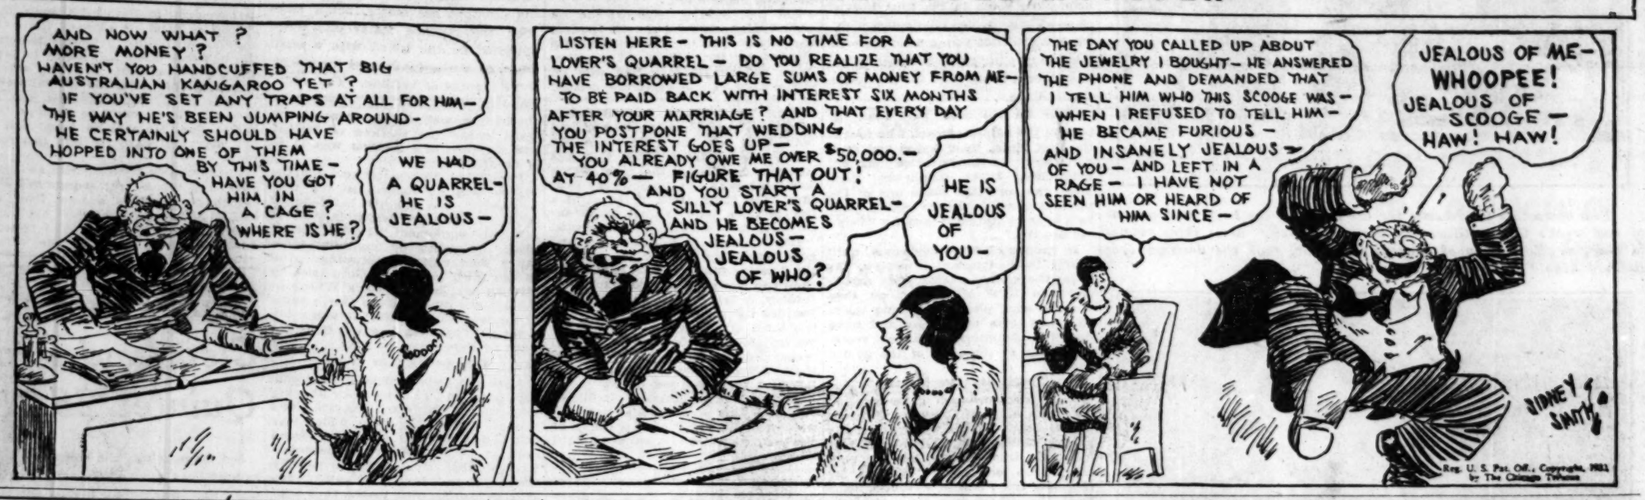

At any rate, he was barred from serious business in New York, notwithstanding past victories over Sharkey and Scott, and the Garden corporation misled perhaps, by the commission's gloomy report on him, recklessly matched him with Campolo, who is a house fighter serving the Garden firm on a retainer. The object is to provide Campolo an opponent with a fine record who has been falling rapidly, but if Risko should beat Campolo the loss to the firm would be considerable, because it is the present plan to present Campolo against Carnera at the Polo grounds in the summer and draw $750,000 or more.

Maloney, Frenchman Paired.

In the match before Risko and Campolo, Jimmy Maloney of Boston, who once gave promise, but soon began to cultivate the horizontal

COME TO BLOWS TONIGHT

Phil Scott, England's candidate for the world's heavyweight title, spars to relieve "the day before" tension. The Briton steps into the ring with Jack Sharkey at Miami tonight in an effort to prove that he is the leading contender for the crown Gene Tunney renounced.

Purple Cagers Fall Before Purdue, 29-16

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Purdue advanced another step toward the conference basketball championship tonight by overwhelming Northwestern, 29 to 16, for its seventh straight Big Ten victory. Johnny Wooden, with his devastating low dribble, and big Stretch Murphy, with his effective arms, were too much for the stout Purple defense, taking the ball from their clever feeding mates after passes had cleared the way to the basket.

Wooden, who sunk six baskets in the final period, was the high point man of the evening, while Murphy was close behind with three field goals and four free throws for a total of ten points. Rut Walter, Murphy's center opponent since the days the boys started playing against each other as the stars of the Kokomo and Marion, Ind., high schools respectively, kept Northwestern in the running by sinking four field goals. Two Chains Plan Broadcast of Sharkey Bout

New York, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Despite the refusal of Madison Square Garden corporation to permit a broadcast of the Jack Sharkey-Phil Scott fight card from the ringside at Miami, Fla., tomorrow night, a growing list of stations planned tonight to bring the fight faithful of the nation within hearing distance of the fisticuffing.

The Associated Press description from the ringside will be broadcast by member papers through stations in at least twelve cities and special wires will carry reports to two other stations, including WABC in New York, which will relay the description over the Columbia broadcasting system.

Jack Sharkey, who, in the opinion of boxing experts, will eliminate Scott tonight and move a step closer to the heavyweight crown.

EXTRA! EXTRA! SHIRES AVOIDS A NEWSPAPER MAN

Slips Into San Antonio—And Out Again.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 26.—A sincere effort has been made in the White Sox camp to forget about the Great Shires until such time as he dons a Sox uniform and sets forth on his 1930 baseball labors. But what is one to do when the young man is reported right here in town, but incog?

C. Arthur took the eight column headlines away from the Sharkey-Scott tableau in the San Antonio newspapers today and otherwise caused great excitement when it became known that he spent last night here, en route to Harlingen, Tex., where he is to be guest of honor at a banquet tonight.

Shires shunned the White Sox headquarters at the Gunter hotel here and is reported to have spent twelve hours in town the guest of his brother, Len, a resident of San Antonio.

Hides Behind Mustache.

The ballplayer-pug is said to have dressed like a movie director during his stay here. He wore riding boots, chocolate colored breeches, a loose weave norfolk and a fedora with a drooping brim. Last night he had on a blonde, waxed mustache but failed to put it on again this morning.

We believe we could have penetrated the disguise—mustache or no mustache—had we been given opportunity to focus our eyes on the youth. We got up at 7 o'clock this morning and by noon had hidden for a time in every nook and cranny of every hotel lobby in the city. We saw hundreds of pairs of riding boots but not with Arthur Shires' feet in 'em.

Brother Len wasn't so elusive, however. He admitted that Art had been here and had not communicated with any one connected with the Sox. He said further: "Art has made clear his stand with the White Sox over a contract and he hasn't any cause to discuss the matter further."

Manager Donie Bush now has all his tardy battery men in camp. Dutch Henry, the last of the laggards, waddled into town early this morning and participated in the workout this afternoon.

Another Rookie Arrives.

The day also saw the arrival of the first of the second squad hired hands. George Blackerby breezed in from Wichita Falls, Tex. Last year George batted .365 in the Texas league and led the organization in total bases, with 273, and in homers, with 33. George played with the Sox for a time, after a similar record in the Texas league, but somehow or other couldn't get started, either at the plate or afield.

Manager Bush called on the press representatives after today's workout. "Say something nice about the at-

Kid Irish Forced Out of Meet by Injured Thumb

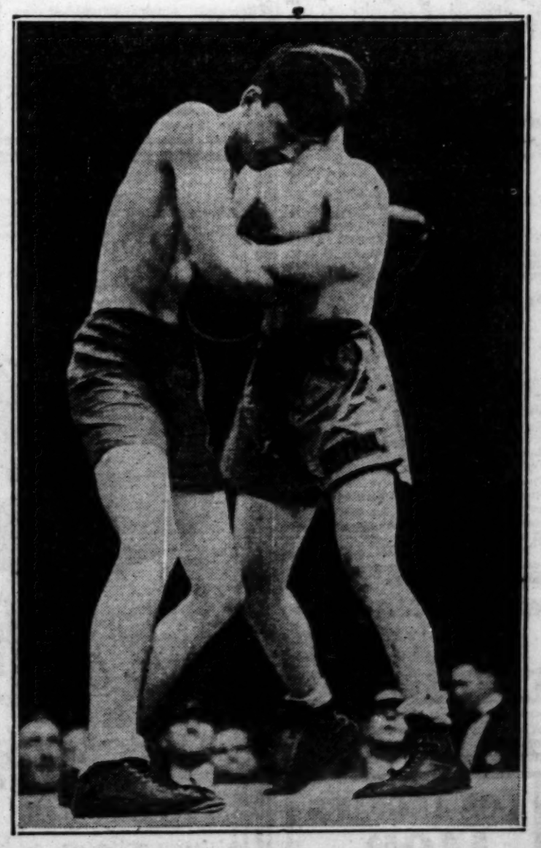

Smiling "Kid Irish" Chiolero, featherweight battler on the Springfield Golden Gloves team, who won hard fought bouts against William Capitano of Kid Howard's gymnasium, and Melvin Mullin of Highland Park on the opening night, will be unable to compete in the semi-finals tonight because of a fractured thumb on his left hand.

Although the Sawyerville lad received the injury in the fourth round of his battle with Capitano, he came back to beat Mullin while using but one hand. Physicians say that it will be at least two weeks before Chiolero will be able to take the ring again.

WITH VICTORY IN THE BALANCE

Bud Borelli (left) makes a game but futile stand against Eddie Vack of Lawndale gymnasium. Eddie stopped the De Paul university middleweight in the first round.

Lake Placid Approved as 1932 Winter Olympics Site

OSLO, Norway, Feb. 26.—The international ski congress concluded here tonight. Among the important resolutions this congress passed was the acceptance of the American invitation to hold the Olympic winter games at Lake Placid, N. Y., in 1932. A committee was appointed to proceed to Lake Placid a fortnight before the games to attend to technical arrangements.

British Auto Racer Sails; Seeks Record in Florida

LONDON, Feb. 26.—Kaye Don, English speed car racer, left Southampton today for Florida aboard the Berengaria. Along with him went a 4,000 horsepower motor car, the Silver Bullet, with which he hopes to beat Sir H. O. D. Seagrave's 232 mile an hour record. He will make the trial at Daytona Beach. The designers believe the car is capable of 245 miles an hour.

Puncher and Boxer—That's Isaiah Gaynor

BY HARLAND ROHM.

Puncher usually beats the boxer, but the boxer with the punch last night was illustrated by Isaiah Gaynor, Rockford Negro. Charles Zak of Chicago came out swinging like a wild man, which puzzled Gaynor for a minute and, then, Gaynor smothered his swings, jolting him with a two handed attack. Gaynor won on a technical knockout.

The crowd doesn't like anything but a stand up fighter. Henry Madeksho drew some mild booing for hiding his head in his gloves on defense, though he won by a knockout. The only semblance of a foul in the two days' fighting came in this bout, Madeksho letting go one that drew a warning as he came out of his defensive crouch.

Edward Strobel of Ransom, Ill., learned it doesn't pay to cut corners too close. In his fight with Joe Fett of Chicago Strobel went down. The Ransom fighter tried to play it smart and take the full count. He did. He could have got up at the count but he didn't, so the judges had no recourse but to give the fight to Fett on a knockout.

John Sokil and John Lahti tried to scare each other with vicious faces but they backed up the faces with a lot of punches. Lahti is almost a twin of George Trafton in build with a loose, hanging arm style of fighting, but Sokil had too much boxing skill for him, winning by a technical knockout in the third round.

Bill Pike of Chicago and Sheldon Wallace of South Whitley, Ind., were almost twins in size, build, appearance, coloring, black trunks and almost fighting ability. Pike was a little too good and won the decision in his second bout of the night.

NOTICE TO BOXERS.

The first semi-final rounds of The Tribune's third annual Golden Gloves amateur boxing tournament will be held at the Coliseum tonight. Qualifiers in all classes must report not later than 6 o'clock to be examined. No second weighing is necessary. Drawings will be made at 6:30 o'clock and the first bout will start promptly at 7 o'clock.

BUTCH GREEN GIVES URBAN DREAM POTION

Taxicab Chauffeur Repeats Trick.

BY DON MAXWELL.

Heavies stood and heavies crashed last night in the second round of the Golden Gloves tournament. Thousands stamped their feet, whistled, and shouted as the big fellows from Chicago and Chicagoland socked and stumbled, and stumbled and socked their way to victory.

The crowd made lots of noise. But the loudest racket last night was the thudding of Buzz Green's fists against the ribs and chin of Joseph Urban. Buzz came to Chicago from Davenport, heralded as a butcher boy with the kick of a mule in either fist. Butch looked last night as if his press agents hadn't told the half of it.

Fortney Does His Stuff.

He came out of his corner like the proverbial wildman. But adage would indicate that the wildman lacked skill. Buzz was wild and skillful, too. He had Urban out before the bell rang for the end of the first round.

Just as Buzz stood out among the hinterland heavies, so did Grant Fortney, taxicab driver, from South Chicago, loom head and shoulders above most of his brother behemoths. Fortney also carried sleeping powders in his gloves and administered them in potent doses to James Davidson, rough and tumble fighter, wearing the banner of Vincennes.

Fortney ought to be able to lick a quartet of holdup men single handed.

Tonight's Semi-Final Night.

Fifty-one bouts were staged last night in record breaking time. Six knockouts in the first six bouts of the 160 pound class elimination comprised the appetizer served the thousands who arrived on time. The six consecutive knockouts were only a sample of what was to come. There were as many knockouts as on the opening night—maybe more. Read the summaries and count 'em if you doubt it.

The crowd last night was bigger than that which saw the inaugural program. Tonight the Coliseum should be packed to watch and cheer as the boys who have come through thus far battle in the semi-finals of all the classes. Then tomorrow night the climax—battles to decide the championships. Golden Gloves, in miniature, and membership on the Chicago team which meets the representatives of New York on March 19 in the Chicago Stadium, are the plums for which the young knights of the fistic realm are striving.

Baker Boy Falls.

While the butcher boy from Davenport was fighting up to the expectations of his backers, Springfield's baker boy, Anton Boutoski, was finding the path to fame too rough. He won his first fight, but lost his second in the heavyweight class to Arne Anderson, a puncher who learned his punches training with the Swedish-American Athletic club.

Purdue's football player, Sigmund Grecius, whose home is in Chicago's environs, learned in the first round of his fight with Rowe Zehms of the Belle Plaine A. C. that there are rougher sports than the gridiron. Sigmund went down under a hot barrage in the first round.

Dynamite Punches Show Up.

There wasn't quite as much speed in the rings last night as on the opening night, but there was dynamite in the punches of those middleweight and heavies. One of the power bouts came when Bob Miller of Northwestern met L. R. Harvey of Purdue. They didn't hit one another often, but when they swung the air was shattered by the force of their blows.

Bob won a victory for the Purple when the engineer ducked through the ropes and turned his back on Miller. Referee Collins awarded the decision to Bob.

As on the opening night, the brilliant lights which flood the twin rings scarcely had been turned on before the prompt arrivals were on their feet cheering a fusillade of blows.

The middleweights were fighting in No. 2 ring. First came Bill Pike of Benton Harbor, Mich., and Willard

Out of Town Boys Lead Chicagoans Again, 28 to 23

Out of town fighters again showed the way to Chicago entries in the Golden Gloves eliminations at the Coliseum last night, carrying off victories by decisions and knockouts in 28 of the 51 battles.

Chicago punchers, however, dominated in the knockout lists, scoring 11 such triumphs as compared with nine for the invaders. Out of town boys scored 19 decision wins, while Chicagoans were posting twelve. Standing in victories for the two days' fighting gives out of town boxers a 53 to 52 edge.

Colored fighters also remained in the running. Isaiah Gaynor, Rockford 160 pounder, was a two time winner last night, as was Ralph Carnegie, a Benton Harbor, Mich., representative in the heavier classes. McClure Carson of Chicago Heights was another colored boy who won.

GOLDEN GLOVES HEAVIES LOOSE THAT K. O. PUNCH

Schuderick of Michigan City. For one round the action was furious with neither young fellow having more than a shade the better of it. But in the second round Bill Pike found his knockout punch working and put it in use. Schuderick took the count.

The knockout orgy had begun.

Bud Borelli Loses Bout

Just as the two middleweights who had opened the night's tournament were from out of town, so the succeeding pair was from Chicago. And one of them, strangely enough, the one whom most of the fans believed would win, was quickly knocked out. The loser was Bud Borelli, son of a Chicago jurist.

Football player, from De Paul, young Borelli had won his battle in the south side sectional meet with a knockout. His friends predicted that he would go through the Golden Glove battles undefeated. They hadn't appreciated Eddie Vack of the Lawndale gymnasium. The two had no sooner met in the center of the ring than Eddie flipped out his right hand and Bud flopped. Eddie was taller than Bud and had the advantage of reach.

Then Vack Is Beaten.

Scores of young fellows, members of the Seneca Athletic club, cheered and stamped their feet in wild acclaim of their club hero. Fred Casserio, when he defeated Eddie Vack, who had knocked out Borelli.

Colored boys have found the competition pretty rocky, but Ralph Carnegie, from Benton Harbor, Mich., fought cleverly and hard and defeated Walter Sabath, a Chicago representative rated as good.

The colored boys have all proved game. The crowds, too, have treated them cordially.

While the chain of knockouts was being forged in ring 2, the welterweights were battling with vim in the adjacent ring. Scotty Sylvano, pride of the Coulon gymnasium, had a difficult time defeating Anton Hedman, from the Belle Plaine Athletic club. The judges needed an extra round to make their decision.

Smith's Strategy Wins.

They grow 'em big and tough in Rockford. Adam Smith, who holds his hands level with his face, exposing a wide expanse inviting disaster, fooled Francis Starvil of Chicago. Francis thought that an attack on Adam's midriff was in order and launched a barrage. Adam let Francis hit him in the stomach three times, then socked Francis flush on the chin. It took Smith three rounds to win by a knockout, but when he got through he wasn't even breathing hard. Adam wants to quit his bakery business to take over Tunney's vacant throne.

Rockford Boy Wins Thriller.

Isaiah Gaynor, colored middleweight from Rockford, and Harold Yeager of Moline had the crowd crazy with excitement for four rounds. The first round went to Isaiah. He knocked Yeager down once, threw him down once, and outboxed him. Yeager came back in the second round and knocked Isaiah clear through the ropes right into the lap of one of the judges.

When the colored boy climbed back, Harold chased him around the ring, cornering him repeatedly and hitting him with everything in his repertoire. The fans couldn't figure out what held Isaiah up. They learned in the third and fourth rounds. He recuperated rapidly, earned a draw in the third round, and almost knocked Yeager out in the fourth.

1929 Champion Wins.

Buck Everett came back. The husky steel worker who won his battle with New York in the Garden last year, climbed the first round of the Golden Glove ladder when he nosed out James Lambeth of Kid Howard's gymnasium. Buck fought well, but only had a shade over Lambeth.

HORTON SMITH WINS FLORIDA GOLF WITH 139

Orlando, Fla., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Despite a faltering putter, Horton Smith of Detroit today won his thirteenth golf crown in fifteen months as he captured the title of the $2,000 Central Florida open tournament with 139 for the 36 holes.

Smith's work with the putter was good during his first nine holes today, when he scored a 33, two strokes below par, on Orlando Country club course, but the club failed him in the last nine holes and he missed a number of short strokes to take a 37 on the 36 par division.

One stroke behind him were Mike Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y., and Harry Cooper of Los Angeles, who posted 68s.

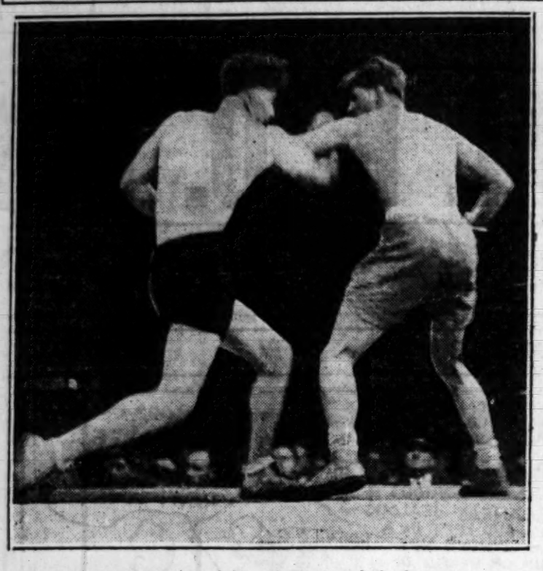

Doeg Loses to Veteran in Bermuda Tennis Upset

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Dean Mathey, Cranford, N. J., veteran, upset John Doeg, young star from Santa Monica, Cal., in the third round of the Bermuda tennis championships today. The scores were 6-2, 7-5.

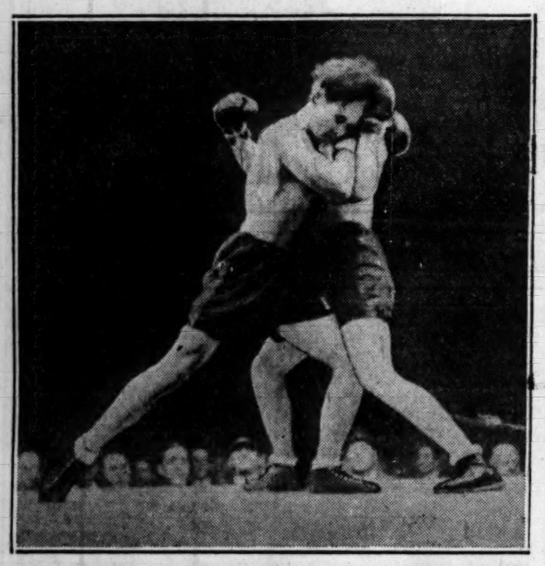

Ace Hudkins to Battle Pete Latzo Here Mar. 14

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Ace Hudkins has signed to fight Pete Latzo, former welterweight champion, in a light heavyweight bout in Chicago March 14. Tom Kennedy, Hudkins' manager, announced today.

HOW DOWNSTATE LADS FIGHT

HAWKS, RANGERS BATTLE TONIGHT FOR 2D PLACE

New York, Feb. 26.—[Special.]—With definite possession of second place in the American group at stake the New York Rangers will oppose the Chicago Blackhawks in a National Hockey league match at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. The struggle will be the fifth of the season between the teams now deadlocked in the runner up position behind the Montreal Maroons, each with 37 points.

The local sextet has the advantage over Chicago in games played so far, having won three.

Kieckhefer Takes First Place in Cue League

Augie Kieckhefer took first again in the Chicago Billiard league last night by defeating B. A. Forrest in two games at Kieckhefer Recreation rooms, while Ed Peters and Harry Leper divided a pair of games at the Pioneer Arcade.

HEAVY MUSCLED "GREEK GODS" ON GLOVES' CARD

Four Top Classes Show Their Wares.

It would take a lot of searching to gather in one room a finer lot of physical specimens than came to the dressing room at the Coliseum for weighing and physical examination before the bouts in the four heavier classes of the Golden Gloves last night. The crowd of 100 young men, powerful muscles rippling on their bodies, might have been a frieze from the Parthenon come to life.

Older for the most part than the boys in the lighter classes, who fought the first night, their bodies had filled out more. No thin muscled kids, but magnificent types of physical manhood, the sort that made one of the physicians tell a blonde young giant he'd have to disqualify him for "being too healthy."

In groups of four they came, until nearly 100 had passed in review. As usual the clothes varied from mackinaws to Boul Mich., but as they stripped each piece of clothing taken off made them more alike and more like the sculptors' idealized representations of the gods of the golden age.

Smith Says Its Muscle.

Take Arne Anderson of the Swedish American A. A. of Chicago. His hair has begun to go, the fore part of his head is almost bald, and Sweden is a long way from Greece, but the only comparison one could think of for him was the Farnese Hercules. Nor were the others any less, for only occasionally did any of them show any signs of a paunch. And those few defended it.

Adam Smith, the Rockford heavyweight, has a "belly" despite his daily work in the heat of the ovens. Yet he boasted that it was muscle, not fat, and that the heavyweights who thought he was soft and tried a body attack, would find it affected him not a whit.

Can't Outsmart Officials.

Yet even here came one or two evidences of trying to "outsmart" the officials. One or two of the lads had found the heavyweight class in their sectionals less formidable than the light heavyweight class and fought in that division and won. When they came to weigh in yesterday one or two of them who weigh 175 pounds or less found the heavyweight class the more dangerous and decided to switch back to the light heavyweight. It didn't get far, for the officials ruled that no man could drop back a class, but must fight in the class he qualified, unless he was overweight, when he might move up to the next heavier class.

Strangely there were fewer freak builds in the four heavier classes than the lighter. Most of them were all well set up young huskies, few of the dumpy type and still fewer of slat like builds.

Some were serious, some casual, such as Buzz Green, the Colona, Ill., heavyweight. A butcher in his daily life, these other heavyweights appeared merely like so much more beef to him, and he's accustomed to handling beef.

Roosevelt, Crane Win Indoor Track Meets

Roosevelt seniors triumphed over Tuley in a City league dual indoor track meet at the latter's gym yesterday. The score was 48 to 15. Tuley juniors defeated Roosevelt, 27 to 23. Crane seniors and juniors were victorious over Harrison at the former's gym, the seniors winning, 49 to 19, and the juniors, 31 to 19.

Rudney Shows Golden Gloves Sportsmanship

One of the finest bits of sportsmanship in the Golden Gloves bouts occurred in the dressing room after one of the first night's bouts. A loser, who had been awarded the decision by error, gamely agreed his opponent had been too good for him and deserved the decision.

Fred Rudney of Kopp's Boxing school, Roseland, was the man. Rudney and Joseph Rehling had fought three furious rounds in the 135 pound class and the judges were unable to decide which was the victor, so ordered another round. In that Rehling shaded Rudney by effective use of a chopping right cross.

But one of the judges made an error. His point total showed Rehling the victor, but he circled Rudney's number as the winner. The other judge thought Rudney had won on aggressiveness. The referee decided for Rehling.

With two against one, Rudney's hand was raised as the winner and both boys left the ring while the crowd booed. Incidentally, this was the only decision of the night which was taken with bad grace by the fight fans. But the recheck of the cards a few minutes later, as all cards are checked, showed Rehling to have won.

Rehling had dressed quickly and gone home, but Rudney was still in the dressing room and the cards were shown to him and the error explained. Rudney, a favorite among ring fans, justified the spirit of amateurism and the spirit of the Golden Gloves. He not only took with good grace the corrected decision, which put him out of the tournament, but grinned and said, "Well, I thought I got licked."

Due to the mistake and Rehling's departure, his second round bout, in which he is to box Walter Stanfield of Jackson, Mich., was postponed until tonight.

C. A. A. TEAM OF SWIMMERS SETS A. A. U. RECORD

One swimming record fell last night in the Central A. A. U. water carnival at the Chicago Athletic association. The C. A. A. team No. 1 eclipsed the Central A. A. U. 400 yard relay record by covering the distance in 3:37.4. The former mark was 3:43.4.

The Chicago A. A. water polo team completed the night's competition with a 7 to 2 victory over the University of Chicago. The championship event summaries follow:

INTERSCHOLASTIC 100 YARD SWIM—Won by Valentine, Lane Tech; Tischler, Schurz, second; Anderson, Englewood, third. Time, 0:54.4.

INTERSCHOLASTIC 160 YARD RELAY—Won by Schurz [Bakke, Trick, Tischler, Fish]; Englewood, second; Lane Tech, third. Time, 1:22.4.

CENTRAL A. A. U. SENIOR 400 YARD RELAY—Won by Chicago A. A. team No. 1 [Bryer, Ryan, Highland, Wilcox]; Chicago A. A. team No. 2, second; Chicago A. A. team No. 3, third. Time, 3:37.4 [new record, old mark was 3:43.4].

CENTRAL A. A. U. LOW BOARD DIVING—Won by Colbath, Chicago Athletic association; Siegel, Lake Shore A. C., second; Le Bret, Chicago Athletic association, third.

Boys' Brotherhood Quints Win, Lose Tourney Games

Basketball teams of the Boys' Brotherhood Republic broke even in two Central A. A. U. basketball tournament games last night at De Paul university, where the meet will continue through Saturday. The B. B. R. first team lost to Consumers' Petroleums, 31 to 14, but the second B. B. R. entry whipped the De Luxe five, 45 to 20. In the other contest De Paul frosh defeated the Teletypes, 46 to 19. Tonight's pairings:

J. P. I. vs. Loyola Aces; Golan A. C. vs. Loyola frosh; Briggs Realty vs. Wallace A. C.; Warren Park vs. Furman Forrest, and Rago Big Five vs. Ferons of Oak Park.

CUBS AND GOBS ENGAGE IN BRIEF SHAM BATTLE

Schulte Hurt in Chase for Pop Fly.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., Feb. 26.—Something resembling baseball was attempted in the Cubs' camp today. It is a bit early for competition and men for all the positions are scarce, but a team from the revenue cutter Algonquin appeared on the island with a challenge, so McCarthy favored them with three innings of battling. The major leaguers, with Root and Hartnett as the battery, walloped the seamen, who were loaned the services of Malone and Schalk. The decision was 11 to 5, or about that.

Permitting Malone to hurl for the sailors was no favor. In the first place, Pat was slightly handicapped by a rubber shirt, which is part of his daily equipment. In the second place, he didn't do anything more fancy than ordinary throwing. And in the third place, the Gobs tried to give an exhibition of Hack Wilson in the seventh inning of the fourth game of the late world series. It was a big success. That was how the Cubs got most of their runs off Pat.

Schulte Hurt in Crash.

After the Gobs had been duly photographed in company with the big leaguers, a regular practice was started, and it had been under way only a few minutes when the second casualty of the spring was recorded. Lautenbacher went after a pop fly which Schulte desired to catch. Despite yells from their mates, they kept going until they bumped. Lautenbacher crashed Schulte over the left eye, and the latter was taken to the hospital, where stitches were taken in the wound. Lautenbacher escaped with a bloody nose.

The day almost developed two other mishaps. In the course of the game with the sailors, Hal Carlson turned an ankle while rounding first base, but he decided not to quit work. The other incident involved Gabby Hartnett, whose arm appears to have done an unmistakable comeback. Gabby was fooling around first base while the pitchers were having a drill on fielding bunts, and a throw cracked him on the wrist. But as long as his old shoulder ailment doesn't reappear Gabby isn't going to be annoyed by minor incidents.

Maps Regulars' Program.

The regulars of the championship outfit do not appear on the island until Friday noon, but McCarthy already has outlined a program for them. When they step off the steamer they will be informed that there is work just around the corner. They will put on their uniforms that afternoon, most of which will be devoted to batting practice.

On Saturday the two a day program will be inaugurated. This will involve two hours in the morning and about the same after luncheon. On Sunday the boys can go fishing or to the links, provided there is no upset of Saturday's plans by bad weather. The layoff can be taken without risk, as the hurlers are well along in their conditioning, and it doesn't take much labor to put the other athletes in working order.

First Exhibition March 8.

Give them about three days and they'll be ready for a ball game. That is what they'll get, because McCarthy wants them to have a little real competition among themselves before taking them to Los Angeles for their first exhibitions March 8 and 9.

Early next week the pitchers will begin to employ their speed and curves, if they have them, and McCarthy immediately will begin to scout for the four hurlers he needs to round out a ten man pitching staff.

titude of the old timers toward the youngsters," Donie suggested. "I've been around a lot of ball clubs and I never saw the older men show better spirit toward rookies than do the veteran Sox. Why, in Faber, Lyons, Thomas, and Berg I've got four of the best morale builders I ever have seen."

To which you supplement the guess that if he can keep those four gents feeling that way he needn't worry about the mental attitude of the rest of his hirelings.

HOME TOWN GREETS SHIRES

Harlingen, Tex., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Debonair Art Shires hit town this afternoon amid plaudits of the citizenry as he headed a parade through the business district. Tonight he was guest at a banquet. The first words Shires uttered after his arrival were: "Donie Bush is the greatest guy in baseball. He is going to manage the White Sox. He will be boss. And I will play first base for him this season."

Immaculately dressed, with swagger stick and all, he refused to make a speech, declaring he was too tired, as he had driven all night from his home in Italy, Tex., to be guest of friends here. Shires is back in the valley where he got his start. He played with Brownsville a part of the 1928 season, reporting to Dell Pratt, at Waco in midseason. Shires was seated in a car with big banners on both sides which declared that Harlingen welcomed "Shires the Great." Alongside was Mayor Sam Botts of Harlingen.

Gives the Mayor a Break.

"Say, mayor, are you running for office again this year," the Great One asked as soon as he was seated in the car. "Well, if you are, what do I get out of giving you all this publicity?" he demanded of the mayor. "Say, that kid brother of mine, Lyn, now with the Giants in San Antonio, is going to make good. I told him to tell McGraw that he was there to play an infield position."

Looking tired and worn when he arrived, he took out time to attend to his sartorial duties.

"I am in good shape," he declared, "have been playing a little golf, and my legs are in fine shape, and I will be there with Donie Bush, when I consider one of the smarest guys in baseball and a fine fellow. Bush is going to run that White Sox club like he wants to," Shires repeated.

He did not know how long he would be in the valley, nor when he would be in San Antonio with the Sox. Shires has a lot of friends in the valley, some of whom have known him for years, and he was greeted on all sides.

Bruins Defeat Cleveland Pro Quintet, 25-15

Nat Holman was the Holman of old against the Cleveland Rosenblums last night and the Chicago Bruins notched a 25-15 victory over the world champions at the Stadium.

Holman made six baskets and three free throws to lead the Bruins to the victory, which brought them within a game and a half of the league leading Rochester Centrals, whom they meet at the Stadium tonight.

Holman made five baskets in the first half and, aided by Kellett and two long shots by Nat Hickey, gave the Bruins an 18-7 edge at the half.

The Bruins, fighting to stay in the race for the second half championship, showed real spirit last night. Russell and Ely went out of the game on five personal fouls, as did Joe Lapchick. Referee Salador called thirty-three personal fouls, nineteen of them against the Bruins.

In a preliminary game the Taylor Trunks registered a 45-10 victory over the Community M. E. church girls. Bruins' lineup:

Englewood Beats Marshall, 19-18; Phillips Wins, 33-31

Englewood lightweights, second place team in the central section of the City High School Basketball league, defeated Marshall, west section champion, yesterday afternoon at White City, 19 to 18. It was the first game of the semi-final series.

Wendell Phillips, central champion, won from Harrison of the west, 33 to 31, at Tilden. The score was tied four times in the last quarter and Harrison was leading by two points with two minutes to play. Phillips had the advantage, 21 to 15, at the half.

Weissberg, Englewood forward, made the field goal which gave his team the winning margin. Marshall missed eight free throws in 16 chances, while Englewood scored nine in 19 shots.

GOLF CLUB MEETS.

A pre-season good fellowship meeting of the Elmhurst Golf club will be held tonight at the Mediuah Athletic club.

... a change for the best

Lawyer: "You'll have to shave more carefully, young fellow, if you want to succeed in this office."

Clerk: "Careful? I went over my face today several times—but the blade slipped over the whiskers."

Lawyer: "You're guilty of bad blades—change to the Gem! It gets every hair the first stroke."

We base our case on your face.

Shave it with a Gem Blade—if it doesn't look cleaner, if it doesn't feel more comfortable—but it will, so what's the use of "iffing"? A jury of millions of satisfied shavers says, "The Gem Blade is efficient." Uniformly keen, it never needs an alibi. And remember the economy of genuine Gem Blades:—you get more shaves per blade.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 26.—(AP)—A trio of thoroughbreds today established new track records at Hialeah park. Today's performances brought the number of new records made at the current meeting of the Florida racing joint to nine, five of which were hung up in the last two days.

For the second time in less than a week, the Killrane stable's Rapid Transit lowered the six furlong record, capping the distance in 1:10 2-5. Thursday the 4 year old clipped one-fifth of a second off the old mark, when he covered the six panels in 1:10.

Today Jockey Sonny Workman got Rapid Transit away flying. He was at the half mile pole in :46 2-5 and was leading by ten lengths at the stretch turn. He won by eight lengths under wraps, with St. Jim second and Megara third. Rapid Transit was timed at one to ten.

Another record to go by the boards was the mile and a sixteenth mark in the Biscayne bay claiming handicap. Fairy Maiden galloping the route in 1:46 1-5. The former mark of 1:44 2-5 was made by Chancellor, Feb. 6. The 4 year old mare, however, was forced to the limit to defeat Low Gear and Islam. The trio finished heads apart.

A record for five years' standing fell when the 3 year old Black Bart covered the mile and a half in 2:33 3-5 to win the sixth race. The old mark of 2:34 2-5 was established by Tall Oaks under 97 pounds in 1925.

TALES OF RIVAL'S PADDED GLOVES ANGER MANDELL

Sammy Mandell yesterday was incensed at reports that Jimmy McLarnin, his opponent in Saturday night's windup at the Chicago Stadium, had been given large gloves to prevent a knockout in their last meeting.

"It will not be necessary for McLarnin to wear any gloves, so far as I am concerned," Sammy said. "Reports that he had extra padding on his knuckles to save me for a return match last time are a gross injustice and malicious slur on my ability, my title, and the division I represent.

"McLarnin has had two chances to knock me out. He couldn't do it in fifteen rounds when he had everything to gain and nothing to lose, and he failed again when we met in the Stadium last fall. Frankly, I don't believe he is as dangerous as a lot of newspaper men make him appear.

"You may be assured that we will be as careful to see that McLarnin gets the right gloves this time as McLarnin will be himself."

Morgan Park Military Fives Register Double Victory

Morgan Park Military academy lights and heavies defeated Harvard school five yesterday on the victors' court, winning, 33 to 19 and 26 to 16, respectively. Kaplan, with 15 points, starred for the winning lights, while Lange featured for the heavies with 17 points.

Big Ten Stars to Compete at N. U. Tonight

Several outstanding western conference athletes will compete tonight when Northwestern, Purdue, and Minnesota clash at Patten gymnasium in a triangular track and field meet. The first event will start at 7:45 o'clock.

Orval Martin, Purdue's star miler, will have things pretty much his own way, although he will encounter considerable competition from Ralph Wolf of Northwestern and Bruce Strain of Minnesota. The Boilermaker ace also will compete in the half mile, in which, too, he stands a good chance of copping first honors.

Zack Ford, Purple sprint star, is a favorite to win the 40 yard dash. Here, too, the competition is first class, as Odom of Purdue and Hass of Minnesota have displayed considerable talent. All three are sophomores.

Tom Warne, Northwestern's pole vaulter, is expected to have little trouble. He should win as he pleases, since the other entries in this event will hardly clear 12 feet 6 inches. Warne has been soaring around 13 feet 6 inches consistently.

The meet tonight will be the last for all there teams before the Big Ten indoor games at Minnesota a week from Saturday.

SHARKEY, SCOTT FIGHT TONIGHT IN MIAMI RING

stance, will fight Moise Bouquillon, a Frenchman of 184 pounds, who conceded almost 100 pounds of blubber and bone to Carnera, yet fought him ten rounds in Paris last summer and made a courageous showing, although he lost the decision. This is to be a ten rounder also.

To start the dashing display the management will present one Bill Daring, or Darling, late U. S. N., and Raoul Bianci, both heavyweights, for six rounds, barring an untimely conclusion.

Battery of Press Agents.

This, then, is the program, and there has been great fun here for the last two weeks as the sports and gamblers of the east, the south, and the middle west, gathered for the horse races, the faro, and other diversions and business opportunities, mingled with the members of the prize fight profession, who are much like them, yet a class distinctly apart.

This afternoon the local prints ran a report from an unnamed informant that Max Schmeling, the German, never would be able to fight again, owing to a fracture of one of his thumbs. The object of this, of course, was to give the Sharkey-Scott bout the aspect of a heavyweight championship fight, but I doubt that any one was carried away by this.

Tunney to See Show.

Gene Tunney is present, looking quite fat and old and walking with a stick. He will be at the ringside among the full roster of those wealthy or merely conspicuous citizens who always enjoy to be mentioned as among those present at major prize fights. The Garden corps of press agents got out a list of several hundred familiar names this evening, possibly a reprint of last year's list, which includes all of the late Tex Rickard's beloved best people, with whom he rubbed elbows on the theory that if he did so consistently he would rub some of the rich off them on to himself.

Babe Ruth motored over from the Yankees' training resort at St. Petersburg, and the sidewalk, the verandah, and the arcade of the McAllister hotel were the tenting ground tonight for a national encampment of the prize fight G. A. R.'s of the whole U. S. A.

CHICAGO STOCK PRICES HIGHER; UTILITIES ACTIVE

Respond Readily to Upturn in Grain Values.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Energetic response to the upturn in the wheat market carried prices on the Chicago stock exchange to higher levels yesterday. Grigsby, Bendix, Middle West, and Kalamazoo Stove were in the thick of the activity, each showing gains for the day.

Utility stocks as a group gave the best exhibition, but several specialties and a few of the motor stocks registered fair gains. Utility and Industrial alone among the investment issues showed any significant change.

The corporation, which will issue its annual report in a few days, is understood to have fared satisfactorily during the period of declining security prices which proved expensive to many of the investment trusts. The report it is said will show that total holdings of the company as of Dec. 31 suffered no material depreciation from the purchase price.

Edison Up Four Points.

North American Gas and Electric A, Associated Telephone, and Commonwealth Edison led the utilities. Edison on light sales jumped 4 points and Associated climbed 1⅝ following recent announcement of plans for expansion in Pacific coast area. Middle West on heavy turnover was up a fraction and Central and Southwest finished more than a point higher.

Among the specialties, Beatrice Creamery, which yesterday announced the acquisition of three creamery firms, advanced 2⅜ points on small sales. Kalamazoo Stove on a turnover of more than 11,000 shares scored one of the best gains of the day and closed up 5¼ points.

Hold Stock Jointly.

Active trading in Bendix preceded the announcement last night of the formation of a new company to make air brakes, the stock of which will be held jointly by Bendix and Westinghouse Air Brake company. The issue which had climbed 2 points on the previous day in anticipation of the announcement closed yesterday at 42¼, with a gain of a fraction.

Assorted issues which showed gains of a point or more included Art Metal, up 1; Brown Fence A, 1⅜; Parker Pen, 2¼, and General Theater Equipment, 1½.

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

May Better Showing.

It looks as though the average decline in railroad net income reported for the last several months as compared with the same months of the previous year will rule for January. The first twenty-six roads to report show a drop of about 21 per cent. If car loadings were maintained during the remainder of February at the rate of the first two weeks, the showing for this month should be somewhat better.

Expect Dividend Action.

Interests identified with Missouri, Kansas, Texas Railroad company, popularly known as Katy, look for some action on the common dividend at the directors' meeting in March. The company earned $5.10 a share on its common in 1929, and it is thought that at least $3 a share could well be paid. The company has not earned less than $4 a share in the last six years.

Extends Gas Interests.

Standard Oil of California is quietly extending its natural gas interests and seems to be making hay while the famous sun is shining in that state. The extension of natural gas consumption is going on apace, while nearly every oil state is fighting the mounting production of crude. There has been a great waste in natural gas, but now with pipe lines that will carry the natural gas hundreds of miles that situation is said to be getting better.

Make Threats Good.

After having broadcast several warnings to the shorts in Gillette Safety Razor, the banks and other interests behind that issue apparently have decided to make good their threats. The stock has recovered approximately 10 points from its low of this year and has moved consistently forward against the trend of the general market.

Chicago Curb Exchange Stocks

Indian Territory Oil and Transformer featured yesterday's Chicago curb session with an advance of around 2 points. The entire list was buoyant, Union Copper reaching new high ground above 8, General Petroleum spurting nearly 2, and American Superpower finishing a point higher in active trading. Liberty Baking eased fractionally following announcement that 1929 net profits amounted to $393,963. Rustless Iron softened to 2¼.

STOCK PURCHASE WARRANTS

Each bond of this issue will be accompanied by a stock purchase warrant, non-detachable except when exercised, evidencing the right of the holder to purchase, subject to the provisions thereof, at any time on or before February 2, 1935 (or if these bonds are called or the Company dissolved prior to such date, then on or before but not after such redemption or dissolution date) two shares of the Class A Stock, $1.60 Dividend Series, of North American Gas and Electric Company (a Delaware Corporation) for each $100 principal amount of the accompanying bond at the following prices; to and including February 2, 1932 at $20 per share, thereafter to and including February 2, 1934 at $22 per share and thereafter to and including February 2, 1935 at $25 per share.

THESE BONDS ARE LISTED ON THE CHICAGO STOCK EXCHANGE

BUSINESS AND TERRITORY: Washington Gas and Electric Company will presently own or control through subsidiaries a group of properties supplying electric light and power, manufactured gas or water in the States of Washington, Utah and Oregon, and in the Province of Saskatchewan, Canada. The total population served is estimated to exceed 270,000 and the number of gas, electric and water customers is in excess of 30,000.

SECURITY: The First Lien and General Mortgage Gold Bonds will be secured by pledge with the Trustee, on terms and conditions set forth in the Mortgage, of all common capital stock of Oregon Gas and Electric Company, and more than 99½% of the common capital stock of Dominion Electric Power Company and of Dixie Power Company. These bonds will be further secured by a direct mortgage on all of the fixed property owned by Washington Gas and Electric Company, subject to bonds which may be secured by any prior lien now or hereafter created or existing on the property, and of which $3,596,000 principal amount of First Mortgage bonds are outstanding with the public.

EARNINGS: For the 12 months ended October 31, 1929 the consolidated earnings of Washington Gas and Electric Company and its subsidiaries were as follows:

Gross Earnings, all sources	$1,830,096
Operating Expenses, Maintenance and Taxes (other than Federal) and Subsidiary Fixed Charges	1,190,231
Net Earnings available for interest and depreciation	$ 639,865
Annual Interest Requirements on First Mortgage Gold Bonds	197,780
Balance	$ 442,085
Annual Interest Requirements on First Lien and General Mortgage Gold Bonds (this issue)	120,000

The balance of net earnings as shown above, available for interest requirements on the First Lien and General Mortgage Gold Bonds, was more than 3.68 times such requirements. Net earnings as shown above were more than twice total annual interest requirements on all funded debt of the Company outstanding with the public, including this issue.

MANAGEMENT: The general supervision of the Company's properties is under the direction of Loeb & Shaw, Inc., the principals of which have managed important public utility properties over a period of years. Supervision charges are, under contract, payable only out of excess earnings after interest charges on the Company's funded debt, and accordingly have not been included in the above statement of earnings.

These bonds are offered for delivery when, as and if issued and received by us, and subject to the approval of the proceedings by counsel.

The MODERN Trail Blazer

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO, American pioneers blazed trails through the virgin forest and opened up new territory for later commercial development. Today, American business pioneers are blazing new commercial trails by inventing new products or devising new and better methods of manufacturing and distribution. America's present dominating position in the world of commerce is largely due to the pioneer spirit in American business.

The pioneer spirit of the American business man has been an inspiration to the bankers who have worked with him. This bank is proud of its connection with American business, and it is our objective to serve American business men to the limit of our capacity. Our officers are always glad to take all the time necessary for this purpose.

HOOVER'S PLEAS FOR ECONOMY RAISE DOUBTS

Question Extent of New Public Works.

BY O. A. MATHER.

February comes to an end with leadership in business and industry somewhat bewildered by the rapid course of economic events in the last week or two. Whereas the recovery following the turn of the year bred considerable and possibly too much optimism, now the resettlement in commodity prices and political developments has caused uncertainty. This is particularly true in several of the basic industries.

"President Hoover's pleas to congress for economy, while understandable as a check on pork barrel legislation, have raised doubts as to the extent of the government's public works program, which has been counted on to stimulate business activity later in the year," the Iron Age says in its weekly review of the steel industry. "The recent declines in wheat and cotton prices also have caused concern for the future, although the manufacture of agricultural machinery has not yet been affected.

"As to the uncertainties as to automotive steel requirements have been added these other contingencies that may affect the flow of steel to the building industry and farm equipment plants. Certain estimates now place automotive consumption of steel this year at only 60 per cent of that of 1929, but until the arrival of open weather gives definite indications of the volume of the retail demand for cars all calculations must be regarded as mere conjectures.

Near View Prospects.

"A more conservative viewpoint prevails in the steel trade than a month ago, following the spectacular buying in January. Ultimate consumer purchases are particularly difficult to anticipate in view of the unsettled business situation that has prevailed since the stock market crash. But while the long range view has become more obscure, prospects for the next month or two are regarded as good. The approach of spring is bringing out larger specifications in wire products and tinplate and contracts for outdoor work, such as pipe laying and highway building.

"Railroads, fabricators, shipyards, and farm equipment plants continue to take steel at a high rate. Generally steel demand has tapered mainly because of smaller specifications from the automobile industry, but average steel production continues at a good rate and with no sharp recession in early prospect. The ingot rate at Chicago has risen from 90 to 95 per cent of the capacity and Alabama operations average 94 per cent. On the other hand, output in Pittsburgh and the valleys has receded from 80 to 75 per cent. Production for the country is estimated at 80 per cent, compared with 82 per cent a week ago."

Auto Building Status.

The status of the automobile and building construction industries came in for attention from other quarters. Automobile production in January showed greater expansion than usual for that month, following an exceptionally low December, but output still was considerably below a year ago, according to the Chicago Federal Reserve bank's monthly review. Therefore, last month continued the decline in evidence since October in the year to year comparison. But retail distribution and used car sales declined from December and also was smaller than in January, 1929, while stocks of cars were notably heavier.

The review also says that wholesale trade for the fourth successive month displayed less activity than during the same period a year before. Department store trade showed the usual seasonal recession last month following the Christmas holidays. Chain store sales were less than in December, but larger than in January, 1929.

There has been a pickup in building construction, but it is still considerably below a year ago. The F. W. Dodge corporation reports a total of $35,542,300 in new building and engineering contracts for states east of the Rocky mountains during the week ended Feb. 15. This marks an increase of $2,392,300 over the preceding week but is $26,101,500 below the corresponding week last year.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 26.—The price of silver, which has been sinking almost continuously since last year, touched a new low here today when it touched 42⅝ cents per ounce in the bar. At this level it was off ⅝. Mexican dollars were quoted 31⅝ cents, off ⅝.

The New York market was merely following London quotations, which were also sharply lower. Silver sold as high as 57⅛ cents per ounce here last year. Weakness of silver has generally been attributed to conditions in the far east.

Sees Unique Problem in Live Stock Futures Mart

BY SCRUTATOR.

The formation of a hog futures market by the Chicago live stock exchange, which is to have its opening session on Saturday morning, presented some problems that were unique in commodity markets.

We already have a long list of commodities that are traded in on regularly established future exchanges. These include wheat, rye, corn, and other grains to a smaller extent; cotton, sugar, silk, rubber, cheese, prepared pork products, coffee, tin, copper, hides, jute and burlap, butter, and eggs.

With the exception of butter and eggs all these things are relatively imperishable. Even these are customarily held in storage for considerable periods of time. Hogs, on the other hand, once prepared for market, must be killed in a short time. Large receipts of hogs in a few days naturally mean a fall in price; a farmer west of the Mississippi who ships to the market here, under present conditions, must take the risk of this.

Advantage to Farmer.

He must, in fact, take the risk of a falling price level even from the time he begins the sixty or seventy day fattening period. The advantage to him, if he chooses to take advantage of a futures market, is that he will know what his shipment will bring per 100 pounds before he begins to feed.

To an outsider, theorizing on the possibilities, it seems that the hog futures will have to be maintained at levels somewhere near the prevailing cash prices. The assumption is that the buyers will do this rather than take the risks inherent in the day to day market.

There is a prevalent idea outside the trade that the big packing houses dominate the market. This, according to Charles A. Wilson, president of the exchange, is an exaggeration.

"They do have an influence," he said yesterday, "but there are 600 or more packing plants, spread over the whole of the territory east of Chicago and running into New England, which buy their hogs here. The outside plants almost every day take from 20 to 40 per cent of all that are sent here for sale. The smaller packing plants, together, have so large a capacity that if any one of the largest packing plants went out of business today the effects, except on the stockholders and employés of that one business, would be forgotten in a day or two. There would still be ample supplies of meat and ample market for hogs."

A carload of hogs is the trading unit on the new market, with the weight arbitrarily fixed at 16,500 pounds. The seller is allowed a tolerance of 1,500 pounds either way. He may deliver 15,000 pounds or 18,000, but adjustments for the excess or shortage of weight must be adjusted at the prevailing price on the cash market when delivery is made.

Guarantees Transactions.

Certain standard grades have been worked out and have the tentative approval of the department of agriculture. The exchange rules also provide that sellers whose hogs are of extra fancy type shall be paid over their contracts for this better quality. All contracts, of course, are bound by stated deposits of buyer and seller. The exchange guarantees the fulfillment of either sales or purchases.

It will be possible for speculators to sell "hogs they haven't got" and to buy them in at later dates. The great difference between the hog market and the other futures commonly dealt in is that the hog is a living creature. If the difficulties are conquered, as the exchange believes now, the farm producer will be enabled to determine with exactitude whether it is going to be more profitable for him to buy feeder pigs and fatten them at the prevailing price of corn or to sell that corn as it is. Some of the uncertainties of agriculture can be eliminated.

LOOSE-WILES BISCUIT EARNS $4.58 PER SHARE

New York, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Net profits of the Loose-Wiles Biscuit company for 1929 amounted to $2,732,093, an increase of more than $490,000 over 1928 and equal to $4.58 a share on the common stock. Earnings for the previous year amounted to $2,318,714, or $3.77 per common share.

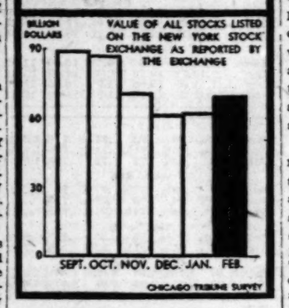

The Atlantic Gulf and West Indies Steamship lines, according to preliminary reports for 1929, earned net income of $2,746,301, equal after preferred dividends to $10.32 per common share.

STANDARD OF N.Y. CUTS GASOLINE PRICE 1C, BUT RIVALS GO 1C UNDER IT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 26.—The Standard Oil company of New York today cut the price of gasoline one cent a gallon in the New York area, to meet competition, and the smaller independents, which have consistently undersold the larger companies, answered with an immediate reduction of one cent under the Standard price.

The move by Standard was coincident with the announcement of the first cut in export gasoline prices by the Oil Export association since its formation more than a year ago under the Webb act by the leading oil marketing companies of the country. The cut amounts to ½ cent on gasoline and 1 cent on kerosene.

It was expected other large producers would follow the Standard price cut.

Standard cut the service station price to 14.3 cents a gallon and the tank wagon price to 12.3 cents without the tax. But Warner-Quinlan and Municipal Service, two important independents, dropped the service station price to 13.3 cents.

The fact that Standard, which heretofore always has permitted one of the other large companies to make the first move toward price reduction, had taken the lead was regarded in the trade as an indication of a new, aggressive policy on the part of Standard of New York.

U. S. Live Stock Co-op Formed as Wheat Uproar Continues

While grain men throughout the wheat belt were protesting against the federal farm board's stabilization program, representatives of live stock coöperative marketing associations, which handle an annual business of approximately $300,000,000, accepted the board's suggestion yesterday for a national marketing organization similar to its grain corporation.

The proposal was accepted at a meeting of the live stock representatives with federal farm board members at the Hotel Sherman, and will be submitted to the boards of directors of the various coöperatives for approval before it is put into effect. The plan calls for the incorporation of the National Live Stock Marketing association, with a capital stock of $1,000,000, to operate on a basis similar to that of the grain marketing corporation. Two subsidiaries, the National Feeder and Finance corporation, and the National Live Stock Publishing association, also were planned.

Fourth Farm Board Coöp.

The live stock marketing group would be the fourth of its kind set up by the farm board, organizations for the marketing of grain, wool, and cotton having been set up previously. The board's statement pointed out that with only $500,000,000 in its revolving fund to assist in financing marketing activities, pyramiding of a portion of the fund is necessary. In the case of live stock industry, it plans to do this by the establishment of regional credit corporations authorized to discount their live stock paper with intermediate credit banks.

The national association would coördinate and control sales through a sales board, which would build up a service to supply information on the supply and demand to sales agencies.

The board's recommendation calls for the incorporation of the feeder and finance corporation with a capital stock of $5,000,000, consisting of 50,000 shares of common stock, with a par value of $100. The farm board would lend money to the National Live Stock Marketing association for the purchase of the common stock of the National Feeder and Finance corporation, which, in turn, would use the money originally borrowed from the association to purchase the common stock of regional credit corporations which would be set up in the various intermediate credit bank districts.

The Feeder and Finance corporation will operate as a holding company, as far as financing is concerned, but it also will operate as a marketing organization, in that it will deal in feeder stock, both on and off the market. It will not speculate in feeder stock, being limited to handling orders for member associations and individuals.

Credit Plan Outlined.

The regional credit corporations, according to the board's plan, will purchase federal land bank or intermediate credit bank debentures, which will be put up as collateral with the intermediate credit banks, to secure a line of credit which will be approximately ten times the capital stock. The common stock of the regional credit corporations held by the National Feeder and Finance corporation could be pledged to the farm board, the board says.

"The board recommends," its statement to the coöperatives said, "that before any dividends are paid (by the marketing association) reserves equal to the authorized capital stock shall be set up. The board further recommends that control of sales and policies be vested in the national association. This would qualify the national as a marketing association, thus enabling it to obtain financial assistance from the federal farm board."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 26.—The big news from Chicago—wheat up 9 cents a bushel over Tuesday's extreme low levels, federal farm board aid for the market and everything—was sufficient to put the bear element to flight on the stock exchange front here today.

The rout was complete. Prices swept forward all along the line from 1 to 7 points and more. A few favored specialties did even better, advancing 10 or 12 points. Utility shares were fairly buoyant, the amusements were strong and vigorous, the oils came to life once more, the tobaccos did themselves proud, and food stocks had one of their really worthwhile innings. A score or more of fast movers attained new price peaks for the year or longer.

It was the widest and most impressive upswing recorded in some two weeks. Trading volume rose moderate-

Why Investment Stocks Should be Included in Most Accounts

WHETHER an investor should or should not include stocks in his investment account depends, of course, on his particular requirements. For those, however, who are in a position to invest a portion of their funds in stocks, this type of security has certain distinct advantages.

Stocks primarily enable one to share in the growth and profits of corporations. As a result of full participation in such growth, sound stocks have shown a remarkable appreciation over a period of years, with a corresponding increase in income paid to stockholders.

A factor not generally appreciated by investors is that common stocks as a class, more than any other type of security, have offset the decline in the purchasing power of the dollar. To illustrate, from December 1913 to December 1929, living costs increased from an index figure of 100 to 171.2; whereas sound stocks, as shown by the New York Times compilation of fifty representative stocks, more than adjusted themselves to this declining purchasing power of the dollar—having risen in value during this same period from an index figure of 100 to 308.8.

When we look back....

WHEN we look back, most of us think in terms of years. We measure results, of one kind or another, of say the past five or ten years, or since entering upon our present business activity, or since marriage, or any of the other significant events of our lives. Weeks and months drop out.

From day to day, however, we do not retain the same detached attitude. We are impatient to have things happen tomorrow, next week, next month. A project requiring three or five years to work out seems to be a tremendous undertaking, requiring great effort of will to achieve

To no aspect of our lives do these facts apply more aptly than the administration of our investments. It is all too easy to review in our minds the results of several years and then to act from day to day. Too often a security purchased because it has interesting long term possibilities is sold because those possibilities do not evidence themselves in a few weeks or months.

Fortunately, several long periods lie ahead for most of us. This is an unusually appropriate time to formulate a sound investment plan for the next three or five years. High grade securities are available on a most attractive basis. We invite you to use our facilities irrespective of whether or not you have funds for immediate placement.

WHEAT VALUES COME BACK TO HIGHER RANGE

Foreign Strength, Short Covering Do It.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Strength in foreign markets and short covering was largely responsible for a higher range of wheat values in all markets yesterday with the nearby months here showing the most strength. At the top May showed 9⅝c over the inside figures of Tuesday and, while the bulge was not maintained, the nearby months finished 1@1⅝c higher, with March closing at $1.05¾@1.05⅞, and May at $1.10⅝@1.10½. September closed unchanged at $1.13½@1.13⅝.

Winnipeg reports indicated that the pool had bought futures in that market, and while there was a lack of aggressive export buying, futures there finished 2⅝@2½c higher. Liverpool was 1⅛@1½d higher, due to lack of pressure and short covering, while Buenos Aires and Rosario were ¼@⅝c higher.

There was a narrowing in the spread between the nearby and the deferred futures of wheat, with May being bought and July sold, and the latter bought and September sold. Crop reported from the winter wheat belt were generally favorable.

Action of the farm board's stabilization corporation in buying wheat futures on the Chicago Board of Trade Tuesday, which was instrumental in bringing about a sudden upturn from the lowest figures of the crop year, was said yesterday not to have been speculative in character, but rather the removal of hedges against cash grain, the futures being given up in exchange for the latter.

Estimates Range Up to 10,000,000 Bu.

Estimates on the amount of cash wheat taken ranged from 3,000,000 up to 10,000,000 bu and, according to the gossip of the trade, the bulk of the grain is held in elevators in the east, being secured at a figure materially lower than the grain could be shipped from Chicago.

There were unconfirmed reports that further quantities had been bought during the day, and bids of 1½c under Chicago May were made for No. 2 hard winter at the seaboard. Around 250 cars of cash wheat were bought in the leading markets during the day by the coöperatives.

Congress seems to be greatly disturbed by the rapid decline that has occurred on the wheat and cotton markets of late, and the secretary of agriculture has been instructed to report to the senate any remedial recommendations he may have for the present crisis which is regarded as existing in the two markets. President Legge of the farm board was quoted as saying that the grain trade in particular was interested in the maintenance of stability and the board hoped for coöperation in this respect. However, he refused to comit himself as to whether the buying of cash grain or futures would be repeated.

Another unsettling influence has been injected into the wheat market by a notice given by the farm boards buying agency at Duluth to the effect that coöperative shippers must bill all shipments of wheat direct to the stabilization corporation. This entirely eliminates the commission merchant.

Trade Protests Farm Board Action.

Violent protests were wired to President Hoover and the United States chamber of commerce by various members of the grain trade during the day as the result of the recent activities of the farm board. A Kansas line elevator concern claimed that the refusal of the government to pay the fixed price to the independent shipper practically put him out of business.

It would not be surprising if the so-called fixed prices for country run grain recently paid without discrimination by the coöperatives, at the leading markets disappeared as far as the grain exchanges were concerned. The stabilization corporation in ordering all coöperative shipments billed direct to the former organization automatically gets away from any conflict with exchange rules in refusing to accept independent shipments by this move, according to the best posted interests.

Corn Closes at Bottom.

Closing of spreads between corn and wheat more than offset a liberal shipping demand. With local pressure corn closed at the bottom with net losses of 1⅝c on the March while the distant futures were 1c lower to ⅝c higher. March finished at 81⅝@81½c and May at 86c. Kansas City was said to have offered No. 3 mixed corn to come here at equal to 9c under the May future, presumably in an effort to make storage room for wheat.

Oats market averaged higher despite the late weakness in corn, and the finish was at net gains of ¼@⅝c with March 40⅞c and May 42⅝c. Houses with northwestern connections bought May and sold July at the same price.

Scattered liquidation made its appearance in rye after a small advance early, and the close was at net losses of ½@1⅝c with March leading. The latter finished at 76⅝c and May at 75c. There was some buying of rye against sales of corn, but not on the scale that has been in evidence of late.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Foreign demand for cash wheat was distinctly disappointing, and while there were intimations of business including Manitobas at the Pacific coast the quantites were regarded as relatively small. Offerings abroad overnight were limited, due to the unsettled action of the futures market late Tuesday, Chicago handlers sold 50,000 bu wheat, 161,000 bu corn and 86,000 bu oats to the domestic trade with 50,000 bu corn to go to store.

GOOD ADVANCE IN LARD

Light offerings and fair commission house buying, with a little help by packers, the advance in grain and a jump of 10@25c in hogs, all made for a stronger market yesterday, with net gains of 20@22½c. Liverpool, however, was 3@6d lower on lard and 2s lower on bellies. Distributors were good buyers of bellies and they closed 12½c higher for futures. Cash trade was said to be quiet, although bellies were marked up ¼c on light offerings, the big packers having taken all offerings. Exports of lard were 387,612 lbs and of bacon 75,000 lbs. SHORTS COVERING IN EGGS

Short covering on reduced receipts resulted in a recovery of ⅝c, or $75 a car, in February egg futures on the Chicago mercantile exchange. The close in other contracts was unchanged. Sales were 179 cars and receipts 15,045 cases.

Light receipts stimulated butter futures which advanced ¼c, or $48 a car, with the exception of November. Sales were 80 cars and receipts 8,698 tubs. Prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

With the government farm board, or its agents, in the wheat market, with every operator looking for new developments and jumping at every piece of news pertaining to farm board activities, there is a different feeling in the trade than ever before experienced. Outside trade is light and prices move in a wide range on the purchase or sale of moderate quantities, which under ordinary conditions would pass practically unnoticed. Nervous, irregular markets are to be expected under such conditions as the only news that the trade cares for is what the government is doing.

Wheat sales on Tuesday were 106,793,000 bu, the largest since Oct. 24, 1929, when they set a record of 156,126,000 bu. Old timers in the trade claim that during the war sales exceeded these figures, but there is no record.

WORLD'S WHEAT STOCKS

World's available supply of wheat decreased 6,379,000 bu in January, compared with an increase of 30,196,000 bu in December and with a decrease of 11,758,000 bu last year. Detailed stocks as compiled by the Daily Trade Bulletin follow, last three ciphers omitted:

Mr. Ross McIntyre, President of MacMarr Stores, Inc., summarizes the salient points of his letter dated February 24, 1930, as follows:

HISTORY AND BUSINESS: MacMarr Stores, Inc., a Maryland Corporation, operates, directly or through subsidiaries, a chain of 1,400 grocery stores, 345 of which include meat markets. The chain includes 23 warehouses, five bakeries, two creameries, six wholesale grocery houses and one coffee and spice wholesale house. The operations are conducted in California, Arizona, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming and Nebraska. On the basis of total volume of business in 1929, the Company ranks second among the grocery chains west of the Mississippi River. There are negotiations pending for further acquisitions.

SALES AND EARNINGS: The combined net sales and net earnings of the predecessor concerns for the three years ended December 31, 1928, applicable to properties acquired by MacMarr Stores, Inc., and subsidiaries, after giving effect to (1) the elimination of interest charges on indebtedness either retired or not assumed (such eliminations amounting to $9,146.56 in 1926, $39,986.70 in 1927 and $105,279.69 in 1928), (2) the reduction of executives' salaries to the basis of contracts (such reductions amounting to $86,403.58 in 1926, $150,998.53 in 1927 and $177,219.99 in 1928), and (3) the adjustment of Federal Income Tax to the present rate of 12%, as certified by Messrs. Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., are tabulated below, together with the Company's preliminary figures on the same basis for 1929.

1927	1,037	58,007,056	1,493,548	2.51
1928	1,274	75,918,747	2,047,860	3.44
1929	1,394	87,174,791	2,075,000	3.48

NOTE: Figures for Self Service Grocery and Bay Cities Mercantile Co. included for 1928 and 1929 only; and for Piggly Wiggly Arizona Company, Inc. only from date of acquisition in 1929. The earnings of these concerns omitted for the earlier periods were not material.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The proceeds of this offering of $685,400 par value 7% Preferred Stock with Warrants will be used in part to reimburse the Company for capital expenditures in 1929 and in part for other corporate purposes.

The statements contained above are obtained from sources which we believe reliable, but in no event are such statements to be regarded as representations by us or as guaranteed by us. This advertisement is subject to a more complete circular, copies of which may be had on application to the undersigned.

We are offering a limited amount of the above Preferred Stock with Warrants subject to issue and acceptance by us with approval of our counsel, Messrs. Chadbourne, Hunt, Jaeckel & Brown, and subject to allotment or prior sale. Temporary Certificates will be delivered in the first instance.

NOW THERE ARE 8 Shares of General Electric instead of 2

There are now 8 shares of General Electric instead of 2 in each unit of Selected American Shares. During 1930 every unit will be increased by 25 shares of stock through split-ups in General Electric, National Biscuit and Canadian Pacific.

Since 1922, 15 of the 25 underlying stocks have been split with the result that 153 shares then would have grown to 476 shares now. This, without the outlay of a single additional dollar on the investor's part.

Stated in dollars, $1,000 invested in 1922 would now be worth $3,073.90.

If you buy now into this selected group of money-makers you can expect substantial appreciation in the value of your investment over a period of years. Their stocks are still selling relatively low. You will participate in all the income, all the profits in proportion to your holdings.

You can buy shares in any amount you wish from 10 shares to 2500 shares.

COTTON VALUES STRONGER

Cotton markets reflected the strength in grains and prices averaged higher but toward the last buyers were apparently filled up by moderate selling pressure, largely for profits and the close was unchanged to 6 points higher on the active futures in the various markets. Cables were stronger and Liverpool closed 2 to 3 points higher, with sales 4,000 bales. There was fair business in spreading between near and distant futures.

Nearly ideal conditions were reported for farm work by the government weekly weather crop report. An impression prevailed at the close that the market has had its break and that all unfavorable news has been discounted. Prices follow:

CUTS HARBOR FEES.

LISBON, Portugal.—(AP)—The Portuguese government has reduced the harbor dues and the embarkation and debarkation tax on all foreign ships calling at the port of Lisbon.

PRESENTS "Y" WITH TWO WEST SIDE PROPERTIES

Mrs. Emanuel Mandel Is the Donor.

BY AL CHASE.

When Mrs. Emanuel Mandel presented Michael Reese hospital some time ago with a $290,000 dispensary, erected at 29th street and Ellis street, she specified that the hospital's old dispensary properties at 1012 Maxwell street and 1336 South Morgan street be sold and the proceeds be paid to her. Yesterday the county records disclosed that the hospital trustees had been unable to sell the old buildings, and as a result Mrs. Mandel requested that they deed the properties to the board of trustees of the Chicago Y. M. C. A.

One of the two properties is a three story building at the northeast corner of Maxwell and Miller. The lot is 48x98. The other parcel, at 1336 South Morgan street, has an old improvement on it which is to be torn down. This lot is 51x95. The Y. M. C. A. is contemplating remodeling the old dispensary and installing in it a boys' and girls' club.

Widow of Store Founder.

Mrs. Emanuel Mandel is the widow of one of the founders of Mandel Bros. department store. The building she presented to Michael Reese hospital is called the Babette and Emanuel Mandel dispensary. Mrs. Mandel lives on Roger Williams avenue in Highland Park.

August Nelson has purchased the six apartment building at 8543-45 Drexel avenue from John Palmer, giving as part payment the southeast corner of 82d and South Park avenue. According to Carl F. Linder, broker for both parties, Mr. Palmer may build on the South Park corner this spring.

Two Hotel Deals.

Louise Augustin has purchased the leasehold and furnishings of the Jacqueline apartment hotel at 5506 Winthrop avenue from the Katherine Manor, Inc. The lease runs until 1941 at an annual rental of $19,100. Steinbock & Alexander, brokers in the deal, also report the sale of the leasehold and furnishings of the Glenwood apartment hotel at 6726 Glenwood avenue to Thomas and Martha Amble. The lease runs until 1940 at a reported annual rental of $13,056.

Max Swartz has sold the three apartment building at 1512 East 77th street to Philip J. Purpura at a reported $28,800. Edward H. Burke & Co. were brokers.

SEC. MELLON FAVORS BRANCH BANKING IN ECONOMIC AREAS ONLY

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Support of Secretary Mellon for branch banking in preference to chain or group banking was added today to that of J. W. Pole, controller of the currency, as the house banking committee continued its investigation of these phases of the nation's financial system.

In a letter to the committee the treasury head based his preference for branch banking on the greater concentration of responsibility under that system, but warned "even branch banking should be limited to definite economic areas."

"As to what these economic areas should be I am not prepared to state at this time without further study or thought," Secretary Mellon wrote. He requested that he be allowed to defer his appearance before the committee "until I have had an opportunity to study the facts which I hope your committee will develop."

Today's committee session was taken up with questioning by members of Controller Pole on his position in favor of "decentralized branch banking," which he advanced as a solution for the situation caused by the failure of many country banks and the concentration of banking capital in New York. His main reason for advocating the development of branch systems, he said, was to bring about the establishment of stronger banks to care for the needs of rural communities and the lesser commercial centers of the country.

FINANCIAL NOTES

A new issue of $4,500,000 Western Public Service company first mortgage and refunding 5½ per cent bonds series A is being marketed today at a price of 94½ to yield 5.89 per cent by Stone & Webster & Blodget, Inc., Chase Securities corporation, Bancamerica-Blair corporation and Brown Bros. & Co.

WHEN the First National Bank of Chicago was established, in 1863, it began to buy high grade bonds. It has bought them during the sixty-six years since that time in increasing volume.

The investment activities of the First National Bank and the First Union Trust and Savings Bank have been concentrated for years in the Bond Department of the latter bank. Through this department hundreds of millions of dollars of the banks' funds, as well as the funds of individuals, corporations, estates, banking institutions and insurance companies have been safely and profitably invested.

Six decades of experience in weighing security values, a broad diversity of issues thoroughly investigated, an investment service of the highest class—these are the major advantages offered to investors who buy from this bank. Inquiries regarding investments are invited without obligation.

Phoenix Hosiery.

A. B. G.: Phoenix Hosiery company, manufacturers of hosiery and underwear in Milwaukee, reported net income of $321,935 for 1929, against $371,176 a year before.

Earnings in 1929 were 1.47 times dividend requirements on 31,215 shares of 7 per cent first preferred [par $100], and were equal to 50 cents per share earned on 175,000 shares of par $5 common, compared with 59 cents per share on the common in 1928. There are also outstanding 5,000 shares of second preferred stock, par $100, held by officers of the company.

Current assets were $7,145,456 and current liabilities were $970,799 as of Dec. 31, 1929. This left a net working capital of $6,174,657, which compares with $6,402,708 at the close of 1928.

Meadows Manufacturing.

Stockholders of the company recently approved the issuance of 20,000 shares of $3 participating and convertible preferred stock, no par, which were offered to common stockholders at $40 per share.

The new preferred is convertible into common on the basis of six common shares for each preferred share. The conversion privilege is continuous. The preferred is subject to call at any time upon thirty days' notice. This stock, after receiving $3 a share in dividends, participates in additional distributions in the ratio of $4 for each $1 paid on the common. The old $4 cumulative preferred stock was retired in April, 1929.

No dividends have been reported on the common.

The preferred is speculative and the common is more so.

Utah Power and Light.

S. R. J.: Utah Power and Light company recently issued $4,000,000 additional first mortgage 5 per cent bonds, due Feb. 1, 1944.

Consolidated net earnings in the twelve months ended Nov. 30, 1929, were $5,794,058, and annual interest requirements are $1,839,850.

RAILROAD NOTES

The National Car company of Hamilton, Ont., announces the receipt of an order from the Canadian Pacific railway for 250 refrigerator cars, ten baggage cars and twenty-eight steel frames for passenger cars, the whole representing an expenditure of around $2,500,000.

Net operating income of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific for January decreased $673,604 from $1,343,139 in the same month last year. Gross operating revenue for the month was $11,488,640, compared with $12,624,691 a year ago.

A banking group headed by the First National Bank of New York has purchased, subject to approval, a new issue of $8,085,000 St. Louis and San Francisco Railway company 4½ per cent equipment trust certificates.

The Union Pacific will order within the next few days twenty-five freight locomotives, Carl R. Gray, president, states.

Permission to issue $14,000,000 of first mortgage 4½ per cent gold bonds was sought yesterday by the Pere Marquette railway. The new issue would be used in cancellation of a similar amount of the company's 5 per cent gold bonds.

International Great Northern Railway company declared payable on April 1 interest of 3 per cent on adjustment mortgage 6 per cent gold bonds series A for the six months ended Dec. 31, 1929. Rate of interest of bonds is 6 per cent per annum.

Chicago and Eastern Illinois January gross was $1,874,340, against $2,137,937 in 1929. Net operating deficit was $31,398, against net operating income of $174,546 in 1929.

An Open Letter to Our Clients

1855—1930

On the threshold of its seventy-fifth year, I wish to extend to you on behalf of this organization our thanks and appreciation for your patronage and good will.

You are a part of a large group of investors, numbering more than two hundred thousand, who have purchased securities from our organization during that long period of three-quarters of a century.

Since 1855 the confidence of our clients in the basic safety of real estate financing has made possible the underwriting by this organization of hundreds of millions of dollars of real estate securities. This represents more than 60,000 separate pieces of financing.

Your investments have made possible the erection of homes, apartments, hotels, factory, office and business buildings. You have played an essential part in the growth and development of Chicago and other large American cities.

You realize that real estate financing is essential to the future growth and prosperity of our country; therefore we feel that you can be relied upon to play your part in the future, just as you have in the past.

This organization has faith in the future of real estate and of real estate securities. Although at the present time real estate is in a depressed condition and some real estate securities are temporarily in trouble, nevertheless a comparison of the unusual record of real estate securities with other types of financing over a long period of years justifies our faith. It also justifies the confidence which you, our clients, are demonstrating daily by the purchase of sound real estate securities from this organization.

Sincerely,

M. E. Greenebaum
President.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 26.—A possibility that the stock in the Fox Film company owned by William Fox might be used against the refinancing plan advocated by Mr. Fox at the stockholders' meeting on March 5 became apparent today when it was learned that an injunction is being sought to prevent the voting trustees under an agreement of Dec. 3, 1929, from voting the stock.

Supreme Court Justice Nathan Bijur signed an order on Tuesday, returnable tomorrow, to show cause why an injunction should not be granted. He granted also a temporary stay preventing the stock from being used until the issues are decided.

The order is directed against the Bankers' Trust company, Harry L. Stuart, president of Halsey, Stuart & Co., and John E. Otterson, president of Electrical Research Products, Inc. The two last named, who are creditors of the Fox Film company for $27,000,000, were made voting trustees under the agreement. A difference of opinion arose and the agreement was never effective.

Meanwhile suits were started in the federal courts for a receiver for the company. To offset receivership the refinancing plan was worked out which included the issuance of $65,000,000 in new securities. It was presented to the court by Samuel Untermyer, counsel for Mr. Fox. Under this plan the old voting trust is canceled, Lehman Bros., Dillon, Read & Co., and Transamerica-Blair & Co. underwriting the new financing, and new voting trustees are named to act during the five year period the agreement runs.

COAL OUTPUT DROPS.

For the first week in several months, bituminous coal production fell below 10,000,000 net tons in the week ended Feb. 22, the National Coal association states, estimating output at approximately 9,600,000 tons.

SHEEP—Fed western lambs yesterday	$ 9.00@11.35
One month ago	11.75@12.75
One year ago	16.00@17.00
Top yesterday, $11.35; average, $10.40.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 5,500 cattle, 23,000 hogs, and 9,000 sheep.

Price trends in the live stock markets were mixed yesterday. Hogs recovered all but 15@30c of the week's sharp loss, while lamb prices dipped 25@50c to new low levels for the season and for the last eight years. The extreme top price for lambs at $11.35 was exactly $6.00 below the corresponding day in 1929 and $4.90 lower than in 1928. The cattle market, as a whole, was lowest of the year for Wednesday.

Hog receipts dropped below expectations yesterday, resulting in a sharp reaction of the market. The extreme top advanced to $11.30, with the general average up 30c at $10.85, comparing with a top of $11.60 and general average of $11.00 at the close of last week, the high point of the season.

Heavy Packing Sows Are Weak.

The only weak spot was the market for heavy packing sows. Extreme weights have been accumulating during the last few days and ruled weak to 10c lower yesterday. Several of the "regular" buyers of packing sows have been practically out of the market since last week's close. Small packers and shippers carried limited orders, but with receipts small there was a good clearance of choice grades at the full strength. The 8,000 estimated left at the close consisted largely of weighty and lower priced stock. Five leading western markets expect 58,000 today, against 64,000 the previous Thursday.

Salesmen were unable to hold cattle prices in line with Tuesday, despite meager supplies at all points again yesterday. With the exception of well finished steers, which were scarce and steady, tendency ruled weak to lower in most branches, cows and heifers showing the sharpest price cuts.

Butcher stock entered new low price levels for the year and was hard to dispose of at the decline. Prime 1,365 lb beef steers topped the price list at $15.00, although only occasional loads were good enough to pass $14.00, with bulk of sales at $10.75@13.60, lowest of the year for Wednesday. Some medium grades of 900@1,100 lb averages were purchased at $10.50@11.00 and a few of the poorest steers of beef merit as low as $9.50. Calves sold steady. Stockers and feeders were scarce and barely steady.

Lambs $9.00@11.35.

Fat lambs in carload lots sold within a range of $9.00@11.35 on one of the most unsatisfactory markets of the season yesterday. The "cream" of the 80@85 lb averages went to packers, shippers, and city butchers at $10.85@11.35, while $9.00@10.25 bought most of the 90@98 lb averages in midseason and later. Odd head of extreme weights were rejected and sold as low as $8.00. Aged sheep and yearlings were steady to weak, fancy light ewes reaching $6.00, while mixed yearlings and 2 year old wethers were sold at $7.75. Feeding lambs met better demand at $10.00@10.50.

BUSINESS PERSONALS

Election of George F. Mitchell as president of the Peoples Gas, Light and Coke company and Samuel Insull Jr., as vice president, was formally approved yesterday by directors. Samuel Insull was named chairman. Other officers named were A. L. Tossell, assistant to the president; R. B. Harper, vice president, and Eskil K. Bjork, assistant secretary.

Formation of the Chicago stock exchange firm of Connell, Fox & Devlin, with offices at 111 W. Monroe street, has been announced. The firm will specialize in bank and insurance stocks and institutional brokerage. Charles M. Connell, Austin Fox, and John L. Devlin are the partners.

C. P. Fowler of Paine, Webber & Co. has joined Schimberg, Trahan & Co. and will be in charge of their investors' service department.

Chicago Stock Exchange governors yesterday approved the transfer of memberships to Timothy A. Collins, Thomas A. Kitter, and MacKenzie Williams.

Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, will be the principal speaker at the annual dinner of the Chicago curb exchange at the Stevens hotel tonight. Philip R. Clarke, president of the Central Trust Company of Illinois will also address the gathering. Col. Randolph will discuss Chicago's growth as a financial center and its influence in the industrial and commercial life of the central states.

Another strand has been added to the cord which binds Electric Bond and Share interests to the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company. The election of P. B. Sawyer, director of Electric Bond and Share to the board of managers of the Lehigh Coal concern aroused considerable interest in financial circles yesterday because of its widespread implications.

RISE IN WHEAT HALTS RETREAT OF N. Y. STOCKS

Bull Traders Push Prices Upward Again.

Center on Pivotals.

Bullish activity centered chiefly on leading pivotal issues and groups susceptible to easy maneuvering. American Can, Eastman Kodak, the principal tobacco shares, Underwood-Elliott-Fisher, Johns-Manville, Air Reduction, Case Threshing Machine and so forth. All these stocks are in a position to respond quickly to buying demonstrations for the reason that their capitalizations are relatively small and the floating supply limited accordingly.

Case and Johns-Manville each closed the day showing a gain of 5¼ points, American Can was up 5, Eastman, 6¼; Air Reduction, 4⅞; and American Tobacco, 8¼ points.

U. S. Steel went to 183, a jump of nearly 4 points on the day. Motors, as usual, made about the poorest group showing of the lot, with Chrysler doing about the best with a net gain of a point.

Buying in the amusement share division centered chiefly in Warner Bros. and Paramount-Famous-Lasky, the first named stock shooting ahead nearly 6 points. The amusement industry is looked on as headed for a profitable year in 1930, and moreover the stocks of the leading companies are now regarded as having been unduly depressed in consequence of the situation which developed in Fox Film some months back.

Radio Attracts Interest.

Radio attracted particular interest as it crossed 47 to a new top for the year on heavy buying, a large part of which was said to be coming from well known professional traders vacationing in Florida. The closing price on this old line favorite registered an upswing of nearly 3 points on the day.

Columbia Gas, American Waterworks, Standard Gas and the old standby, Foreign Power, were conspicuous in the utilities class. The buying that came into Columbia during the day was based reputedly on the assumption that the stock would go ex the 25 per cent stock dividend on Friday. The last day of the month had been set as the date on which the stock dividend would come off, but a recent ruling by the stock exchange decreed that the stock should not be quoted ex the stock dividend until April 1, next.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was quiet today and in absence of business prices were nominally unchanged at 3.55c for spots delivered. The unsettled state in Cuba has tended to check buying and there appears to be a disposition to hold off and await fresh developments. There was a renewal of heavy general selling, led by houses with Cuban connections, in raw futures and prices sold into new low ground for the season on all positions. Trading was more active than for many weeks past, with the decline attributed to expectations of the abandonment of the single selling agency in Cuba, which led to apprehensions of increased offerings from that quarter. Approximate sales were 113,600 tons. Prices follow:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. close.
March	1.65	1.65	1.59	1.60	1.64
May	1.74	1.74	1.67	1.67	1.74

December	1.96	1.96	1.92	1.93	1.98
January	1.98	1.98	1.94	1.94	2.00

The unsettled state in the raw market checked buying in refined. Prices were unchanged at 4.95c for fine granulated.

COFFEE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—(AP)—COFFEE—Futures were generally lower today, under scattered liquidation which was promoted by the slightly easier showing of Brazil. No. 7 contracts closed at a net decline of 13 to 23 points. Sales estimated, 34,000 bags. Santos contracts closed at a net decline of 15 to 23 points. Sales, 33,000 bags.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL was moderately active and irregular today. March closing 4 points lower while other positions were unchanged to 10 points higher. The circulation of delivery notices for 5,400 barrels resulted in scattered liquidation in the spot position, which was absorbed by refiners on a scale down. The distant months held steady on local and outside support induced by the strength of lard, along with a further rally in grains and hogs. Sales, 10,600 brls. Prime crude, 7.25c; prime summer, yellow spot, 8.30c; March closed, 8.40c; May, 8.93c; July, 9.17c; September, 9.34c.

Annual interest requirements of these Gold Debentures					$600,000

The balance of net profits of the Corporation and subsidiary companies for the first 8 months of the current fiscal year to December 31, 1929, based upon Company statements, after deducting dividends on preferred stocks of subsidiary companies and allowance for minority interests was $3,505,970 which is at the annual rate of $5,258,955.

The balance of net profits of the Corporation and subsidiary companies for the five-year period, as stated above, averaged $4,157,378, which is equivalent to over 6.9 times the annual interest requirements on these Ten-Year 6% Gold Debentures. Of this average $2,337,939 which alone is equivalent to 3.89 times such annual interest requirements was derived from companies having a total of less than $100,000 prior interest requirements per annum on outstanding securities and term indebtedness.

Assets and Equity: Total assets as shown by the consolidated balance sheet of the Corporation and subsidiary companies as of December 31, 1929, giving effect to this financing, after deducting funded debt and preferred stocks of subsidiary companies and all liabilities other than this issue amounted to $60,588,868. Net current assets after this financing will amount to approximately eighteen million dollars.

The value of the equity based on the aggregate market value of preferred and common stocks outstanding at present quotations, is in excess of $50,000,000.

Common Stock Purchase Warrants: Each $1,000 Gold Debenture of this issue will be accompanied by a common stock purchase warrant, non-detachable (except in case of exercise or in event of the redemption by call of debentures) entitling the holder to purchase 20 shares (10 shares in the case of $500 denomination Gold Debentures) common stock (voting trust certificates) at a price of $20 per share if exercised on or before September 1, 1931; thereafter at $22 per share if exercised on or before March 1, 1933; thereafter at $25 per share if exercised on or before March 1, 1935; thereafter warrants will become null and void.

Common Stock: The Common Stock (voting trust certificates) as now constituted was issued in 1928 and is listed on the New York and San Francisco Stock Exchanges. Since that time 1,600,000 shares have been traded in at a price range of 16 low, 29¾ high. The Corporation or its predecessor has an unbroken dividend record for a period of over 20 years. Present dividend rate is $1.00 per share.

Purpose of Issue: Proceeds from the issuance of these Gold Debentures will be used to reimburse the Corporation for capital expenditures heretofore made; to provide funds for plant additions and betterments and for other corporate purposes.

Corporation agrees to make application to list these Gold Debentures on the New York Stock Exchange.

All legal proceedings incident to the issuance of these Gold Debentures are taken subject to the approving opinion of Messrs. Pillsbury, Madison & Sutro, and Messrs. Orrick, Palmer & Dahlquist, Attorneys-at-Law, San Francisco, California. Offering is made subject to the issuance of a final permit from the Commissioner of Corporations of the State of California. Delivery will be made in the first instance in the form of temporary debentures to be later exchanged for definitive debentures.

The Ace of Spades

By WILLIAM MACLEOD RAINE

SYNOPSIS.

Jim Rutledge, accompanied by Sim Hart, is sent out with a herd of cattle to fulfill a contract made by his father, Chandler Rutledge. On the trail they are overtaken by men from the Moss outfit, enemies of Rutledge. The Moss men start a stampede and drive off some of the Rutledge cattle. Jim recovers them, but in doing so shoots and injures one of the Moss raiders. The men of the Moss outfit swear to be revenged for the injury and pursue him. Jim takes refuge in a ranch house, where he finds Ellen Lawson alone in the house. She hides him when the Moss gang comes to the house inquiring for him and sends them off on another trail, even though she learns that he has killed her brother. Jim rides on into the town, after saving Ellen from the unwelcome attentions of Pete Moss. Shear, the town marshal, threatens to arrest him for the attack on Steve Lawson, but Harrison Pendleton, an old trail driver, arrives on the scene in time to save him from arrest. Shortly afterwards Shear kills Doc Brown, who he claimed had witnessed his life. This causes a great deal of excitement in the little cattle town. Jim goes into the local gambling den and is astonished to find Ellen Lawson there. She tells him she has come to speak to her brother Steve. Jim guides her to where Steve is sitting in a poker game with Shear, Buck Roe and others. As they reach the table the lights go out and when the room is again lighted Shear is found crumpled in his chair with Jim's knife in him. Ellen's right hand is covered with blood. She had become separated from Jim in the dark and some one had jostled her. In putting out her hand to support she had touched the crumpled figure. Jim and Ellen are questioned by the sheriff, Manders, and Jim is arrested but is later released. He is determined to find the murderer in order to clear himself.

INSTALLMENT XXVIII.

AN UNDISTURBED SPIRIT.

Jim filed that away in his mind for reference. Pendleton's view was a reflection of public opinion, that the day had not been distant when these two men would be bound to clash. Along with it he filed also a fact and an impression. The fact had to do with a pair of run-down-at-the-heel boots, the impression with the look in the eyes of the sheriff when he had given him the warning that sounded more like a threat.

Pendleton drew Jim to one side. "I got a message for you, boy," he said with his most knowing smile.

"I'm listenin', sir," Jim said warily.

"Yes."

"The red headed young lady."

"I know who you mean," Jim told him. His voice was cool, his manner undisturbed. He did not intend to be "joshed" into either impatience or embarrassment.

"All right. I'll see her."

"You act like a wooden Indian in front of a cigar store. Haven't you any red blood in yore doggoned veins?" Pendleton asked.

"Home, I reckon. Where will she be?"

"Waitin' for you at the Trail's End. Come up to my room."

"I'll be there in ten minutes."

. . . . . .

Ellen Lawson was born to the heritage of a warm heart. By nature she was trusting. From her childhood she retained a certain innocence, a certain eagerness. Her response to friendliness was instinctive. To Rutledge she had turned spring rather than summer. In her eyes was still the dream, the look of misty wonder that contact with life must soon drive away.

"Come in, boy," the cattleman said.

Today she was troubled. She drooped. All the youth in her was quenched. She had been sitting, but she rose instantly when Jim came into the room. Another woman was present, a plump motherly person of middle age. Pendleton stood by the window. The older woman was introduced as Mrs. Glen.

Ellen broke into speech. "I've come to warn you, Mr. Rutledge. Mrs. Glen offered to come. But I had to tell you myself. I had to be sure you understood."

"Old man Moss sent for her this morning," the cattleman explained. "He made threats against you, Jim."

"He's going to prove you killed Joe Shear. He means to—to hang you if he can," she cried.

He smiled to allay the alarm in her eyes. "I'm not worryin' about that, miss Ellen. It was right good of you to come, though. Did he tell you how he meant to prove it?"

"Pete and Buck Roe are ready to swear anything. He wants Steve and me to tell lies about it."

"Does Steve feel the way you do about it?" the young man asked.

"I don't know how he feels." There came to the girl a passionate urge to unburden herself. "He's a terrible man—Dave Moss. He'll make Steve do as he wants. Maybe he'll make me, too. I don't know."

"How can he make Steve come through for him if he don't want to?" Jim asked. "Steve's a grown man. He's a game fellow. I happen to know that. How can Devil Dave make him do what's wrong?"

"He can. It doesn't matter why. There's something—— Never mind about that," she cried wildly.

Jim looked at her. "You don't mean Moss can prove Steve killed Shear?"

"No—no—no. How can you say that? Steve had no more to do with it than you."

"I felt sure of that. But there's something he's got on the boy. That's the way of it, I reckon."

"Never mind what it is. I'm warning you. Don't depend on Steve."

"Or on you? Didn't you say he might make you back up what he rigs up against me?"

"I told him I wouldn't—and I won't. But——"

She broke off, a sob of despair in her throat. Gently Jim helped her out. "But he'll turn the screws on Steve if you don't. Is that the way of it?"

"I don't want to talk about that. I just want to tell you that—that he's plotting against you. He'll get you if he can. First thing you know he'll——"

Ellen looked at this brown faced Texan youth whose smile reflected a spirit undisturbed. He was so quietly master of himself that his serenity distressed her. Why did he not give more weight to the enmity of Devil Dave? One could not go laughing through deadfalls like a god whom hate and malice could not touch. That gallant head she loved would be in the dust before one could lift a hand to save himself. A wave of terror shuddered through her.

"I'll look out for myself," Jim promised. "Don't you worry about me, miss Ellen. This fellow is nothing but a bad hombre. I've got friends, on account of my father. More than Moss has."

"By jacks, that's right," Pendleton cried in his deep voice. "I can tell you? Didn't you say he might make you back up what he rigs up against me?"

"I told him I wouldn't—and I won't. But——"

"By jacks, that's right," Pendleton cried in his deep voice. "I can tell you twenty Texas drivers in this town quicker 'n scat, all of 'em his enemies."

"The question isn't about me, but about you an' yore brother," Jim told the girl. "If you're in a jam, we're here to help you. But we can't do a thing till we know what the trouble is. Devil Dave has got something on Steve. Can't you tell us what it is?"

"No, I can't. It's not my secret."

"You trust us, don't you?"

"O, yes—yes."

"Don't you think you'd better tell the gentlemen?" Mrs. Glen suggested in a low voice. "I do, my dear. Tell them everything."

"No." Ellen shook her red head despairingly. "They can't help. It's—it's got to be the way Dave Moss says—about me, I mean."

Young Rutledge's jaw squared. What was it Devil Dave had decided about her? Why did all the life die out of her face when she spoke of it? He would find out. He would show her that the Moss gang did not have the say about everything.

"That's where you're wrong," he said. "It doesn't have to be his way. Just let us know the facts, so that we can stand up to him."

"Come in, boy," the cattleman said and turned to Jim. "I sent for him."

"Good," agreed Rutledge. "Let's get at the bottom of this."

Steve came into the room a step or two. He looked at his sister and the two Texans, a sulky suspicion on his face.

"What you want with me? What's she doing here?" he asked Pendleton, nodding toward his sister.

Jim offered his hand. "First off, let's get bygone grudges out of the way. Sorry I shot you. But you'll admit it was foolish to reach for yore gun. I had to act quick to save my own bacon."

"That's all right." Steve said grudgingly. He took the other young man's hand with no heartiness. Of late he had been an unhappy youth driven by fear and dread. He was being crowded into a corner, and within him a sick terror rode his soul. Like all hunted men he felt that he stood alone against a hostile world.

Pendleton came up to the point with bluff frankness. "Boy, I sent for you because I want you to line up with us an' not with Devil Dave's outfit. You've all in a jam more or less, looks like. Jim here is. I've a notion you an' maybe yore sister is, too. What I want to say is that we're ready to help you. Can you say that much for Moss and his crowd? Trail with us and you'll head straight for trouble. You know that as well as I do. They're a bad outfit, every last one of 'em."

GASOLINE ALLEY—ALL'S WELL THAT STARTS WELL

How to Shape Lives to Science, People's Task

Wilbur Sees Kings Passing, Democracy Tested.

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the interior, told the members of the department of superintendence of the National Education association here today that kings are passing from the stage and democracy is taking their place.

"Instead of the favored few we now have the interest of the many to consider," he said, "with limits universally set only by the limits of the human mind. We are breaking down barriers with new truths.

"To look back fifty years before looking ahead gives one a sense of shock as to what may be before us. We have but started to follow the guiding star of science. Our natural abilities have not changed materially, but they have captured for us a mass of information and a great series of methods which have given us new powers and a greater range of action than man ever has known before.

"We are now in an age of science and democracy. The great issue is how to harmonize the two. In democracy a majority decision determines if one or the other course shall be carried out. But science has no majority rule. There is only one rule, and that is truth, and its laws control the universe."

Much of education, he said, has been to groove into the brain of a child the fixed thinking of the day. What should be sought is to keep plastic the mental process of youth and adolescence. Our advances through science are so fast that our political, social, and economic mechanisms are breaking. Our country is witnessing the incapacity to settle major problems by sheer political procedure. Educators must detect and train experts, and while we must care for every one capable the steady rise of the general level by education makes it more imperative that we discover those of exceptional genius.

We must be alert, or, as we know more of nutrition and human management and surround ourselves with more iron and steel and concrete instead of trees, flowers, and open spaces, we may become menagerie animals.

A report of a study of the effects of prohibition on youth since 1920 was made by S. M. Brownell, E. M. Conklin, and P. T. Rankin of Michigan, covering junior and senior high schools in the entire Detroit area. Their conclusions are drinking is less of a problem and fewer pupils are using alcoholic drinks than in 1917, or before, but there is more stealing, more cases of sex delinquency and in general more cases of delinquency, serious enough to get into court.

Discusses Schools' Revenues.

The public schools can be made an effective educational force only through state support and administration. That is the opinion of Prof. Henry G. Morrison of the University of Chicago expressed in his new book, "School Revenue" [University of Chicago Press]. He says the present system of small school districts should be replaced by a structure supported by a state income tax.

Prof. Morrison gives three reasons for the constant distress of city school systems: First, the schools try to do too much; second, they try to utilize financial resources through a tax system that experts call the worst in the world, and, finally, the system is intrusted to thousands of state districts.

The cost of maintaining schools in the United States is normally one-fifth of the entire governmental expenditure, according to figures com-

Mexico Revives Aztec Festivals as Spectacles of Historical Interest

BY JOHN CORNYN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 26.—The department of education announced today that the national museum will reproduce the ancient Aztec Indian festivals, each in its respective place in the calender.

For that purpose Mexican archaeologists and historians have been making extensive researches to determine the number and the nature of the Aztec festivals. Not only will the festivals current in the valley of Mexico be celebrated, but those of surrounding states.

Among natives of Mexico, upward of 40 per cent of the population, ceremonies and music antedating the time of the Spanish conquest still survive.

The government will provide means of transportation to Mexico City of the Indians from interior points who still preserve ancient songs and dances and music. There natives will take part in the regular folklore programs to be put on by the museum in at least three distinct parts of the capital at the same time.

Miss Britten to Christen New Scout Cruiser Chicago

Miss Elizabeth Britten, sister of Congressman Fred A. Britten, chairman of the house committee on naval affairs, was named by Mayor Thompson yesterday to christen the new 10,000 ton scout cruiser, Chicago, which will be launched on April 10 at Mare Island, Cal. At the request of Ald. B. A. Cronson [4th], the sponsor of the movement to name a cruiser for the city, the mayor appointed a committee to arrange for the ceremonies. Theodore W. Miller, was named chairman.

The proceeds of the festival will be used to pay off the debt of St. Basil's Greek church, cathedral of the Chicago diocese, and for the expansion of the church activities.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

Would you care to marry if you had to continue to work?

The Answers.

Miss Romaine Ording, 3749 North Kedvale avenue, assistant secretary—No. I believe it makes the man lazy if the wife is employed. A woman who works after marriage gets accustomed to that extra money and is not satisfied unless she keeps on working. So she's at work for the rest of her life.

Miss Gladys Nave, 906 Santa Rosa avenue, Wheaton, Ill., stenographer—There's no sense in getting married if you have to keep right on working. A man should be able to support a wife before he asks a girl to marry him. There are exceptions, of course.

Mrs. Philip Kamesch, 1921 Estes avenue, housewife—Certainly. No girl need let a little thing like that keep her from marrying if she finds the man she likes. I have been working all through our ten years of married life. I enjoy the work and I am glad I got married.

Miss Anne Joch, 7827 South Loomis boulevard, home girl—I hesitate to make a positive statement. I might not like to turn down a man whom I might want to marry because of having to work during the first few years of our married life. My help to him might be far more than made up for later.

Miss Edna Schaus, 490 Ridgewood avenue, Glen Ellyn, Ill., secretary—I wouldn't want to unless I had to. I don't believe I would anticipate marriage with any degree of happiness if I had to continue working, and I doubt if I would be as happy afterwards as I should be. To come home from work and face the housework would not be very enticing.

Salvation Army Plans New Buildings for Homeless Men

Enlargement of its work among jobless men will be undertaken by the Salvation Army, Lewis E. Myers, president of the Salvation Army board in Chicago, announced yesterday. Plans for new buildings are being drawn, he declared.

"The homeless, destitute, and transient men must receive adequate assistance, not only as an act of humanity, but as a protection against the development of criminal tendencies," Mr. Myers stated.

Skilled workers form the majority of the homeless, it was discovered in a survey made during the winter months by the army. Of 1,000 Chicago cases examined 524 were skilled workers, 476 unskilled, 18 were college graduates, 212 high school graduates, 713 grade school graduates, and 26 were illiterates. The list included twenty-nine nationalities from forty-two states.

During November, December, and January, according to the survey, the Salvation Army gave work to 10,559 men in their industrial homes, paying $88,188 in wages. Free meals were provided for 22,422 men and the transient bureau assisted 13,811 others with medical aid and transportation. A total of 46,792 men were aided at a cost of $102,532.

U. of C. Grad Students Hope to Cut High Thesis Cost

Representatives of fifty organizations of graduate students at the University of Chicago will meet at the Graduate club house, 59th street and University avenue, tonight to protest against a new university regulation which requires each candidate for the degree of doctor of philosophy to have 100 copies of his thesis printed at his own expense.

Brook Steen, president of the graduate council, who called the meeting, said that rule would require an expenditure of more than $400 by each student.

The old rule required only that candidates for the degree provide three typewritten copies for the university library and print abstracts of their theses, the cost of which averaged from $50 to $75.

Judge of Boys' Court to Talk Before Scouts

Judge Francis B. Allegretti of the Boys' court will give his estimate of scouting today at a luncheon meeting in the Union League club of the campaign committees of the Chicago Boy Scout council. The latter is raising a $1,250,000 fund for a four year expansion program of the Boy Scouts in Chicago. Silas H. Strawn, executive chairman of the campaign, also will speak. George W. Rossetter, head of the business and professional groups, will preside.

THE STAGE

MRS. FISKE has put aside her latest play as a failure and will take up the revival habit. On March 13, in New York, she will appear as Mme. Malaprop in Sheridan's "The Rivals," under the direction of Messrs. Erlanger and Tyler.

Others in the company will be: James T. Powers, as Bob Acres; Pedro de Cordoba, as Faulkland; John Craig, as Sir Anthony Absolute; Fiske O'Hara, as Sir Lucius O'Trigger; Rollo Peters, as Capt. Jack; Betty Linley, as Julia; Margery Maude, daughter of Cyril Maude, as Lydia Languish; Percival Vivian, as Fag, and Georgette Cohan, as Lucy. That sounds like an "all-star" cast, of the kind in which George C. Tyler specializes.

But Chicago will see "The Rivals" again before Mrs. Fiske gets here. The old comedy is announced as the next production at the Goodman theater, to open Tuesday, March 11. Whitford Kane and Mary Agnes Doyle will be prominent in the cast.

When William Gillette leaves the Erlanger theater, he will be followed by another eminent and well-loved veteran of the stage—Otis Skinner, who will offer for an engagement of two weeks "Papa Juan." The title is new, but the play is familiar to Chicago; it had a run of ten weeks at the Harris last spring as "A Hundred Years Old." This piece is a modern Spanish comedy, dealing with the character and philosophy of a centenarian.

Queenie Smith will return to the Chicago stage in "The Street Singer," opening Sunday, March 9, at the Apollo theater. This musical comedy has had a long run on Broadway. Other entertainers in the company are John Price Jones, Harry K. Morton, Nick Long Jr., Ruth Shields, Eddie Garvie, Cæsar Romero, Peggy Cornell, Nell Kelly, Franklyn Ardell, Frank Lalor, and Jane Alden.

Correction of a recent item regarding the subscription season of operetta revivals at the Majestic:

Lehar's "The Merry Widow," which will be given instead of Herbert's "Sweethearts," as the fifth of the series, will fall within the regular subscription. "The Chocolate Soldier" will be added to the series as a sixth revival, and a new subscription list has been started to include it.

Here are the titles of some of the new plays that will be staged in New York between now and St. Patrick's day: "Broadway Interlude," "This Man's Town," "Small Potatoes," and "Mayfair." . . . And two Negro musicals are now in rehearsals—"Afri-Bel-Canto" and "Hot and Bothered." . . . Next Monday evening Richard Bennett will break loose in the drama again, starting at Newark, N. J. His play is now called "In Command"; it was formerly labeled "Siberia."

The managers have already begun to frame a schedule for Chicago's theatrical amusements next summer. "Everything's Jake," a comedy by Don Marquis which is popular in New York, will be represented here during the warm weather by a duplicate company. C. C.

Birmingham Theater Is 1,000th to Install Talkies

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The prophets who foresaw a swift passing of the talkie fad in England have confessed their mistake. It was announced today that the thousandth theater in the British Isles had just installed talkies. It is located at Birmingham. Since talkies began, London film audiences have increased 25 to 33 per cent. The average weekly attendance of London's west end cinema is 600,000. The other theaters, however, do not seem to be losing in custom although it is believed many persons are going to the cinema who were not interested in silent films.

Hutchins Adds to U. of C. Plans for Under Grads

Will Aid Students to Find Themselves.

Expansion of the University of Chicago's educational program to provide better facilities for undergraduate students is the aim of President Robert Maynard Hutchins. Addressing one thousand persons at the first annual alumni assembly last night at the Stevens hotel, President Hutchins dispelled the idea spread in recent years that the university is to become, in the main, a graduate school.

To care for the undergraduates, President Hutchins, who took up the direction of the university only 150 days ago, suggested the establishment of a collegiate division on the south side of the Midway. There would be located the new dormitories for men and women, soon to be built, and an educational building containing classrooms and a library.

"The experiments of this division should center on the business of getting the student started on his education," President Hutchins said. "We should regard the stay of any student in the collegiate division as dependent on the rapidity of his own adjustment, his reaction to the university's opportunities, and his own qualifications for advanced work.

"Normally an individual might stay there two years. On the other hand, he might spend one or three years in the collegiate division. At the conclusion of this period he should enter the university, as distinguished from a collegiate program.

"In the university his object should be to begin the study of some division of knowledge that is of particular interest to him and which he is qualified to deal with. This program also should be flexible; he should go as fast as his abilities permit. In those subjects in which he choses to specialize he should have a minimum of instruction and should put forth a maximum of independent effort. In those which he merely wants to know about he should be lectured to en masse by the best lecturers to be obtained."

Lack of adequate scholarship funds is a handicap to the university in its efforts to form the best possible group of undergraduates, President Hutchins told the alumni. Many of the university's scholarships are turned down because they provide only the tuition.

Among the betterments listed by President Hutchins in the undergraduate colleges were the improvement of the teaching staff, provision of $3,000,000 for new dormitories, a new fieldhouse, the new Epstein art center, and plans for a school of music.

"It is now recognized that the university is a place where first class undergraduate education may be obtained," he said. "We have every confidence that this is so and that we can make it more so."

In graduate education, the president said, the University of Chicago must be the first to make a distinction between training of research men and training of teachers. The program of the school of education made possible by a recent gift of $1,000,000 is to be formed with a view of educating teachers on a new plane.

"The first great need of the university is for buildings and facilities that are indispensable for the work of our faculty, and the second is for salaries," President Hutchins asserted. "It is clear that in the near future we must add substantially to our revenue or lose our position of leadership.

"We are now making a survey that will provide the basis for considerable economies in the university's operation. We are, in short, doing all that we can to help ourselves."

Walter Hudson, president of the alumni council, was chairman of the assembly and Dean Gordon J. Laing of the graduate schools was toastmaster. Other speakers were Miss Mary Courtney and Donald S. Trumbull.

Education Called Boon to Farmers in Present Era

Rapid City, S. D., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Education is agriculture's fulcrum for raising the social status of the farmer, Herman G. James, president of the University of South Dakota, said so tonight at the farm development institute. If the farmers gives all their children a higher education those who go into the cities will find a greater demand for their brains and hands, Dr. James reasoned. Virtually all civilizations have depended upon highly developed agriculture, he said, citing those of the Egyptians, Babylonians, Chinese, and, in this hemisphere, the Mayas.

Show of Modernist Art Is in Progress at Marshall Field's

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

A clever and picturesque modernist show opened yesterday in the Marshall Field galleries. Mr. Becker, who is in charge of the galleries, said quite plainly that he could send across and get thirty-odd modernist paintings from Paris if he chose, but he thought it worth while to show what proven Chicago artists are doing at the moment with modernism. Apparently they are not standing still. This exhibit is stronger in many ways than that of last year.

For example, there is more consecutive thought in the pictures; there is more solid construction; there is a clearer concept of color and color rhythm. Instead of thirty attempts at shocking one, there are thirty efforts to illustrate exactly where contemporary art of a certain school is tending. These radicals are cutting themselves loose from their first sporadic outbreak and settling down to the realities of enduring value.

To Frances Strain honor must go for "Cats," a canvas that has as much fine textural quality about it as the most conservative critic could desire. Her color is startlingly good, too, and the composition pleasing. Her "Landscape," seen at a distance, is a joyous chant, the clashing colors swinging into coherence; seen close, her scarlet tree dwindles to a ripe tomato some one has set a careless foot upon.

Emile J. Grumieaux, president of the Chicago Society of Artists, submits three canvases. "Sleepy Village" is a rhythmic movement of color, alive and gay; the "Hill and Dale" works through a somber foreground into a captivating glimpse of sunny farmhouses and fields; the "Vegetable Arrangement" is excellently handled. Fred Biesel has a rakish pineapple, a purposeful pineapple which dominates the lesser fry of smaller fruits and the highly colored wall paper that give it backing; his "Winter Afternoon" is almost equally fascinating.

Jean Crawford Adams has a delightful canvas in "Cassis, France." Emil Arnim casts joyous triangles through decorative space, and George Josimovich follows him far enough to take to himself also a symbol and bestow wriggling worms in season and out through his creations. Charles Biesel shows an exquisite painting of flowers "Cosmos and Zinnias"; Frances Foy offers a beautiful portrait of an elderly lady, "Portrait of Mrs. Heil," and a tantalizing bird in "Aspidistras"; Gustaf Dalstrom has pleasant color and good structural quality in his "Portrait of a Young Girl."

The exhibition will continue to March 12.

Jesuit College Library Memorial to Chicagoan

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Mobile, Ala., Feb. 26.—Ground was broken today for a library building at Springhill Jesuit college in fulfilling a bequest by Thomas Byrne, who was a Chicago contractor. The ground was blessed by the Rev. J. M. Walsh, S. J., president of the college. Three grandchildren of the donor turned the sod. They were Mart J. Byrne, Hugh Daly Byrne, and Thomas Byrne O'Donnell, all of Chicago. Mrs. Nora Byrne, widow of the donor; Mrs. Hyland, a sister; Paul Byrne, a son; Mrs. Richard O'Donnell, a daughter, her husband, Richard O'Donnell, all of Chicago, were present at the ceremony.

With Easter Frocks on the Horizon Slim Figures Are Needed

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

The well known springtime, advertised for its regularity in following closely on the heels of the current season, will soon be here, hard as it may be to believe on a cold and frosty morning!

You're thinking about your Easter raiment, if it is not already in the process of making. You can't escape thinking about it, with the fashion news made up chiefly of springtime notes.

But how about the silhouette to fit the new outfit beautifully?

A friend reports attending a unique dinner party the other evening. What made it seem original in the year 1930 was the six course spread: Lobster cocktail, heavy soup, entrée, meat course, salad, dessert, with appropriate before, after, and during the meal anti-prohibition trimmings. And the hostess, a truly ample figure of a woman, entertained her guests for a few round moments on her light appetite!

Poor misinformed, I thought such spreads had gone out of mode away back in the middle of the last reducing century! But my friend reports that her hostess' social group has set up an old-time rivalry in groaning boards, as they used to be called.

Now, new Easter outfits are going to be hard on that group, unless they have already steeled their appetites to true Lenten abstinence. Anyway, outside of the heavy eating group there may be need, too, for figure whittling, because during the cold months it is more agreeable to sit longer at table and eat longer as one sits.

And there is ahead that stupid complaint, dignified by sufferers as spring fever, but which our medics have no delicacy about calling autointoxication and other names associated with overstocked human furnaces and untidily kept ones.

This is an excellent time to get in the mood for pound shedding. Slow shedding is advocated, of course. You needn't lose more than two pounds a week. But think what that will mean in six weeks!

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

JOHN S. K.: EQUAL PARTS OF glycerin and lemon juice should be rubbed on the freckles several times a day. Or a lotion may be made of lactic acid, 4 ounces; glycerin, 2 ounces, and rosewater, 1 ounce.

W. F. C.: AN OBSTINATE CASE of acne, such as yours, needs treatment by an experienced skin specialist. X-ray is used in a great many cases, and most successfully.

That Old Saw About Woman, Dog 'n' Walnut Tree Still Holds

BY DORIS BLAKE.

A happening in a menage conducted by a couple who travel in a society known as "intelligensia," though it caused amusement at the moment, led to a discussion that was an eye opener for more than one husband present.

The wife in the happening is a thoroughly agreeable sort of person under usual circumstances. She had a facile tongue, a quick mind, and reputation as a wit, or, more properly, as a wisecracker. There is no doubt about where her affections are. They are centered solely on her legal mate, but for some queer reason she "rags" the life out of him before people.

Rather, she did "rag" him. It's past tense now. Had she been as bright as her reputation hinted, she might have sensed that her mate smarted under her biting humor on more than one occasion. Also she might have recognized, too, that to make a butt of one's husband, no matter how "sophisticated" the circle, is not good press agenting from a wife. People, being what they are, are too eager to take a bit of this kind of humor and make a juicy piece of scandal out of it. And if his wife says so-and-so, even in fun, what's to prevent the worst interpretation.

Instead of chiding the woman privately "Wes" waited his chance. A recent evening provided it. The flip tongue rattled off a "stinger." The husband reached over, took the offender by both hands, forced her down on her knees, and made her retract then and there. She discovered in a second that he was not fooling. He was furious.

He said: "I'll teach you to make a fool of me before people!" There was a scene, of course. And another after the guests departed. Also, there was a cure.

Soon after there was another meeting of the same group. The wife came in for some raillery. It was she who then attempted to enlighten men on their duties as strong males. One of the bright young men present asked her if she wasn't going to get a divorce on the grounds of extreme and inhuman cruelty. She said: "Divorce? No; I'll never get a divorce from a man who can bring me to time the way Wes did.

"If there were a few more men like him, believe me," she said, "there would be fewer divorces. It's only because you men stand for so much from women that we think we can get away with it, and getting away with it men earn our contempt and not the admiration they can provoke with one good exhibition of courage and male strength."

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Nothing in His Favor.

"Dear Miss Blake: My friends tell me not to have anything to do with the boy I like because he goes with a bad crowd of fellows and he doesn't work. Please advise. BLONDIE."

There is nothing to recommend a young man whose companions are of questionable character and who does not like to work.

CHINESE RESENTFUL; SHANGHAI THEATERS DROP LLOYD FILM

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

SHANGHAI, Feb. 26.—Following intense agitation culminating in Chinese authorities demanding the withdrawal of the film and a threat of boycott, two foreign theaters, the Capitol and the Grand, whose patrons are 50 per cent Chinese, have withdrawn Harold Lloyd's comedy, "Welcome Danger," which the Chinese declare is an insult to national prestige because of its Chinatown locale.

As the newspapers had joined the Koumintang and other organizations and refused to run the theater's advertising, the management was compelled to insert an "apology" in all the papers and declare that no insult had been intended.

The theater management points out that the Lloyd picture was approved by foreign and Chinese film censorship committees before presentation.

Mrs. Hoover Ties Mme. Curie for Heroine of Co-eds

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Denver, Colo., Feb. 26.—Mrs. Herbert Hoover and Mme. Curie, world famous discoverer of radium, were honors even in a poll conducted here among delegates assembled for the National Pan-Hellenic congress. The test was as to the woman, living or dead, best qualified to be a heroine to the co-eds of the nation. Mrs. Hoover received five votes, as did Mme. Curie.

Next in favor was Helen Keller, blind philosopher and author, who polled four votes. Helen Wills, tennis star, received three votes.

Jane Addams of Hull House fame, Mrs. Al Smith, the late Amy Lowell, Ernestine Schumann-Heink, and Carrie Chapman Catt, noted feminist, each had two adherents.

Joan of Arc, Lady Astor, Mary Baker Eddy, Florence Nightingale, George Sand, and Alice Roosevelt Longworth, daughter of the late president, had one champion each.

Transportation Show Will Recall the Days of Cheerless Traveling

A unique exhibit of articles collected by the Museum of Science and Industry to show the origin and development of the transportation industry will be exhibited at the National Industrial Equipment exposition to be held March 3 to 7 at the Stevens hotel, Waldemar Kaempffert, director of the museum, announced yesterday. The exhibit will give the public the first opportunity to view some of the articles being collected by the new museum to which Julius Rosenwald made a large contribution.

Rare old prints, original drawings, manuscripts, tickets, coinage and other documents to be selected from the noted Seymour Dunbar collection of some 1,900 items, recently acquired by the museum, will be included in the exhibit.

Other industrial exhibits are being planned by the museum for the exposition to be held in conjunction with meetings of the National Management congress, American Society of Mechanical Engineers and Industrial Marketing conference. Among these will be working models of steam injectors and pop valuves, reapers and a model of the monoplane with which Great Britain recently won the Schneider cup.

Junior League Prepares for Clothing Sale

BY THALIA

With springtime coming on the women folk are apt to get a bit more clothes conscious than usual, and so the Junior league finds it a propitious time for another of its second hand clothes sales.

Since the first sale a year ago, when the garments were priced so ridiculously cheap that a riot almost took place, the girls who run the sales have learned a thing or two. They are not likely to have such an exciting time as they did then. One of the high spots of that day was the finding of a woman who had secreted frocks under her coat with the idea of avoiding the formality of payment. There was an embarrassing interlude at the second sale when one of the officiating league members suspected and accused a customer of shoplifting. Two detectives took charge and, after subjecting the lady to a search, found her to be innocent and a person of high integrity.

Another that the girls still laugh about was when a prospective buyer turned upon one of the leaguers, bedraggled and besmudged after the strenuous efforts of the day, and remarked in a loud tone: "Humph, so that's society, is it?"

This time the sale is to be on March 11 and 12 and will be conducted at the 333 North Michigan building from 9 o'clock in the morning until 6 in the evening.

The provisional members, with Marion Stevenson as chairman, are running the sale, and the various chairmen include Mrs. Herbert Nock, who is to supervise the pricing; Mrs. Alfred Wolfe, in charge of the selling committee; Miss Rosemary Sidley, who will oversee the wrapping, and Mrs. Gaylon Scribner, business chairman. The girls have been organized into divisional collection committees, so that the wardrobes of the entire town will be thoroughly ransacked for possible garments and accessories.

Miss Margaret Carr is doing the north side; Frances Weary, the south side; Mrs. Marian Martin, Lake Forest; Cynthia and Suzanne Kohlsaat, Winnetka, Glencoe, and Hubbard Woods, and Miss Frances Wood and Mrs. James F. Oates Jr., Highland Park. Miss Rosemary Lytton, back from a series of visits in the east and south, is managing the publicity.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Bartlett and their son-in-law and daughter, the Arthur Farwells, have set sail for Hawaii for a month's stay, when they will return to Pasadena, Cal. The party has been traveling in a private car through the south.

The Winnetka board of the Northwestern university settlement thinks it a good time to get funds by appealing to the feminine appetite for clothes also. They are sponsoring a fashion show and tea, to take place at 2:30 o'clock on the afternoon of March 17 at the Winnetka Woman's club. A large group of north shore girls and young matrons are to model the clothes.

The Highland Park women evidently believe in preparedness. Members of the Guild of the Trinity church are holding meetings now for a sale they plan to hold in July, if you please, at Orchard House, the Martin J. Insull place. The workers are to have luncheon and discussion of plans today at Mrs. Marshall Sampsell's house.

The Woman's Athletic club is discontinuing its Thursday evening table d'hote dinners after the first of March, and announces a series of current event lectures and literary reviews to be given by Mrs. Anthony French Merrill on Tuesday mornings at 11 o'clock all through March.

The North Shore country day school in Winnetka has two more prospective students, now that two north shore nurseries have acquired new occupants. The Perry Dunlap Smiths' fourth child, a son, was born on Feb. 15 at the Presbyterian hospital, and Mr. and Mrs. Whipple Jacobs are the parents of a daughter, born a week ago today at the Evanston hospital.

The Smith baby is to be named Simeon Dunlap Smith. His mother was Miss Marian Baldwin before her marriage. Mrs. Jacobs was Miss Mary Latham and William and Nancy are the new baby's brother and sister.

Mrs. Adeline Lobdell Atwater is arriving from New York City on March 1, to remain in Chicago at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lobdell of 2616 Prairie avenue, while the latter go to California for a stay. Mrs. Atwater's daughter, Edith, who is playing the part of Meg in the production of "Little Women" at the Goodman theater, has been with her grandparents during the last winter and has been studying at the Goodman.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald T. Naugle of 199 Lake Shore drive leave today for New York City, and are to sail on Saturday on the Conte Biancamano for the Riviera. They are to stay at Nice, France, and will return in May.

New York Couple Wed According to Bahai Ceremonial

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 26.—Miss Elsie Benkard, daughter of Mrs. Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler and Charles Clarke, son of Mrs. Charles Clarke, both socially prominent, were married in the Bahai religion today at the Chanler home here. Mirza Ahmad Hohrab officiated.

The Bahai sect took its present form in the middle of the last century in Persia, had several martyrs and of more recent years has made numerous converts among English speaking peoples. It has groups of adherents in several American cities, including Chicago.

At today's ceremony the bride was unattended. Edward Robinson was best man for Mr. Clarke. There were no ushers.

Richard Dix, Radio Pictures Star, says of DATED Coffee

FRESH from the roasting ovens, Chase & Sanborn's dated coffee is rushed straight to your grocer . . . Every can is plainly marked with an expiration date.

You'll never find a stale can on your grocer's shelf, for if one should be left after the date it is collected and replaced by fresh.

Think what extra coffee satisfaction this means to you! To get this freshly roasted flavor still undimmed in taste . . . deliciously pungent and fragrant!

65 years of experience in blending and roasting coffee stand behind the quality of Chase & Sanborn's Coffee . . . now this new system protects this quality until it reaches you.

"Chase & Sanborn took the 'chance' element out of coffee by dating it," says RICHARD DIX, Radio Pictures star. "It always was good coffee, but this new way of making sure you get it always fresh makes it just about perfect."

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Isn't this a breath of peace—this letter?

"Dear Mrs. Bevans: I read your daily articles as conscientiously as the speculator digests the stock market news and wish to thank you for the many helpful suggestions you have given me. I have to smile many times, for your articles express the same ideal I am striving so hard to attain.

"Your article before Christmas telling of the harassed mother who was glad when Christmas was over because of the confusion it caused made me feel like offering a prayer for the children whose mothers felt that way about Christmas. Christmas should be and is, I think, for most mothers—unless they are so poor it is pathetic—the most glorious day of the entire year.

"I have a family of seven, four ranging in age from 11 to 19 and three aged 2, 3, and 5, and my only regret is that I cannot devote my entire time to them. I would love to play with my little sons more than I do, would love to read for at least a half hour nightly to the two girls—but I just cannot manage it. I guess the dear Lord knows best. If I had the time at my disposal that I long for, perhaps I would spoil all of them.

"We have our washing and ironing done, but manage the rest of the work ourselves. The girls are a wonderful help and, though they are far from perfect, have never given me any cause for worry. I have always allowed them to have their little friends at home, and now that the two older girls are young ladies the perfectly logical place for them to do their entertaining is at home.

"The home is theirs, and I do not believe when the time comes for them to run their own homes that they will feel they have any more privileges or freedom than they had with father and mother.

"My own childhood was wonderful and I have always felt that if I could only surround my children with the same atmosphere, life would certainly be worth while for them, as it has been for me."

Paris Keeps Tabs on Tailored Suits

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.] — The tailored suit is rampant on the field of fashion. Down along the Cote d'Azur, on the Boulevard de la Croisette, the Promenade des Anglais and hanging around the Casino at Monte Carlo, is one suit after another, bearing the unmistable mark of Paris. Many of the suits worn by the smartest women are carefully and copiously tabbed, for tabs here and there are considered as the most fashionable of trimmings for simple clothes to be worn during the daytime.

Tweed suits are proving their prophesied popularity. They are everywhere. One sees patterned tweeds for sports and traveling, and plain tweeds for more exacting occasions. The blouses that are worn with such suits are just as important as the suit itself. Heaps of waistcoat blouses in silk and cotton or linen are worn. Really dressy blouses à la waistcoat are made of daytime lamé and satin, and then there are quantities of simple tuck-in blouses of the tailored and lingerie types that are worn for sports and hiking or whatnot out of doors. Many of the blouses seen are tabbed like the suits to make this trimming unanimous.

A favored suit shade for early spring is burgundy, which is rather lighter than the shade we know by that name. Plain burgundy colored tweed is the apex of chic for the tailored suit, and this is the stuff of which the Clair Sœurs suit shown in our sketch is made. The jacket has no collar and no buttons, but it makes up by having patch pockets that are extra capacious. The skirt is fitted almost to the knees, at which point it breaks out into circular flares that are arrived at by flaring the tabbed bands that are placed in trios at the side of the front and the back.

The waistcoat blouse of light burgundy crêpe de chine has a row of buttoned tabs down the center front, from the sides of which emerge three rayed tucks. The round collar is also tucked, and there is a flaring peplum from the normal waistline to the hips. The hat is of burgundy tweed straw, with the brim ruffled on the right side.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Invalid's Request.

"I have been in the hospital for the last six months with tuberculosis of the arm and am unable to buy the things I need. Can you get me a pair or two of pajamas, medium size, and a pair of felt slippers, size 7½? I am about five feet six inches tall.

"G. N."

Do you discard your pajamas while there is any wear left in them? Here's a poor unfortunate who is unable to provide these things for himself and would be most grateful to get them. And is there some one who will supply the much needed slippers?

FARM AND GARDEN BY PAUL POTTER

Gardeners and truck growers frequently observe irregular holes in the foliage of such crops as lettuce, tomatoes, peas and beans, either grown under glass or in the open. Similar holes appear in mushrooms as if cut by a mouse or rat. By close observation a glistening whitish substance will be seen on the plants or near by, and search under stones, old boards, and rubbish will disclose the cause of the injury—the garden slug.

Attack is most severe on delicate seedlings, but various tubers and roots are subject to injury. Potatoes are bored into and celery is frequently damaged during the bleaching process.

Garden slugs are not insects, although their injury is similar and they are sometimes called insects. They are mollusks and therefore related to the snails, although they have no external shell.

The United States department of agriculture, in an interesting bulletin on slugs describes the habits and development of the spotted garden slug and explains how to rid the premises or grounds of this destructive and otherwise undesirable tenant. The standard remedies for this and the other injurious garden slugs are lime, finely powdered salt, road dust, or other powders. Poisoned baits consisting of boiled potatoes or sweet potatoes sprinkled with arsenic are useful.

The garden and greenhouse should be kept clean and free from rubbish and the slugs should be collected at night when they emerge from their hiding places.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Real Scotch Broth.

A long time ago; in fact, in the year 1912, a Scotch cook book, "Tried Favorites Cookery Book," by Mrs. E. W. Kirk, was recommended to me while I was scurrying around London studying foods and getting recipes. My edition was the "eleventh and enlarged edition," and preceded by a sale of 166,000. Last summer a young friend of mine was in Edinburgh and had a copy of this same book given her as a present. It was the twenty-first edition, with previous sale of 536,000, which certainly shows what the life of some cook books can be, especially among a conservative people.

The other day she tried out the following recipe from this book, and her husband said the product looked exactly like what his mother used to make, and that he could give no higher compliment than that. The recipe had this title, "Broth (Scotch)," and read as follows: "Three pounds neck of mutton, or runner of beef; 5 quarts cold water; teacupful pearl barley, well washed in cold water; vegetables. A nice fresh marrow bone makes as good broth as either beef or mutton. When water is hot, put in beef and barley. Let water boil, then throw in one teaspoonful salt. This causes scum to rise. Skim. Add one small turnip or ½ large, cut into dice; 3 leeks cut small, one small carrot cut into dice, teaspoonful of moist sugar, pepper and salt to taste. Let boil a few minutes after vegetables are added, with lid off.

"If lid is left on, certain salts in vegetables cannot escape in steam, and some persons will find broth disagreeable. Some people add a cabbage, but must be young and fresh. Never add onions: they have too strong a flavor. One-quarter hour before ready add one carrot grated and, if possible, a good tablespoonful minced parsley. Cook very thoroughly and slowly, and be careful to skim now and again. Attention to this makes such a difference to flavor."

There is more to this recipe and my neighbor used but a half, with one green onion cut fine. Her conclusion was that always before she had thought that the more vegetables you added to a barley broth the better. Of course, there are some old fashioned and exploded ideas in this recipe.

Getting the Grade.

My most embarrassing moment occurred while I was attending high school. My teacher had left her grade book on my desk after assisting me in a difficult problem. I was naturally curious to see my grade, so I opened the book and searched for the final mark.

I heard a giggle behind me, and looking up, I saw my teacher, arms akimbo, gazing sternly at me through her glasses. She murmured something about letting other people's property alone, took the book and marched to her desk.

I sat amidst the titters of the class, my face a roseate hue. M. H.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

This practical, every day dress in printed rayon crêpe has a simple bodice somewhat fitted through the waistline, with the attached circular skirt showing a smooth fitting hipline. The cascading jabot frill, starting at the right shoulder and ending at the left hip, is made of plain crêpe matching the lightest tone of the print. An applied band of the plain crêpe finishes the neckline. Crêpe satin and crêpe de chine will make up attractively in this design.

The pattern, 3267, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 39 inch material with ½ yard of 35 inch contrasting.

How to Order Clotilde Patterns.
Write your name and address plainly on dotted lines, giving number and size of such patterns as you want. Inclose 10 cents in stamps or coin [coin preferred; wrap it carefully] for each number, and address your order to Clotilde Patterns, CHICAGO TRIBUNE, 247 Park avenue, New York City.

She is wearing CHAMOIS!

THE hat, scarf and pullover are of soft velvety chamois that turns away the chill breezes—and incidentally is a material that is forever smart and good-looking.

Many years ago we originated articles of sports clothing in chamois. No other material exactly serves the same purpose.

The current vogue for chamois is not a whim of fashion but has grown out of the natural qualities of chamois and its suitability for sport. We would be glad to show you any of the following chamois articles in various styles.

THE NARRAGANSETT

1640 E. 50TH-ST. AT THE LAKE.

OPEN FOR INSPECTION AND READY FOR OCCUPANCY.

4-5-6 ROOMS.

3 model apts. have been furnished and decorated by Mr. Bodelson, and our representatives are on hand during the day and until 9 o'clock evenings, week days and Sunday, to show the apartments.

All the latest ideas in fine modern apts. have been taken into consideration; parquet floors, colored tile baths, new style radiators, thermostatic controlled stoves, beautiful electric ice boxes, latest designs fast, noiseless elevators, roof garden, handball court, and various other unusual features.

Our transportation facilities are unexcelled; 10 minutes by fast express to the loop from the 51st-st. I. C. station. Buses on the Hyde Park-blvd. take you to the heart of the loop, or your own car on the outer drive in 12 minutes by driving entirely through a park along the water front and without a stop light.

WE SUGGEST YOUR INSPECTION OF THE NARRAGANSETT BEFORE DECIDING ON YOUR FUTURE RESIDENCE.

Lowest Rate in Chicago on Household Loans $100 to $300

By reason of the large volume and by limiting our service to the larger loans from $100 to $300, "Household" has been able to reduce its interest rate to almost one-third less than the charges permitted by law.

Here Is the Cost On 20 Month Payment Plan:
$200 Average monthly cost......$2.63
$300 Average monthly cost......$3.94
Other amounts at same rate.

WE DO NOT NOTIFY your employer, neither do we make inquiries of your friends, relatives or tradespeople.
